WIGGIN MADE $10,000,000 TRADING IN CHASE STOCK

W. W. Aldrich, His Successor, Repudiates Such Acts at Senate Inquiry, Promising There Will Be No 'Artificial Market.'

'DIDN'T KNOW HALF OF THAT,' HE SAYS

Ex-Chairman Explains He Cleared 64 Times as Much as Bank Subsidiary by 'Different Method of Operation.'

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Disclosure to Senate investigators that Albert H. Wiggin made more than $10,000,000 by trading in stock of the Chase National Bank while he was its head drew a repudiation of the bank's past policies today from its new management.

After Ferdinand Pecora, counsel for the Senate Banking Committee, had shown the fortune made by Wiggin, W. W. Aldrich, the present head of the bank, interrupted the proceedings with a statement promising there would be no "artificial market" in the bank's stock so long as he was in charge of the institution.

Aldrich later amended the statement to promise the market would not be affected by the operation of trading accounts by affiliates of the bank.

The bank president's statement was extemporaneous and followed the disclosures of Wiggin's profits while the Chase Securities Corporation, an affiliate of the bank, was engaged in pool operations in the bank stock.

Aldrich's comment a surprise. Wiggin's statement, repudiating the policies of the man who sat beside him and preceded him in management of the bank, came as a surprise to committee members.

Wiggin listened to Pecora's statement of his profits and then said he could not verify the figures but did not challenge them. Wiggin only two days ago gave up his retirement pension of $100,000 a year in the face of criticism.

Under close questioning by Pecora, Wiggin said the reason his personal corporation made $10,000,000 in the bank stock while the Chase Securities Corporation's operations were yielding only $156,000 was a difference in the way they operated.

After the recess, Aldrich told newspaper men: "I didn't know anything about half of that."

"Then it was as much a surprise to you as it was to me," one of the reporters asked. "It certainly was," Aldrich replied.

Pecora said the profits covered the five-year period, 1928 to 1932, when the Chase Securities Corporation, an affiliate of the bank, was active in pools in the bank stock. The corporation's total profits were given as only $156,614 from the pool operations.

Wiggin testified the Sherman Corporation, traded extensively in the open market in the stock. He added that two of his other concerns, the Murlin and Clingston Co., Inc., also dealt materially in bank stock during this period.

"Are any pools in the bank stock existing today?" Senator Coughens of Michigan asked.

"Not that I know of," Wiggin replied.

Record of Profits.

Pecora said his records showed Wiggin made the following profits from Chase stock during the five-year period: Sherman Corporation, $5,594,333; Murlin Corporation, $386,161; Clingston Company, Inc., $4,445,000; total, $10,425,494. The Clingston operations also covered the year 1927.

Pecora asked why Wiggin's companies showed so much more profit than the corporation's dealings. "My" entire former holdings, including the corporations, treated altogether, if sold on the market, would show a different result," Wiggin replied.

He added the family holdings of 18,000 shares at the end of 1932 had shrunk from a value of $280 to $40.

Wiggin said in response to questions that one of his personal companies was 60,000 shares short in the bank stock of the bank in 1929, though his family holdings were on the long side of the market.

Aldrich opposed Wiggin's statement to say the present management was opposed to dealing in the bank stock through affiliates.

Ford Challenges Gen. Johnson To Prove Refusal to Comply With Government Requirements

Motor Company Assails Dictator-Like "Act of Injustice" in NRA Administrator's Public Statement.

ROOSEVELT HOLDS THAT GOVERNMENT CANNOT BUY AUTOMOBILES OF FORD

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT regards the Industrial Recovery Act as forbidding Government purchases of products manufactured by concerns not under the NRA such as automobiles made by Henry Ford. This ruling will be followed by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, unless the Comptroller-General interposes.

The President assumed the position that even though dealers in Ford cars might be flying the emblem of the Blue Eagle, the Government would be prevented from purchasing the manufactured product.

TO PROSECUTE BOY EXTORTION NOTE WRITER

U. S. Attorney Brewer Says He Will Ask for Warrant for Youth His Assistant Allowed to Go.

United States District Attorney Brewer announced this afternoon that he would apply for a warrant charging a 19-year-old high school youth with writing two extortion letters, one demanding $10,000, the other $5000, from the father of the youth's mother.

One of the letters, Brewer said, was to the youth's father. The other was to the father of the youth's closest friend. This second note, according to the District Attorney, instructed the youth's friend to place in a gangway beside his store, $10,000 that he would receive from the father of the writer of the note.

It was this case, Brewer continued, that was being handled by C. J. Statler, disposed of by paroling the youth to his father, after he had confessed. The penalty for using the mails in a scheme to extort, is imprisonment for not more than 20 years, a fine of not more than $5000, or both.

Postoffice Inspector A. F. Burt told the Post-Dispatch the boy wrote three other letters to his father and to the South Broadway merchant, to place in a gangway beside his store, $10,000 that he would receive from the father of the writer of the note.

The text of the notes, as contained in an information drawn at Brewer's direction, follows. The note to the youth's father:

"I did not think that we had to write to you so soon. But since we can't get (your son) to come down to (your store) along so to can kidnap him, we are asking a ransom of $10,000 to protect your son."

STATE HAS FUNDS FOR RELIEF FOR ONLY FEW DAYS

Director Crossley, in Accounting to Legislature, Says Money Will Be Used Up on or Before Nov. 10.

$1,000,000 A MONTH SINCE AUG. 1, 1932

No More Federal Aid Except on Basis of Matching Dollars With State—Some Counties Helpless.

By the Associated Press. DETROIT, Oct. 27.—The Ford Motor Co. today described as "an act of injustice" the statement of NRA Administrator Hugh S. Johnson that he would "turn the case over to the Attorney-General" if Henry Ford failed to submit figures requested by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce under the terms of the NRA automobile code.

The statement: "Mr. Johnson's vocabulary has got him down again. Before assuming the airs of a dictator, he should fortify himself with evidence that Henry Ford has refused compliance with Government requirements. "The public has known the Ford Motor Co. for 30 years and is not dependent on Mr. Johnson for information concerning it. "It is an act of injustice for Mr. Johnson to intimate that any refusal has been made of any proper demand on the Ford Motor Co., especially since Mr. Johnson knows that even his original signers have not had time to file their reports, which he charges this company with refusing."

"We suggest a code of fair publicity for Mr. Johnson's interviews. "Johnson has attempted a grave injustice upon a law-abiding American industry and has assumed to talk like a dictator and the Supreme Court combined. "It would make no difference if the Ford Motor Co. signed a code. This company would be under attack by the enemies of independent business just the same."

The statement said that the company has complied with the law in every respect, but declared that "signing a code is not in the law, and flying the Blue Eagle is not in the law."

Johnson's daily expression of opinion is not law," the statement continued. "The Ford Motor Co. observes the law and exceeds it in all its real recovery features. Johnson is not boycotting us. He is boycotting $3000 American manufacturers who co-operate with Johnson."

The $3000 manufacturers, the statement said, were those who helped fabricate the Ford product "out of material produced under NRA conditions."

"The Ford Motor Co. has not made any Government bids," said the statement, referring to Johnson's statement regarding the company's position in the matter of selling its product to the Government. "If bids have been made by Ford dealers it is because Government departments insist on its being done. They have used our products before; their specifications fit it, and, besides, the prices usually are very easy on the department's budget. There is no money in Government bids unless some form of favoritism is practiced, such as is now possible under the NRA."

"The situation at Washington, which has so greatly excited Mr. Johnson, is a simple one. A Ford dealer, who is a citizen of Washington, entered his bid at the request of Government men. His bid was something like $200,000 lower than the others."

Johnson now proposes to charge the American taxpayer a higher price in order to give Government business to a concern that pays lower wages than the Ford Motor Co. does. More money out of the taxpayer's pocket; less money in the workingman's pocket—that is the way it will work."

Johnson Says He's Ready To Turn Ford Over to Attorney-General.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Gen. Hugh S. Johnson said today he pressed conference that if Henry Ford failed to submit on hours and wages figures requested by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce within the time to be set, "I'll turn the case over to the Attorney-General."

The NRA executive intimated that the deadline would be Nov. 7, but was not certain. He said he did not consider Ford eligible to bid on Government contracts, because "Edsel Ford told me when I was in Detroit that they would never consent to any collective bargaining." He said in answer to reporters' questions that the Lincoln car which he uses would soon be traded in on one of another make.

Advised of a statement from the Ford Motor Co., Johnson issued a statement saying, "I have no intention of entering into a newspaper discussion with a Mr. Cameron." (He referred to W. J. Cameron, an adviser to Ford through whose office statements for the motor company are issued to the press.)

"Edsel Ford told me that the Ford Motor Co. would submit to no code that required collective bargaining. I have never said that I have concrete evidence of direct violation of the automobile code by that company."

"What I did say was that the moment I did have such evidence I would not hesitate to act."

About $1,000,000 A Month. Since Jan. 1 relief expenditures in the State from all public funds, Federal, State and local, averaged about $1,000,000 a month until September, when there was a sharp decrease, due principally to relief employment, and continued in October there was an increase.

Crossley said the most careful estimates showed conclusively that the demands would continue at the rate of $1,000,000 a month, of which one-third should come from the Federal sources, one-third from the State and one-third from local communities; but, he pointed out, there were impoverished counties from which no public or private aid could be expected. Therefore, he said, the State must provide something more than its third. He fixed the figure for third expenditures at $4,000,000 for the next 12 months.

NEGRO HANGED AFTER TWO-YEAR FIGHT IN COURTS

Maryland Slayer Defended by Communist Group Is Put to Death in Baltimore Prison.

LAST-MINUTE PLEA MADE TO PRESIDENT

U. S. Supreme Court Also Refuses to Save Man Accused of Killing Family in Home.

By the Associated Press. BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 27.—Euel Lee, 60-year-old Negro farm hand, accused slayer of his former employer, Green K. Davis, and Davis' wife and two young daughters, was hanged at the Maryland penitentiary shortly after midnight.

Lee was convicted of the murder of Davis and a two-year fight was made in an effort to prevent his execution.

Seventy city policemen were standing outside the penitentiary to prevent any demonstration but none developed.

"Sorry for My Race." Bernard Ades, Lee's lawyer, who was employed by the Communist International Labor Defense, entered the death house before the execution at the invitation of the prisoner but left and stood outside during the hanging.

"The working class will some day pay for this," he said later and then quoted the last words of the Negro as: "I am not so much sorry for myself as I am for my race."

Ades said the body would be taken to New York for a Communist demonstration in Harlem. This was denied by H. E. Donnell, superintendent of prisons. Donnell said the State law provided that relatives might claim the body but that if there were no relatives the body was to be disposed of at the discretion of the prison authorities. He said Lee had no relatives and the body would not be turned over to Ades.

Among those attending the hanging was Sheriff Wilmer S. Purcell of Worcester County, where the murder was committed, and Sheriff Luther Daugherty of Somerset County, which adjoins Worcester County. The scene of last week's lynching at Princess Anne.

History of the Case. On Oct. 12, 1931, neighbors forced their way into Davis' house at Taylorsville—a hamlet between Berlin and Ocean City—and found the bodies of the Davis family in their beds. Evidence indicated that an ax and a shotgun had been used to kill the man, his wife and two daughters.

Other evidence showed the house had been ransacked and all had been thrown on the kitchen floor and an attempt made to set the house afire.

Arrested in Ocean City, Lee confessed the crime, according to officers. Later he was rushed to Baltimore, for protection from an assembling crowd, and again officers quoted him as confessing the murder.

Before the case came to trial, Ades and, later, David Levinson, both employed by the International Labor Defense—were accepted as Lee's attorneys. Then began the long legal fight which resulted in three removals of the case for trial, two convictions, three appeals to the State Supreme Court, two appeals to the lower Federal courts and two to the Supreme Court of the United States.

Within 36 hours Lee's attorneys lost four separate attempts to obtain a stay of execution. On Wednesday, Gov. Ritchie refused a request to delay the hanging for further court appeals. Wednesday night Judges John J. Parker and Morris Soper, of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals at Richmond, Va., upheld the lower Federal Court's refusal to take the case away from the State.

Yesterday President Roosevelt, through his secretary, informed a delegation of Communists that he had no authority in the case.

Later in the afternoon Chief Justice Hughes of the United States Supreme Court refused to issue a writ of habeas corpus and have Lee taken into the Federal prison.

Two Georgia Negroes Executed; One Said He Killed 19 Persons. MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., Oct. 27.—Two Negroes, one of whom said he had killed 19 persons, were executed at the State Prison Farm here today for the murder of a Pikes County prison guard.

In the death chamber, Grady Brooks, 19 years old, confessed killing 19 persons in his lifetime, but he was vague about details except in two cases, one for which he had been serving a sentence and the other the one for which he was executed.

The other Negro who was executed was George Zuber.

MISS FANNIE D. ROBB, W. C. T. U. LEADER, DIES

Succumbs at 77 of Heart Attack After Going to Hospital for Treatment.

Miss Fannie D. Robb, 77 years old, for 35 years a leader in the St. Louis Woman's Christian Temperance Union, died today in St. Mary's Hospital, of a heart attack. She went to the hospital a week ago with a view to an operation for a chronic condition, but no operation had been performed.

Miss Robb, who lived at 709 Limit avenue, belonged to a socially prominent family, not all of whom shared her strict views on the liquor question. She is survived by two brothers, J. Fleming Robb of Hopkins, Mo., and several nephews and nieces, including Mrs. Edward F. Goltra, Mrs. George F. Steadman, Mrs. Sterling E. Edmunds, Mrs. Clara Dana, Mrs. H. H. Niemeyer and Miss Clara Post.

She was a sister of the late Mrs. Kate Howard, who for years was a leading supporter of St. Luke's Hospital.

She came to St. Louis in the '90s to live with her sister, Mrs. Howard, in Vandeventer place. She taught in a downtown sewing school, under the auspices of Christ Church Cathedral. In this work she became familiar with the problems of families of small income and encountered cases of destitution caused by intemperance. She became an advocate of prohibition.

She joined the W. C. T. U. of which Mrs. F. H. Ingalls was then local president, in 1888. She was its corresponding secretary for more than 20 years, and its president for a year and a half. More recently she was elected treasurer. She was president of Central Union, one of the 20 district divisions in the city, more than 18 years.

She was in charge of work conducted by the W. C. T. U., including a sewing school, an Americanization class at 1012 North Seventeenth street, and the Loyal Temperance Legion. Her apartment was headquarters for the Central Union. She appeared as plaintiff in the recent Goltra case.

Funeral arrangements have not been made.

TWO BOATS WITH 24 ABOARD ARE FIVE DAYS OVERDUE

TWO GIVEN TEN YEARS FOR EXTORTION NOTES

Negroes Sentenced by Judge Faris for Attempt to Get $500 From Grocer.

Two Negroes who wrote extortion notes to a grocer last summer were sentenced to 10 years in prison by Federal Judge Faris today, on their pleas of guilty of violating the Cochran Act, which prohibits use of the mails in a scheme to extort.

They are Alfred Hardin, 28 years old, and Hosie Johnson, 33. The grocer from whom they attempted to extort $500 is Arthur Ikens, 1208 North Nineteenth street.

Although Hardin wrote the letters, both Negroes co-operated in the extortion plot, they confessed. The first letter, sent early last July, threatened Ikens with great bodily harm unless he followed instructions, which were to make a package of 30 $10 bills, 20 fives and 100 ones, and turn the package over to a Negro employee of the store, who was to "walk north in Nineteenth street at 8:30 p. m. and give it to the first person who asks him who he works for."

Ikens informed police and Postoffice Inspectors and thereupon received a second note which stated: "We know the mugs are hanging around and you went to the postoffice. Unless you want to get hurt, you tell those smart mugs to go back to the station and you deliver the money the way we tell you."

A third note instructed Ikens to have his employee "take the package to Nineteenth and O'Fallon and east in O'Fallon until somebody asks him: 'Have you got a package of shoes for me?'"

Postoffice Inspectors said that members of Ikens' family were frightened and "did not co-operate as fully as could have been desired." The inspectors, therefore, cruised the neighborhood of the grocery on July 12, and found Hardin and Johnson loitering not far from the store. They arrested them on suspicion and Hardin confessed.

The maximum penalty for using the mails in a scheme to extort is 20 years' imprisonment, $5000 fine, or both.

MAON FLIES ABOVE THE FOG

Heads for Los Angeles Harbor After Cruising Near San Diego.

By the Associated Press. ABOARD U. S. S. MACON, Oct. 27.—After cruising in the vicinity of San Diego just above a dense fog at 2500 feet, the Navy dirigible Macon, on a brief Southern California tour, departed for Los Angeles harbor today.

In strange contrast to the heavy surface fog, the atmosphere in which the Macon sailed was brilliantly clear. The sun made the fog below look like a vast sea.

CITY EMPLOYEE AND ATTORNEY ARE INDICTED

Gerald T. Driscoll, $1000-a-Year Clerk, and Edward Spiegel, Lawyer, Accused of Disobeying President's Order.

ACTION FOLLOWS SECRET TRUE BILLS

One Is Alleged to Have Withdrawn $10,000 in Coin in Two Installments From Reserve Bank and the Other $2000.

By the Associated Press. BOSTON, Oct. 27.—Gerald T. Driscoll, 32 years old, a municipal department clerk, with a salary of $1000 a year, and Edward Spiegel, a lawyer, were arrested today under the new Federal gold laws.

Driscoll was charged with failure to report, as required by an executive order of the President, that he had $10,000 in gold.

Federal officials said the charges against Spiegel would be made public later.

Driscoll was taken in custody as he was about to enter the office of the Overseer of the Poor, where he is employed. The warrant was served on Spiegel while he was appearing as counsel in a Municipal Court case.

The indictments against the men, both of which were secret, charged that Driscoll withdrew $5000 in gold from the Federal Reserve Bank on March 2 and another $5000 March 3.

It was reported at the Federal Building that the charge against Spiegel was that he withdrew $2000 in gold from the Federal Reserve Bank Feb. 23 and later failed to report it.

Spiegel said, "I regard this as most unjust."

Robert T. Bushnell, counsel for Spiegel, said the arrest could be attributed to certain prominent bankers. He intimated that the arrest probably would be welcomed by directors of Beacon Participations, Inc.

Spiegel has been engaged as counsel for persons who seek to hold the Beacon Participations, Inc., liable for losses which they said extended over a period of three years.

A short time ago a Superior Court Judge ruled that the organization was responsible for the losses and ordered that a master decide the extent of the liability.

The penalty for violation of the President's gold orders is fixed at $10,000 fine or imprisonment for not more than 10 years, or both.

GOLD PRICE $31.76, RISE OF 22 CENTS

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—A price of $31.76 an ounce for Reconstruction Corporation purchases of newly-mined gold was announced today at the Treasury. It was 22 cents higher than that of yesterday and 66 cents above the London quotation.

A total of $50,000,000 in R. F. C. notes, purchasable in newly-mined gold, and made quickly convertible into cash by the face declaration that they are "fully and unconditionally guaranteed by the United States," have been set aside by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to finance a purchase of gold by the Government.

At R. F. C. headquarters it was said at noon today that no gold purchases under the Government's new gold market plan had yet been reported, the reason being that time was required for the setting up of the buying machinery.

Denver Gets $416,388 New Gold in Two Days

By the Associated Press. DENVER, Colo., Oct. 27.—Gold miners in the Rock Mountain area shipped $416,388 worth of newly-mined gold to the Denver mint in the last two days, taking advantage of the Government's new gold purchasing plan. Mark A. Skinner, Mint Superintendent, said large shipments were coming in today.

"We received $211 fine ounces of gold Wednesday, when the Government purchase price was $31.25 an ounce, and 4390 ounces yesterday, when the price was $31.54," Skinner said.

NRA TO DEPEND ON CITIZENS TO REPORT 'CHISELING'

Within Few Days Forms Will Be Available at Every Postoffice and Committee Center.

HOW COMPLAINTS WILL BE HANDLED

First They Go to Regional Compliance Director, Then Industrial Agency, Later to Johnson.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—The NRA expects citizens individually and in mass to take the initiative in keeping industry within the bounds of fair competition under the code.

Within a few days forms will be available at every postoffice or local NRA committee office on which any person may file a complaint against anyone he charges with violation of a code. He will mail that to a regional compliance director, stationed in the principal city of his area.

Instructions in detail on how to handle complaints so made have gone out to the 24 Department of Commerce regional managers who are to serve temporarily as compliance directors for NRA. Each manager is to be furnished with a list of "agencies for industrial self-government," code authorities or trade associations to which complaints may be forwarded. If the case is of a type for which he has no authority to refer to an industrial agency, he will inform by letter the party complained against of the charges, and if not then satisfied of compliance, by personal interview. In either case he will write the complainant what he has done. If a case is referred to an industrial agency it will be accompanied by a time limit notice, and upon expiration of time without result, the regional director will take personal charge.

So Washington may keep track of how cases are being handled, a weekly report on cases filed will be required, together with information on their disposal. When a regional director fails to achieve results in a case, he will notify the party complained against by letter the whole file to Administrator Johnson, who for the time being will serve as national compliance director. Johnson will then turn it over to the responsible "divisional administrator" of NRA. The latter may turn it over to the code authority for whichever trade or industry is involved and get it settled that way, or may recommend that it be referred to a committee composed of himself and representatives of labor and industrial advisory boards. This board in turn may try again for adjustment, decide that the particular code requirement violated is unfair and should be amended, or an exception made in the individual case; call a public hearing on the case in Washington or locally; remove the respondents Blue Eagle, or refer the whole thing to the Federal Trade Commission or the Attorney-General.

The Trade Commission's course involves further investigation, issuance of a cease and desist order, or if the complaint is sustained, and prosecution for contempt if the order is disregarded. The Attorney-General may sue in Federal Court to invoke the fines and jail sentences provided by the industrial law, seek injunction proceedings or take any other course provided by law.

The complaints should, if possible, be sworn to before a notary or witnessed by at least one person familiar with the facts.

BOY, 12, SAVES FAMILY HOME BY LETTER TO PRESIDENT

He Wrote Roosevelt About Situation Without Telling Parents; Government Loan Arranged.

TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 27.—The plea of a 12-year-old boy, who wrote President Roosevelt he was "willing to sleep under a tree," but felt sorry for his family and hoped their home might be saved from mortgage foreclosure, will be answered today. The New Jersey branch of the Home Owners' Corporation, is to make this afternoon its first loan, and it will be the Government's official answer to the letter written by Adam M. Schmidt of Trenton to President Roosevelt two months ago, without the knowledge of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schmidt.

Bonds covering two mortgages, one for $3000 and the other for $2400, will be given on the mortgages, and a check for about $300 back taxes will be forwarded.

WIGGIN'S PROFIT WAS $10,000,000 IN CHASE STOCK

do with the management," he said, "the market in Chase stock will not be an artificial one. As a matter of fact today the Metropatan does not deal in Chase stock in any way whatever."

After the hearing was over, Aldrich said his statement had been a little too strong regarding artificial markets. He intended, he said, to state "the market would not be influenced by the operation of trading accounts."

Flanked by attorneys, Wiggin testified of a pool in Chase stock opened in May, 1930, with Metropatan Corporation, J. & W. Seligman Co., and Dillon, Read & Co. as participants. The Metropatan Corporation, a subsidiary of the Chase Securities Corporation, managed the pool, which was the seventh described to the committee. The account was limited to commitments of 75,000 shares in the bank stock.

Seligman and Chase Securities Corporation each took a 50 per cent interest in the account, but the Securities Corporation assigned its half to Metropatan.

Interrupting testimony, Senator Couzens of Michigan asked how much of the total $120,000,000 paper losses by the Chase Securities Corporation, an affiliate of Chase National, had been actually realized.

Wiggin replied that $7,500,000 of the $120,000,000 represented reserves against assets still held by the corporation. The remainder of the securities, he said, had been actually sold, and the losses taken.

Testimony last week disclosed the corporation's total capital and earnings since 1917, when it was organized, amounted to $156,453,000.

Wiggin said the minutes of the Chase Securities Corporation included no direct authority for the pool operations, but cited resolutions giving the officers, general authority to buy and sell stock.

Wiggin agreed the "speculative atmosphere of the times" may have caused the corporation to engage in stock market operations.

"Did you yield to the temper of the times?" "I'm afraid so."

Pecora then read into the record a list of stocks and bonds in which the corporation had dealt through pools from February, 1928, to March, 1931.

It included General Gas and Electric, Twin City Rapid Transit, Washington Gas Light Co., International Paper and Power Co., Sinclair Consolidated Oil, Prairie Oil and Gas, Continental Paper Bag Mills, Prairie Pipe Line Co., Republic and Poland bonds, Bank of East Prussian Land Owners.

Other accounts, 35 in all, included Prairie Pipe Line Co., Chicago Traction Securities Co., American Woolen Co., Transcontinental Oil, Utilities Power and Light, Utility Equities Corporation, Cuba Cane Sugar Corporation, Vacuum Oil, Seaboard Air Line Railway Syndicate, Bethlehem Steel Corporation, Grigsby-Gruno Co., St. Louis-San Francisco Railway, Canada International Paper, Missouri Securities Co. Syndicate, Republic of Cuba bonds, International Hydro-Electric Co., National Steel Car Lines, Curtis Publishing Co. and McKesson & Robins.

Pecora placed in the record a detailed list of transactions in the bank stock by the Chase Securities Corporation and subsidiaries aggregating $860,000,000.

The 35 pool operations were in addition to the nine in stock of the Chase Bank.

The record showed A. W. Cutten, wheat trader, was manager of several of the pools and Sherman Corporation, Wiggin's personal company, was a participant in several.

Pecora said calculations showed the total operations in Chase stock included purchases aggregating $430,772,795 and sales totaling $429,949,210.

One of the pools listed was a $10,000,000 operation in St. Louis and San Francisco stock from April, 1930, to July, 1931. Dillon, Read & Co. managed, and the Chase Securities Corporation had a 6,865,666 interest, and Murley Co., one of Wiggin's personal holdings, had an interest of $3,333,333.

Going back to the Chase stock pool of 1930, Pecora developed that the participation of Dillon, Read & Co., was 7500 shares. Confering with associates, Wiggin said Dillon, Read & Co. asked to participate.

Clarence Dillon, head of the firm, was a director of the Chase Bank at the time. "They expected to make money," Wiggin said in explanation.

Terminated in August, the pool bought 93,315 and sold 20,021 shares, Wiggin testified. There was no profit, the banker said, and the shares were distributed to participants because if they had been sold a loss would have resulted.

ANOTHER WOMAN RADIUM PAINTER DIES OF POISONING

Third of Five 'Officially Doomed to Die' in Court Action Awarding Them $10,000 Each.

By the Associated Press. EAST ORANGE, N. J., Oct. 27.—Miss Grace Fyler, 35 years old, of Orange, died today in Homeopathic Hospital from the effects of radioactive poisoning which she received while working in the plant of the United States Radium Corporation several years ago.

Miss Fyler was one of five women who worked in that plant who were "officially" doomed to die in court action in 1929. The five were awarded $10,000 cash in settlement at that time and payment of all medical expenses. Two others had previously died, and Dr. Harrison S. Martland, county physician, said today a total of 20 from the United States Radium plant had met death.

Miss Fyler had undergone 30 operations on her jaw bone, seat of the infection, and at one time was thought to have been cured. The workers who were poisoned were engaged in painting watch dials with a luminous substance. The plant in Orange where they were employed moved from the State several years ago.

TWO ZEPPELIN PASSENGERS HURT BY 3-WHEELED AUTO

F. C. Turner Driver of Machine at World's Fair Killed in Accident.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—An experimental three-wheeled automobile overturned today at it speeded along South Shore drive and a noted American speed driver was killed and two visitors who came to the United States on the Graf Zeppelin were injured.

The Hon. William Francis Forbes Semple, the master of Semple, aviation enthusiast of Edinburgh, Scotland, suffered a skull fracture and possible internal injuries. Charles Dollfus of Paris, editor of a French aeronautical magazine, was less seriously hurt.

The machine, which was brought here as a world's fair exhibit, suffered fatal injury. His head was badly crushed and he died later.

The radically designed car was proceeding toward the Municipal Airport, where it was to be demonstrated. It apparently struck an irregularity in the pavement. It skidded and overturned twice.

LA GUARDIA STILL LEADS IN LITERARY DIGEST POLL

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Fiorello H. La Guardia, Fusionist nominee, still leads all candidates in the Literary Digest majority poll of New York City, but Joseph McKee, Democratic candidate of the Reform party, has gained sharply in the last week, according to semiformal returns to be published in the magazine tomorrow.

Of the 452,738 votes counted La Guardia is receiving 217,599, or 48.06 per cent. McKee, 167,715 votes, or 37.49 per cent, and O'Brien gets 51,561 votes, or 11.39 per cent.

La Guardia's percentage lead slipped fractionally while McKee's gained rather appreciably since the last report. O'Brien has been showing a steady decline of votes.

La Guardia is ahead of McKee yet in the balloting in all boroughs.

TOWN TURNS OUT TO PAY TRIBUTE TO DITCH DIGGER

Maryville, Mo., Courthouse Closed for Funeral of Man Who Helped Others.

By the Associated Press. MARYVILLE, Mo., Oct. 27.—Jeff Monroe, a digger of ditches, who used his meager earnings to make brighter the lives of others poorer than himself, was buried with ceremony yesterday. Leading the mourners was Mayor E. L. Roby who ordered the courthouse closed for two hours and served as a pall-bearer. The First Christian Church was packed and the expensive casket in which Jeff, the ditch digger, was laid to rest was surrounded by mounds of flowers. Two pastors paid tribute to his good deeds. The procession that followed the casket to the cemetery was two miles long and included 17 car loads of residents of Omaha who motored here to honor him.

Monroe spent most of his 41 years digging ditches. His last act was to contribute his last day's pay to the welfare board. It was his Christmas eve custom for 10 years to dress as Santa Claus and distribute toys.

and insisted that an additional $1,000,000 should be provided to supply the deficiency caused by the inability of local communities to pay their share.

Prices Offset Re-employment. Re-employment had temporarily lessened the number of families on relief lists in many counties," he said, "and is without doubt checking the drift toward destitution the state over, but increased commodity costs practically balance the decrease in the number aided, and when winter comes in earnest Missouri will face a problem so intensely serious in nature and extent, so teeming with untoward possibilities that it furnishes a challenge to be met realistically in a relief program of funds and service."

Crossley said the State commission would not expend State and Federal funds in any community which did not locally meet its share of the relief demands, except in destitute communities.

"As State relief director," he said, "I may as well make it plain that this department does not intend to pauperize any county or community by putting funds at its disposal unless we are first assured that the community served is prepared to co-operate to the fullest possible extent."

"We must not undermine or tend to destroy that great underlying American principle, which embodies both local self-government and local self-support. We must not permit the civic conscience to be dulled, or lulled into the belief that somebody, somewhere, Uncle Sam or the State of Missouri, will substitute outside help for that which the community should furnish. Except in extreme instances, Government funds must be regarded not as substitute but as supplemental."

The Legislature has before it a number of revenue-producing bills, chief of which provides for a sales tax. Gov. Park has estimated that a 1 per cent tax on sales will yield about $9,000,000 a year, sufficient to provide the relief funds and enough to balance the spring of 1928 and the gold panic was on. It is still there.

Compensated Dollar Plan. "The rise in the value of gold caused such a calamity that the effort to re-establish it had to be stopped. So why not simply change the gold basis of the spring of 1928 and the gold panic was on. It is still there."

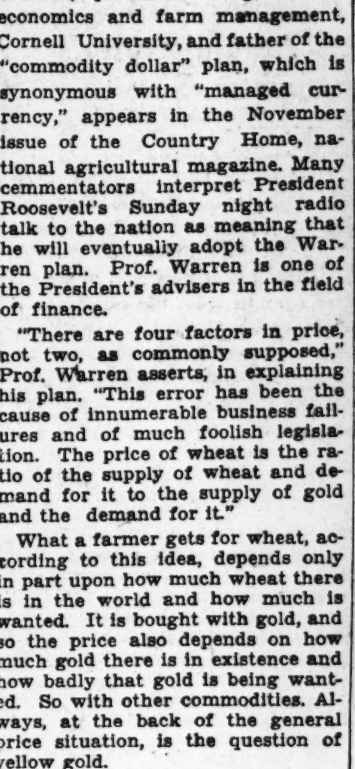

Then, he says, prices will rise in proportion. A 75 per cent increase to $38.17 an ounce, Dr. Warren declares, "would bring back recovery, quickly, men back to work, and quickly balance national budgets."

This would be accomplished by the simple device of reducing the number of grains of gold in a dollar from 23.22, the present legal weight, to 13.27 grains. Under a law passed last spring, the Presdent has authority to do this. The figure is selected in the belief that it would restore the 1926 price level, which is said to correspond with the level at which the great part of existent debts are contracted.

After the dollar is revalued, its advocates point out that another step must be taken before there is real stability in the unit of value. This is to establish what Dr. Warren calls the "compensated dollar."

If the wholesale price index of 784 commodities, as published by the Bureau of Labor, is used to determine the dollar's value, the gold content would be raised or lowered from time to time as the general level of prices for everyday commodities rose or fell, with a limit on fluctuation of 1 per cent per month.

The Warren proposal aims to provide money with fixed and constant purchasing power, but a flexible weight. "The dollar," he says, "has to be rubber either as to weight or value. It cannot have a fixed weight and also a fixed value. This proposal would give it a fixed value and a rubber weight."

"A scientific money is one with a constant buying power for commodities, rather than a fixed weight of one commodity. Our whole tax and debt structure rests on commodity prices. If this structure is to be kept sound either for the creditor or the debtor, it is commodity prices that need to be kept stable, not the weight of gold for which a dollar will exchange."

"The rise in the value of gold caused such a calamity that the effort to re-establish it had to be stopped. So why not simply change the gold basis of the spring of 1928 and the gold panic was on. It is still there."

GOVERNMENT REPLIES TO INSULL DEFENSE

Evidence From Co-Defendants Introduced, Prosecutor Charges At Athens Hearing.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

ATHENS, Oct. 27.—The charges against Samuel Insull attempted to undermine the United States Government's case by introducing evidence from unworthy sources was made today by Prosecutor Anthony Reghannacos, when the former utilities magnate's extradition hearing was resumed before the Court of Appeals.

"Rebuttal would not be necessary," Reghannacos declared, "if the defense had not introduced certain erroneous testimony and tried to induce the Court to give more faith to affidavits from some of Insull's co-defendants than to the written evidence produced by the Government of the United States."

"The defense sought to set aside evidence from Harold Huling, United States Department of Justice expert, and substitute for it evidence from witnesses who helped Insull falsify his books."

"Why does the United States demand the extradition of Samuel Insull?" "Because of an offense punishable by up to five years in prison."

Insull may not receive the maximum sentence if he is extradited and convicted of fraudulent bankruptcy, the prosecutor said, intimating his advanced age may be taken into consideration.

"But sentence to prison is not so important as the act of condemnation."

After outlining the reasons for the prosecution rebuttal, Reghannacos went into Insull's activities while a utilities magnate in the United States.

The fugitive ex-millionaire, the prosecutor declared, received an exorbitant salary from the Corporation Securities Co.

As this charge was made, Insull's three defense attorneys protested vigorously, declaring Insull had not received a dollar from this company in the form of salary.

In his rebuttal, Lazaridis denied the Prosecutor's charges, declaring his client had committed no frauds. Before the crash of 1929, Lazaridis said, Insull was "second only to John D. Rockefeller" as a financier.

Insull's two other lawyers, Percles Rhalis and Christos Ladas, made brief pleas for his release, insisting the charges against the ex-millionaire were unfounded.

SAYS POLITICIAN GOT $65,000 IN LIQUOR RACKET

Government Witness Tells of Alleged Protection of Smugglers by Pennsylvania State Senator.

PAID IN $25,000 OR $30,000 HIMSELF

Police and Minor Judiciary Under the Control of Republican Leader, It Is Charged.

By the Associated Press. PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 27.—Stories that State Senator John J. McClellan collected at least $65,000 as tribute from liquor smugglers have featured trial of the Government's case against McClellan and 73 co-defendants in the alleged Delaware county liquor conspiracy.

The Government's key witness, D. Harvey Sykes, former constable, was back on the stand today. The trial is in its fourth week.

The Government seeks to prove that a political protection organization, allegedly headed by McClellan, levied tribute on every case of liquor smuggled into the county from the sea, operated a big brewery, protected speakeasies and still operators who paid, raided those who didn't, and controlled the police and minor judiciary.

It is the fourth day on the stand for Sykes, who is serving a prison term on a charge of extortion and who says he was a direct representative of Senator McClellan.

Sykes testified yesterday that McClellan personally received "at least $65,000 to $70,000" as tribute from liquor smugglers alone, the witness asserting he himself turned in "between $25,000 and $30,000." This, he said, was from the time he started collecting on the Chester waterfront in 1929 until he went to jail in January, 1931.

John S. Hurley, head of the United States Bureau of Investigation's prohibition division, describes the Delaware County prosecution as "probably the most outstanding case of its kind in the history of prohibition."

Ninety-six persons were indicted by the Federal grand jury for participation in the alleged organization and many others were listed as co-conspirators, although not indicted.

Of the 96, 90 started trial and 14 have pleaded guilty, leaving 76 still fighting their case before the jury and two alternates.

Two of those indicted who did not answer the roll are serving life terms in the Minnesota State prison at Stillwater. They are Al Silver and Jeff Newman, who have been named as leaders of the smugglers by Chet A. Keyes, Special Assistant United States Attorney-General. Three of the others are fugitives and one is dead.

LINDBERGH'S PAY PARIS SURPRISE VISIT

Arrive in Secrecy After Flight
From Scotland—To Stay Several Days.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, Oct. 27.—Col. Charles A.
Lindbergh visited in contrasting quiet today the scenes where thousands paid him tribute after his historic trans-Atlantic crossing six years ago.

Accompanied this time by his wife, the "Lone Eagle" of 1927, arrived late yesterday from Inverness, Scotland, and taxied his seaplane up to the landing dock on the River Seine at Les Mureaux, 25 miles west of here.

The Lindberghs, after sleeping until nearly 9 o'clock today, had breakfast in their room, visited with American embassy officials, and laid plans for what the Colonel was said to have described as a "few days' visit"—the first since his crossing in 1927.

Premier Albert Sarraut and many French aviators attended a private dinner at the home of the flyer, Dieudonné Coste, in honor of the Lindberghs tonight.

Yesterday forenoon, it was learned, Lindbergh telephoned from Inverness to the Air Minister here, saying that he wished to come to Paris, but insisting that the visit must be secret.

The Lindberghs had taken a suite at the Hotel Crillon and had gone out to dinner before it became generally known that they were in Paris.

Lindbergh succeeded so well in getting quietly into Paris that not even Gen. John J. Pershing, living at the Crillon, knew of their arrival until late this morning.

MAN AND WIFE ON MOTORCYCLE KILLED IN CRASH

Mr. and Mrs. Charles L.
Pearn, Alton, Fatally Hurt
When Machine Runs Into Tree.

Charles L. Pearn, 29 years old, and his wife, Gladys, 26, of Alton, were killed last night when the motorcycle on which they were riding failed to round a curve on Elm street, Alton, and crashed into a tree.

Pearn, who suffered a fractured skull and crushed chest, was killed instantly. His wife, also with a fractured skull, died at St. Joseph's Hospital less than an hour later.

The accident occurred at 6:10 p. m., as they were on their way from their home, 920 Logan street, to an undetermined destination. No one saw the accident, but Ike Smith, 94
East Elm street, and his son, Harry, 96 East Elm, heard the crash and discovered the motorcycle had hit a tree. Pearn's body was lying six feet from the tree and his wife 20 feet away, with the motorcycle between them.

Authorities were unable to determine whether the motorcycle had skidded on the moist brick pavement or whether Pearn, who had owned the machine only since August, merely lost control. Injuries of the two indicated Pearn had hit the tree with his chest and that he and his wife had bumped heads.

Pearn was employed as a powder-man for the Mississippi Lime & Material Co., and his wife as a telephone operator. His relatives reside at Ashland, Ill., his wife's near Beardstown. Neighbors and she had objected to the purchase of the motorcycle and had said she would not ride on it.

hauling contractor at 2019 Cass avenue, died from loss of blood yesterday at a Granite City hospital, an hour after his automobile skidded into the railing at the east approach of McKinley Bridge.
Jourdain apparently lost control of his car on the wet pavement as he turned a corner of the approach entering Vine. His throat was cut by glass fragments.

Jourdain, 39 years old, 4334
Aubert avenue, suffered a skull injury when his automobile caromed off the railing of a small bridge on Florissant road, in St. Louis County, and crashed into a telephone pole yesterday afternoon. He was picked up by other motorists and taken to City Hospital.

Solomon, Washington taxicab driver shot in a holdup on July 28, 1931, was electrocuted a few minutes later without knowing the life of his companion had been spared temporarily.

Thomas M. Rives, superintendent of the District of Columbia jail, was waiting in his office while final preparations for the execution were made when the telephone rang. It was the President speaking from his bed.

The President acted after receiving a recommendation from James C. Egan, Solicitor-General, that a reprieve be granted so that fresh evidence could be investigated. Previously the President commuted to life imprisonment the death sentence of Leonard Layton, a third Negro convicted of the same crime.

FORECLOSURE SUIT ON NOTES OF SIMMONS FIRMS

Accounting Sought by Former Trustees, First National Bank of St. Louis and Chase of New York.

Suit to foreclose the trust indenture securing $4,791,000 of "gold notes" of Associated Simmons Har-ware Companies, and for an accounting by the former trustees,
First National Bank of St. Louis and Chase National Bank of New York, was filed today by the present trustees, L. E. Crandall and Kenneth Teasdale.

Through the transactions for which an accounting is sought, the present trustees allege, more than $8,000,000 of the trust estate was lost to noteholders.

The suit is filed in Circuit Court as an intervening petition in the re-ceivership action brought last year by a noteholder, First National Bank and Chase National Bank, whose removal as trustees was sought, resigned several months later and were succeeded by Crandall and Teasdale, who are serving with the powers of receivers.

Step Toward Reorganization.
Their attorney, Robert Burnett, of the firm Stern & Burnett, said
the foreclosure action was a preliminary step toward reorganization, plans for which may be announced soon.

Defendants in the accounting suit, besides the bank trusts, are the Associated Simmons Hardware Companies, a holding firm organized as a voluntary trust, and its individual trustees, Roy H. Goddard, Louis K. Liggett, Charles S.
Sargent, Hillman Taylor, C. D.
Smiley Jr. and Leigh B. Liggett.

The bank trustees, it is alleged, were aware, or should have known that the holding company was in default of its obligations under the trust indenture long before they withdrew as trustees, but failed to exercise the powers they possessed for the protection of noteholders.

While neglecting to recognize the existence of default, it is alleged, the bank trustees permitted the revenues of the controlled companies to be used to repay indebtedness to them and other banks, instead of taking charge of the companies and conserving their assets for noteholders.

Says Liquidation Was Permitted.
Despite the existence of such defaults, the petition states, the trustees exercised the powers they possessed to liquidate various controlled companies and use the proceeds of liquidation to retire outstanding
"gold notes" and preferred stock.

The trust indenture, the petition states, provided that controlled companies could borrow from the holding company only on short-term notes, and to obtain funds necessary for the operation of their business, but the bank trustees, knowing of that provision, redirected notes made by the controlled companies and permitted the use of such funds to retire
"gold notes."

The "gold notes" outstanding are those that remain of a $10,000,000 issue sold to investors in 1923. They are obligations of the holding company, secured by all the common stock of the controlled operating companies. Originally there were more than 20 controlled companies, but only four are now active, the largest being the Simmons Hardware Co. in St. Louis.

GIRL BITTEN BY RAT DIES IN HOSPITAL

Doctor Thinks She Was Victim of Unusual Fever as Result.

Miss Lola Mae Matthews, 15 years old, 1108 Gratian street, died yesterday at City Hospital of what Medical Director Avery P. Rowlette of the hospital said appeared to be "rat-bite fever," an uncommon disease.

Miss Matthews was bitten by a rat while she slept three weeks ago at her home. She was treated for bites of the right shoulder and left hand. A week later she began to complain of fever and muscular soreness, and last Wednesday was taken back to City Hospital with multiple hemorrhages showing as small blotches under the skin.

WOMAN BURNS TO DEATH NEAR O'FALLON, ILL.

Mrs. Emma Finn, 75, Killed
When One-Room House Is Destroyed—Oil Stove
Apparently Caused Fire.

Mrs. Emma Finn, 75 years old, was burned to death at 8 a. m. today when fire apparently started by an oil stove destroyed the one-room frame building in which she resided at Carbon Station, near O'Fallon, Ill.

The frame building is directly behind the roadhouse operated by her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Cody Hall. Mrs. Hall said she took the oil stove to her mother's bedroom in the frame building last night and lighted it, but returned after Mrs. Finn was asleep and turned it off.

At 8:10 a. m., while Mr. and Mrs.
Hall were still asleep, a passerby discovered the building in flames.
The Halls were aroused and summoned the O'Fallon fire department but firemen were unable to enter the building. When it burned to the ground, Mrs. Finn's charred body was discovered in the ruins, lying partly under her bed.

Authorities said they thought she probably had attempted to light the stove without success and that an explosion occurred after fumes had collected in the room.

TWO AMERICANS HELD AS SPIES IN FINLAND

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

HELSINKI, Finland, Oct. 27.

Discovery of an espionage ring was reported by police today with the arrest of seven foreigners, including an American citizen and his wife and a widow possessing a Canadian passport.

The Americans gave their names as
Mr. and Mrs. Arvid W. Jacobson.
The widow was said by authorities to be Mary Louise Martin, who, police believe, is also an American,
despite the fact she carried Canadian papers.

While police refused to divulge details of the alleged plot, it was charged the prisoners obtained a copy of Finnish Army plans from Lieut. Penttinen, formerly staff photographer of the Army, who fled across the Soviet border when his espionage activities were uncovered.

R. F. C. BUSINESS LOAN PLAN FIRM FOR ST. LOUIS

Finance Company Will Start With Capitalization of $100,000 Consisting of $10 Shares.

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation's plan to aid business concerns in need of temporary financing in order to continue operation will be made available in St. Louis next Monday through a new company organized by St. Louis business men.

It will be known as the St. Louis Finance Co., and will start with capitalization of $100,000, consisting of 10,000 shares of stock of $10 a share par value, the capitalization to be increased as demand requires. John R. Longmire, of L. M. Simon & Co., will be president of the company, and its offices will be in Bank of Commerce Building. Directors are St. Louis business men.

Organization of the company and its plan of operation were announced by James K. Vardaman, St. Louis manager of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. It is intended that eventually the company shall be wholly owned by its borrowers, as they are required to subscribe for stock in the amount of 10 per cent of their loans.

R. F. C. to Advance Cash. One of the purposes of the company is to aid concerns which otherwise would be distressed by the requirements of the R. F. C. Funds to cover approved loans will be advanced to the St. Louis company by the R. F. C. and the St. Louis company will, in turn, make the loans to the commercial borrowers.

The general plan of making loans and the requirements as to security, Vardaman said, will be as follows: Short term loans: These loans will be made by the R. F. C. to the St. Louis Finance Co. for period of six months or less, to enable the local company to make loans, (a) for the purchase of materials for manufacture; (b) to cover actual cost of labor in the manufacture and processing of materials; (c) to assist merchants and others especially affected by the NRA program. The interest rate will be 5 per cent a year.

Borrowers must give notes secured by: (a) valid assignment of an unconditional order for the manufacture of product; (b) mortgage, real or chattel, on plant, equipment, real estate, raw material, or manufactured product; (c) by any security acceptable to the company and the R. F. C.

Purposes of Loans. The application of the borrower must be accompanied by satisfactory evidence that the proceeds of the loan will be used for one of the purposes designated. Long term loans: "The St. Louis Finance Co., Vardaman said, "will receive applications for sound loans, the necessity for which can be definitely established, having a longer maturity than six months. For example, loans to finance repairs will be considered. Loans for new construction will be made only where a real need for such construction can be established. The test will be satisfactory evidence showing a need and a volume of business, actual or assured, sufficient to warrant such financing and to assure repayment within a reasonable time. It also should be shown that the transaction will not result in unnecessarily duplicating or adding to existing facilities."

The interest rate on loans of this type will be 6 per cent a year and the maturity may be up to three years. Officers Volunteer Services. The St. Louis company, Vardaman said, has not been organized for profit, and if profit should accrue, it is to be returned in dividends on the stock owned by the borrowers. The officers and directors have volunteered for this service, he said, and will retain their present business connections.

In addition to President Longmire and Chubb, the company's directors are: William T. Nardin, president of the Industrial Club and of the Pet Milk Co.; T. C. Tupper, president of the Securities Investment Corporation; J. B. Strauch, president of the National Bearing Metals Corporation; P. B. Postlewaite, president of Wagner Electric Corporation; F. B. Eiseman, vice-president of Rice-Stix Dry Goods Co.; Fred G. Ziebig, of Cornet & Ziebig, real estate; E. M. Quate, president of Monsanto Chemical Works; Charles B. Fox, president of Alcoa Ore Co.; Joseph R. Matthews, president of Corn Mill Co.; Eugene R. McCarthy, vice-president of Brown Shoe Co.

By the Associated Press. MIAMI, Ok., Oct. 27.—E. D. Morris' plea of guilty to charges of embezzling funds while Ottawa County Treasurer, ended his trial abruptly yesterday after two days of prosecution testimony. He was sentenced to three years in prison and fined $5000.

He was accused of embezzling about $20,000 between 1925 and 1929.

ZEPPELIN PLANS TO BEGIN RETURN TRIP TOMORROW

Takeoff From Akron for Friedrichshafen, Germany, Is Tentatively Set for 8 A. M.

By the Associated Press. AKRON, O., Oct. 27.—The Graf Zeppelin, back at the Akron airport after its trip to Chicago where it flew over the world's fair, prepared today for its takeoff tomorrow for Friedrichshafen, Germany, its home port.

The departure is tentatively scheduled for 8 a. m. The return will be made by Seville, Spain, but the route over the United States has not been announced yet.

With Capt. Lehman, the second officer in command, the airship on its return yesterday from Chicago appeared over the airport about 3 p. m. Because of a misunderstanding over landing orders it cruised about for an hour before drifting downward. While a small crowd watched, the 23 passengers disembarked in the center of the field before the huge dirigible was "walked" into the hangar.

Dr. Hugo Eckener, the Zeppelin's commander, who remained in Chicago to see the world's fair, will arrive by train today. Passengers on the trip from Chicago included Mayor C. Nelson Sparks, Congressman Dow Harter, and Fred M. Hartman, vice-president of the Goodyear Zeppelin Corporation, all of Akron, Ewing Mitchell, Assistant Secretary of Commerce, and Maj. J. Carroll Cone.

Man, 90, Hurt in Fall. Alexander Russell, 90 years old, suffered a cut over the eye and a sprained wrist when he slipped on the wet pavement and fell at St. Charles street and Broadway yesterday afternoon. He was treated at City Hospital and taken to his home, 4511 Washington boulevard.

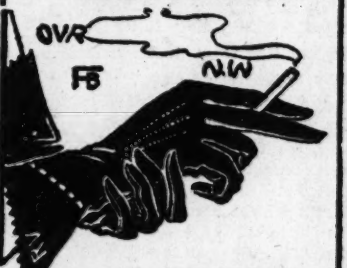

EX-HEAD OF FRATERNITY AND PLEDGE CONVICTED OF ARSON

Former, Short in Accounts, Alleged to Have Helped Set Fire to House.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Edward J. Parilton, 22 years old, Derby, Conn., and H. Albert Smith, 26, Humphreys, Mo., were convicted of arson by a District Supreme Court jury last night.

Smith, former president of the Sigma Chi Fraternity at George Washington University, and Parilton, a pledge, were alleged to have set fire to the fraternity house the morning of July 9. Sentence will probably be passed late this week. The prosecution introduced testimony that Parilton purchased a large can of gasoline from a filling station the day prior to the fire. Further testimony was introduced that the fraternity accounts handled by Smith as president were short $109.

TO HOLD HEARINGS ON CHILD LABOR MEASURE

Missouri Speaker Sends to Committee Ratification on Resolution Once Rejected.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 27. — A joint resolution for ratification by the Missouri Legislature of the child labor amendment to the United States Constitution has been referred by Speaker Meredith of the House to the House Committee on Constitutional Amendments for hearings. The committee has not fixed the time for the first hearing.

Some of the House leaders hold the view the ratification resolution could be called up for action, without referring it to a committee, because of court decisions that ratification of an amendment to the Federal Constitution, by a State Legislature, is a performance of a Federal function and is not a legislative act within the meaning of the State constitution and therefore does not have to go through all the routine attending legislation enactments. It was decided, however, to refer the resolution to a committee and let it follow the same course as a legislative bill.

Based on the same court decisions House leaders have taken the position the special session of the Legislature may act on ratification of the amendment, despite the fact Gov. Park did not include it in his designation of legislation which may be considered by the special session.

The 1925 Legislature adopted a joint resolution rejecting the child labor amendment. House supporters of the amendment contend this action in 1925 does not prevent a subsequent Legislature from again considering the amendment, so long as it is pending before the states at large.

SUFFERS FATAL HEART SEIZURE WHEN SINGING

Frank McGinn, Milwaukee Brewery District Sales Manager, Collapses in Bar.

Frank J. McGinn, district sales manager for the Blatz Brewery of Milwaukee, was singing "My Wild Irish Rose" at the Circle Bar, 110 North Eighth street, at 3 o'clock this morning when he collapsed. He was pronounced dead of heart disease a few minutes later.

McGinn, who was 47 years old, had called on a number of St. Louis customers last night with Alvin Buckel, 720 Clarendon avenue, local representative of the brewery. At the Circle Bar a mechanical piano was playing the Irish ballad. McGinn started to sing when he was stricken.

McGinn's home was in Milwaukee. He was registered at Roosevelt Hotel.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Oct. 27.—Paul W. Carhart, managing editor of the G. & C. Merriam Co. dictionary publishers, and an authority on phonetics, killed himself by shooting today in his home. Mrs. Carhart, investigating the sound of a fall, found him in the bathroom, wounded through the head, with a rifle lying at his side. He died soon afterward. Mrs. Carhart was unable to ascribe any motive for her husband's suicide.

DR. BUTLER WINS BANK SUIT

Return of $300,000 in Securities Ordered Returned to Him.

By the Associated Press.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Oct. 27.—Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, won a suit in Brooklyn Federal Court yesterday to compel the Harriman National Bank and Trust Co. to return to him more than $300,000 of an alleged brokerage account. Dr. Butler testified he had maintained a brokerage account with Harriman & Co. for 20 years. Joseph W. Harriman, he said, was connected with this company. When Harriman subsequently became head of the Harriman Bank he continued to advise Dr. Butler and he urged him, according to the complaint, to transfer his account to the bank and put up stocks and bonds as security. Dr. Butler sued for return of the securities.

TWO EX-BANKERS FOUND GUILTY OF EMBEZZLEMENT

Charges Against President and Auditor Based on Inquiry Into Cleveland Failure.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 27.—Two former officers of the closed Standard Bank were convicted yesterday of embezzlement.

The charges resulted from the investigation of the bank's $13,000,000 failure. The conviction carries possible penalties of up to 40 years in prison and fines of $10,000 each.

C. Stirling Smith, who rose to bank president from messenger boy, and Dale T. Winslow, auditor of the bank, were found guilty by Common Pleas Judge Arthur H. Day of embezzling $13,253 in February, 1930. Judge Day heard the case without a jury.

Defense counsel said a motion for a new trial would be filed Monday. If the motion is overruled, sentence will be pronounced then. Smith's bond was set at $20,000 and Winslow's at $12,500.

Winslow collapsed shortly after the verdict. Smith's sponse was broken by an outburst in which he accused the decision as "the rottenest ever given in a law court."

Much of the evidence at the trial centered about the alleged use of bank money to buy stock, which the prosecution charged was put up as collateral for a loan of about $100,000 from the bank.

Witnesses testified part of this loan was credited to the account of a brother-in-law of the former bank president, A. J. Pearson, a Judge of the Common Pleas Court.

The defendants maintained that none of the alleged irregularity in the handling of funds was for their own profit, but was intended for the good of the bank.

The Standard Bank, which closed in December, 1931, was a successor of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers Bank, the former major labor banking concern.

LACY AND HARTMAN GAIN DELAY IN ARRAIGNMENT

Lawyer Accused of Corrupting Juror to Appear in Court Next Friday.

Verne R. C. Lacy and Joseph W. Hartman, lawyers charged with corrupting a juror, today obtained a week's delay in their arraignment and will appear before Circuit Judge Hoffmeister next Friday. Sigmund Bass, who appeared as their counsel, said he wished to argue a motion that the court set aside its order of last Monday, overruling the demurrer to Judge Hoffmeister's indictment. Judge Hoffmeister told Bass he would hear the argument at once, but Bass asked for a week.

Bass will argue that the court decisions cited by Judge Hoffmeister, in overruling the demurrer, do not apply to the Lacy-Hartman case. Lacy and Hartman are charged with having asked a juror, the first trial of Paul A. Richards on a kidnapping charge, to "give him the benefit of all doubts," with the promise that "we will take care of you," in pursuance of which it is alleged that $80 was given to the juror after the trial ended in a disagreement. Richards was later acquitted of the charge of kidnapping for ransom, but has recently been disbarred by the Supreme Court, on the same showing of facts, for his acts as go-between for the kidnapers of Alexander Berg. Until last summer, Richards acted as attorney for Lacy.

THE REV. FREDERICK A. ROBLEE CALLED TO ST. LOUIS CHURCH

The Rev. Frederick A. Roblee, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Roblee, 7354 Princeton avenue, University City, has been called to the pastorate of the St. Louis Memorial Presbyterian Church, Sidney street and Minnesota avenue. The call must have the approval of the St. Louis Presbytery, which meets Nov. 13.

The Rev. Mr. Roblee preached for the congregation three times during the summer, and it is known he will accept the call. It approved by the presbytery, he will probably be installed on Nov. 15. It will be his first official charge.

The Rev. Mr. Roblee graduated from Washington University in the class of 1929, and subsequently studied at Presbyterian Theological Seminary in Chicago, where he received the degree of bachelor of divinity and the Bernardine Orme Smith Fellowship. Last year he studied at Union Theological Seminary, New York, and received the degree of master of sacred theology last June.

MOVIE RECEIVERS MADE PROFIT OF $170,000

Operated Chain for St. Louis Amusement Co. for 20 Months.

A profit of $170,197 was made by the St. Louis Amusement Co., operating a chain of neighborhood movie theaters, during 20 months of receivership, it is shown in the final report of the receivers, filed yesterday with Circuit Judge Hamilton. The receivers, Roy F. Britton, president of the Automobile Club of Missouri, and Henri Chouteau, office and theater building owner, pointed out that the period had been disastrous for the movie industry in general.

The receivers were appointed Nov. 24, 1931, in a suit backed by Harry Koplar, movie exhibitor. They were discharged last Aug. 7, when Judge Hamilton terminated the receivership.

Cash operating revenue during their management was $1,864,666 and operating disbursements $1,694,477, the receivers reported. Other expenses, including fees for the receivers and their attorneys, insurance and taxes, amounted to $144,591 leaving a profit of $170,197, which the report showed is subject to some adjustments which would make little difference in the final outcome.

There were miscellaneous cash receipts of $73,454. The receivers made payments on principal and interest on mortgages and on bills incurred before they took charge, aggregating $184,727. They left the business with a cash balance of $58,924. All maturing capital obligations were paid off without default, the report related, adding that the property was left in as good condition as when the receivers took charge, if not better. The company, owned by Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc., now operates 20 theaters, but the number open has varied.

Chouteau has been allowed $16,000 and Britton $14,500 for services up to last June 12. They ask a further allowance for themselves and for their counsel. Their lawyers, Guy A. Thompson and Lambert E. Walther, were paid $5000 each up to Nov. 16, 1932.

J. V. THOMPSON'S MANSION FURNISHINGS BEING SOLD
Treasures Auctioned to Satisfy Creditors of Late Coal Magnate.

By the Associated Press.
UNIONTOWN, Pa., Oct. 27.—Under a circus tent, on a weed-grown estate where once played some of the world's most glamorous social lights, an auctioneer is selling piece after piece of the treasures collected from over the world by the late J. V. Thompson.

Three hours after the sale began yesterday a throng of art connoisseurs and society notables had spent about $11,000.

The sale is to satisfy the one-time multi-millionaire's creditors and will continue until the entire contents of the famous old "Oak Hill" mansion are disposed of. The home already had been sold and will be converted into a convent.

The highest price paid for any article was $2400 for a rug the coal operator bought for $20,000 while on a honeymoon in Constantinople with his Broadway showgirl bride, the late "Honey" Hawes.

A faithful butler dishes out hamburgers to the throngs from the kitchen of the 32-room mansion. He is Pasquale Pallini, chief of the retinue of servants once employed by Thompson. Pallini came from England 26 years ago to take charge of Thompson's household and, after 1915, the year "J. V.'s" coal empire crumbled, he and his wife served "the master" virtually without pay. Previously Pallini waited on table at the Duke of Norfolk's castle.

Brings Charge.

Ben Williams, Negro, 4217A Easton avenue, was arrested at the Municipal Courts Building yesterday on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses by offering to "straighten out" a speeding charge against another Negro.

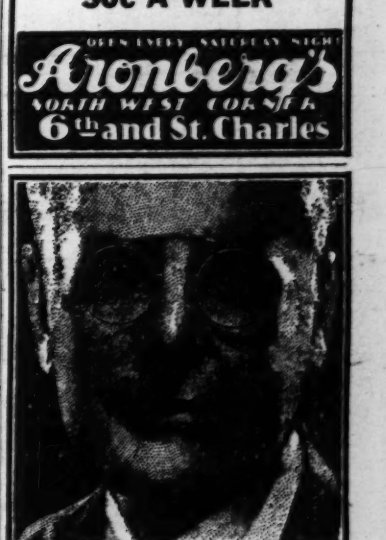

A warrant has been issued. The charge against Williams was brought by William Sutherland, Negro, 4412 Aldine avenue, who said he was arrested last July 12 for speeding and at Williams' suggestion arranged to pay him $13 to have the case settled. Sutherland said he learned later nothing had been done about the charge. The case has been continued on the Police Court docket until now.

ANNIVERSARY Changes Its Name!

We're turning over a new leaf. We've decided that you like your advertising straight; facts, not fancies. We've changed the name of our Fall Anniversary. For it isn't an Anniversary at all. It is simply a tradition which in its beginning celebrated our progress in moving to our present location. We're still celebrating. This year more than ever. Not because of an historical urge... but because we have continued to progress!

Only Our Annual Fall Savings Could Bring Such Values.

"Give me a double-woven CAMERON WORSTED —and I'll be set for the rest of the winter"

Wise Man!

with two trousers

Are you in the same boat with Mr. J. W. T.? Here's what he told us day before yesterday — "My salary hasn't gone up — yet. I've got to stretch every dollar — I can't take a chance on just any suit of clothes. I know Cameron Worsteds — I've worn 'em! They keep their shape no matter how hard I wear 'em — and believe me, I punish my clothes plenty. Give me a Cameron Worsteds and I'll be set for the rest of the winter!" — today or tomorrow?

Fortunately, we're still able to meet the demand for Camerons at their old price — $25, including 2 trousers. But goodness knows what they'll be after this last lot is gone. So why don't you "get set for the rest of the winter" — today or tomorrow?

DISHWASHING GAVE HER A $10,000 IDEA

Associated Press Photo.
MRS. L. M. ALEXANDER, WIFE of Prof. C. C. Alexander, of Baker University of Baldwin, Kan., who recently was awarded a $10,000 prize for a plot she developed for a novel in a contest sponsored by a magazine and book publisher. She said the plot came to her while she was washing dishes.

DERN APPROVES PLAN FOR E. ST. LOUIS BRIDGE

$3,400,000 Public Works Fund Sought to Build Mississippi Span.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Secretary of War Dern today approved an application by the city of East St. Louis, Ill., for authority to build a new highway toll bridge across the Mississippi between St. Louis and East St. Louis.

The application was made by the Mayor of East St. Louis, with the request that it be rushed through in order to relieve unemployment. No objections to the structure were offered at a hearing in St. Louis on Sept. 21, and the Army Engineer's office said it would interpose no objections.

It was announced Sept. 3 that East St. Louis would seek $3,400,000 in loan and grant from the Federal Public Works Administration to build the bridge. The crossing would extend from Fourth street and Missouri avenue, East St. Louis, to Third street and Franklin avenue.

RESTAURANT AND AUTO SUPPLY FIRM ROBBED IN HOLDUP

$55 Obtained at One Place and $111 at Other—Auto Taken From Man.

Miss Sarah Hughes, waitress at the Huntington Cafe, 4049 Washington boulevard, was serving a customer last night, when a man entered and walked to the cash register. As she went over to where the newcomer was, he drew a revolver and ordered "Hands off!" He looted the cash register of $55 and fled.

The Star Square Auto Supply Co., 4246 Manchester avenue, was robbed of $100 late yesterday by two armed men. Francis S. Rose, manager, and Louis Herman, clerk, were forced to lie on the floor, but Rose was later required to get up and open the cash register. Herman was robbed of $11. A customer who entered during the holdup was ordered into the back room with the employees, the robbers barricading the door with a chair. Another customer freed the three persons 10 minutes after the robbers had gone.

Arthur Friedman, 1409 Lynch avenue, East St. Louis, was held up while seated in his automobile in front of 1713 Franklin avenue. A man who displayed no weapon ordered him out of the car and drove away in it. Friedman said six dressed chickens and 25 pounds of salt were in the automobile.

A $75 plate-glass window at the United Army Goods Store, 2704 Franklin avenue, was broken early today by someone who stole two pairs of shoes valued at $4.

STATION KYW TO PHILADELPHIA

Radio Commission Grants Permission to Westinghouse Co.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—The Radio Commission today gave the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Co. permission to move station KYW from Chicago to Philadelphia. The company is to build a new 10-kilowatt transmitter near Philadelphia, with directional broadcasting facilities to decrease interference with stations in New York and Baltimore.

The decision brought to a close the drawn-out "1020" clear channel case. Numerous applications for the channel were received after the Commission ordered it changed from the Mid-West to the East. Hearings were held more than a year ago. The Commission denied the application of the Kunsky-Trendle Broadcasting Corporation to use the channel at Detroit.

FRENCH CABINET LITTLE CHANGED BY NEW PREMIER

Sarraut Presents his Ministry to President—Stands Pat for Gold and Against Inflation.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, Oct. 27.—Premier Albert Sarraut's new Cabinet—new in little more than name, since the personnel varies little from the old—was presented to President Lebrun at the Elysee palace at 2 a. m. today.

Shortly after deciding definitely to accept the commission to form a ministry, Sarraut obtained enthusiastic endorsement of his program to balance the budget at a conference with Radical Socialist colleagues and announced a firm stand for gold against inflation and devaluation, and for reductions in taxes and freights to encourage business.

The outstanding name missing in the new Ministry is that of the American-born Raymond Patenotre.

Under-secretary of National Economy, who had been severely criticized by the opposition.

Sarraut became Minister of Marine, choosing Daladier as Minister of War, and retaining Joseph Paul-Boncour as Minister of Foreign Affairs.

Georges Bonnet was reappointed Minister of Finance. Others are: Vice-Premier and Minister of Justice, Albert Daladier, former Minister of Colonies; Interior, Camille Chautemps (reappointed); Budget, Abel Gardey; Agriculture, Henry Queuille (reappointed); Commerce, Laurent-Eynac; Posts and Telegraphs, Jean Mistler; Public Works, Joseph Paganon (reappointed); Labor, Eugene Frot (reappointed); Education, Anatole de Monzie; Colonies, Francois Pietri; Air, Pierre Cot (reappointed); Merchant Marine, Jacques Stern; Pensions, Hippolyte Ducos; Health, Philippe Marcombes.

Five members of the new Ministry are Senators and the rest Deputies. There are 13 Radical Socialists and the rest are scattered among Leftist parties with the exception of Pietri, who belongs to the Center.

MONET PAINTING BRINGS $7100

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Twelve paintings by the famous Frenchman Claude Monet sold last night for $42,700 in an auction at the American Art Association-Anderson Galleries. All were from the estate of the late Mrs. James F. Sutton. The highest price, $7100, was paid by Mrs. C. T. Carroll for Monet's "Dawn Light" painting at the Cathedral at Rouen, dated 1894.

GAMBLING CLUB OWNER SLAIN
Five Flee After Chicago Shooting; Eight Witness Crime.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—While six employees and two customers looked on, Patay Damoto, 30 years old, co-owner of a North Side gambling and night club, was shot and killed early today.

With four companions guarding him, the killer wheeled from the bar where they had been drinking and fired two bullets into Damoto's back as he sat nearby at a table playing cards with two men. The killer cried: "You double-crosser, you won't get away this time." Damoto was playing cards with Philip Giginti, master of ceremonies in the cafe, and Joseph Valentine, the orchestra leader, when he was shot. The five men ran out as their victim fell to the floor. Searching the cafe, detectives found four gaming tables, a quantity of racing paraphernalia and a battery of three telephones.

Gigantic Rose Garden.

BALKS AT PUTTING MINE ROW UP TO NRA BOARD

Progressives' President Willing to Refer Dispute to "Disinterested" Body.

By the Associated Press.

GILLESPIE, Ill., Oct. 27.—The Progressive Miners of America, their president, Claude Pearcy, said last night, are willing to refer the Illinois coal miners' dispute to a "disinterested" board, but not to the National Labor Board. Pearcy said he so notified Hugh S. Johnson, National Recovery Administrator.

"It would be folly for Progressives to submit the case to the National Labor Board," Pearcy said. "If John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, and William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, along with other persons affiliated with the Federation of Labor, are members of that board."

The union president asserted the only question to be settled is whether so-called striking miners are still employees of mines in which they formerly worked.

Next Move Up to Progressives, Richberg Says.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Donald Richberg, the Recovery Administration's general counsel, said yesterday that the next move toward settlement of the Illinois coal mine dispute was up to the Progressive Miners of America.
Richberg said that Hugh S. Johnson, the Recovery Administrator, had told the Progressives in answer to their objections to Richberg's proposal that they should agree to the settlement first and then carry their case to the Labor Board.

YOUTH LOCKED IN CELLAR OF HOME BY THREE ROBBERS

$12 Taken From James La Presto and House Ransacked.
James La Presto, 18 years old, was locked in the basement of his home, 6320 De Oliverville avenue, early today by three holdup men who took $12 from him and ransacked the house.

La Presto was alone in the house at 1 a. m. when he heard a noise on the front porch and went to investigate. As he opened the front door, he was confronted by the three men, one of whom drew a revolver. Searching him and taking his money, they ordered him back into the house and into the basement, where they locked him in a fruit cellar.

The youth said he heard them searching the house afterward. His father, Louis La Presto returned home at 1:40 a. m., heard him pounding on the door downstairs and released him. Nothing was stolen from the house, the father said.

CADDY, 15, SENTENCED TO LIFE FOR KILLING CLUB CHAMPION

Youth Convicted of Murder Which Followed His Suspension at Richmond, Ky.

By the Associated Press.
RICHMOND, Ky., Oct. 27.—A 15-year-old caddy, Lloyd May, has been sentenced to life in prison for having killed Clarence Agee, 19, champion of the Richmond Golf Club here and acting caddy-master.

May was convicted yesterday by a jury in Madison Circuit Court here. Agee was shot to death with a shotgun on the night of Aug. 23 at the golf club clubhouse.

Testimony at the trial showed that May and Agee had had previous trouble and on the day of the killing May had been ordered off the course by a club member. He had been suspended as a caddy several weeks before the shooting. May testified he was afraid of Agee and that Agee struck him several times with a walking stick before the shooting.

ESTATE OF R. A. HOLLAND JR.

Personal Property Listed at $99,756 in Inventory.
An inventory of the estate of Robert A. Holland Jr., St. Louis attorney, filed in Probate Court today, lists personal property worth $99,756.

Items in the estate are bonds valued at $61,204, corporation stocks $15,376, cash $22,655 and chattels $520. Mr. Holland, who died at Harbor Springs, Mich., last August, left his entire estate, except for bequests totaling $2002, in trust for his widow, Mrs. Julia Rumsey Holland, 8 Hortense place, and a sister, Miss Theodosia Holland, also of St. Louis. He was a member of the law firm of Holland, Lauby & Lashly.

MOTHER'S TESTIMONY READ IN HUSSEY SUIT

In Deposition She Tells of Confidence in Son's Business Ability.

Mrs. Jennie Hussey, widow of Dennis B. Hussey and one of the trustees for his $1,000,000 estate, had confidence in the business ability of her oldest son, Robert, she related in a deposition read yesterday in the trial of an accounting suit brought by her daughter, Mrs. James Bailey.

Mrs. Bailey, youngest of the Hussey family, has filed the suit against her mother and brothers as trustees of the estate, complaining particularly of a $400,000 loan made to finance an unsuccessful business venture by Robert. Illustrating her confidence in Robert's ability, Mrs. Hussey testified that she had removed her son, Nolan, from the presidency of the Houston Wood Preserving Co., one of the Hussey enterprises, and replaced him with Robert because delicate contract negotiations in behalf of the company were pending. Her husband, she explained, had driven a close bargain with a Scotchman before his death in 1927, and when the contract came up for renewal, she wanted Robert to be on the ground "because he had more experience than Nolan, in his youth and enthusiasm, thought he had."

Nothing was brought out to show how Robert succeeded in his contract negotiations, but there was testimony that in 1928, on the advice of her attorney, Mrs. Hussey sold the company for a reported price of $500,000.

The $400,000 loan was made in 1928 to the Hussey Lumber Products Co., organized by Robert. This company was forced into liquidation, the defense contends, because of Mrs. Bailey's insistence that the loan be reduced by $200,000 within a year. About $211,000 of the loan is still unpaid.

JOHNSON TO HEAR A. F. L. HEADS ON CONSTRUCTION CODE

Promises William Green Union Leaders Will Be Consulted Before Approval.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Representatives of the American Federation of Labor were assured today by Hugh S. Johnson, NRA administrator, that they would be consulted before any construction code was approved.

After a conference with Johnson, President William Green of the American Federation of Labor, said that no construction code had yet been presented to the administrator for approval. Labor's basic protest, Green reported, was directed against a proposed construction code presented by the Construction League.

"The league is not truly representative," Green said, adding that the building trades department had agreed on another code submitted by a group that was representative.

Johnson was told, Green said, that whereas the representative code, agreed to by building trades, specified a 30-hour work week, the code presented by the Construction League set maximum working hours as 40 to 48 per week.

PUBLIC SERVICE RECEIVER PLANS FAST BUS LINES

Expects Soon to Submit Plans to City Board for New Routes.

Receiver Kiel of the Public Service Co. expects to complete the purchase of the People's Motor Bus Co. early next week, and will immediately thereafter submit to the Board of Public Service a plan for new bus lines and rerouting of some existing lines.

He hopes to establish a new fast bus line from the Lindenwood section over widened Market street. Another proposed line would follow Shaw avenue and Russell boulevard. After these are established other changes and extensions will be made, Kiel said, with the object of providing fast service to outlying sections. Under Kiel's plan, busses are to be a much more important vehicle of local transportation than heretofore.

Thomas E. Francis, general counsel for the receiver, will go to New York Monday to complete the purchase of the People's busses.

DISCUSSION OF ST. LOUIS FAIR Civic Groups to Consider Suggestion at Meeting.

A meeting of representatives of civic and commercial organizations is to be called by a special committee of the Convention, Publicity and Tourist Bureau to consider the suggestion of a world's fair in St. Louis. If the anticipated support is found, the committee will arrange a general public meeting to establish a fair organization.

Lon Sanders, president of the bureau, declared letters received from organizations showed a strong public sentiment in favor of holding a fair within the next five or 10 years.

'DAD'S DAY' AT WASHINGTON U.

"Dad's day" will be celebrated tomorrow at Washington University when fathers of students will be entertained in the women's cafeteria building.

Football Coach Conzelmann, Dean Wiley B. Rutledge and Douglas V. Martin will speak. The guests will attend the football game at Francis Field after the meeting.

SERVICES FOR CONGREGATION OF CHURCH WHICH BURNED

Mary Queen of Peace Parish to Hold Masses at Webster Hills Methodist Building.

The congregation of Mary Queen of Peace Catholic Church, whose building at 110 Algonquin lane, Glendale, was destroyed by fire Oct. 8, will hold masses in the Webster Hills Methodist Church, a block south, until a new Catholic church is built.

The plan was arrived at following conferences between the Rev. M. D. Collins of the Catholic parish and the Rev. Ben Morris Ridpath of the Methodist church. Masses will be held in the auditorium from 8 until 10:45 o'clock Sunday morning, with Methodist Sunday school classes in other rooms, and the Methodist services will be held at 11.

PAUL BARBATA SENTENCED TO BE HANGED ON DEC. 11

Slayer's Attorney Immediately Files Affidavit for Appeal to Supreme Court.

Paul Barbata, convicted of murder Oct. 6 by a jury which decreed the death penalty, was formally sentenced today by Circuit Judge Bader. The Court set Dec. 11 as the date of the hanging.

Barbata's attorney, Joseph Catanzaro, immediately filed an affidavit for appeal to the Missouri Supreme Court.

Observing the same attitude as at the trial, when his attorney offered a defense of insanity, Barbata asked him if he wished to make any statement. When asked if he understood the proceedings, Barbata shrugged his shoulders, wagged his head and finally said, "Yes."

He was convicted of the murder of Lillie Salsman, 18 years old, at her home, 2317 Cooper street, last Jan. 6. He also killed her father and younger brother. Two murder charges based on their deaths still remain against him. His attack on the family followed an order from the father and brother for him to cease his attentions to the girl because he was married.

DIRECTED VERDICT ACQUITS FORMER INSURANCE BROKER

Circuit Judge Hoffmeister's court yesterday.

The court sustained a demurrer to State's evidence that Morris kept $2410 in premiums he collected in 1931-32 as agent for Associated Underwriters, Inc., of Chicago. The demurrer contended Morris' contract with the company placed him in no position of trust, but rather that he bore the relationship of a debtor.

Morris, 46 years old, resides at 5046 Cabanne avenue.

C. B. Morris Was Accused of Embezzlement in Collection of Premiums.

C. B. Morris, former insurance broker in the Landreth Building, was acquitted of a charge of embezzlement by a directed verdict in

6600 ACRES SOLD FOR TAXES

Land in Dunklin County sold for 75 Cents to $1.25.

By the Associated Press.

KENNETT, Mo., Oct. 27.—One-fifth of the 33,000 acres of land owned by the Wisconsin Lumber Co. in Dunklin County, most of the bidders being home seekers from Missouri, Arkansas and Tennessee. A group of Arkansas Negroes bid in large tracts and plan to divide the land into small farms for permanent homes. The sales ranged from 40 acres to entire sections and the sale price from 75 cents to $1.25 an acre.

TEST RUN FOR NEW RAIL COACH

It Is Expected to Reduce Operating Costs by Two-thirds.

By the Associated Press.

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 27.—A new type of railway coach, embracing many features of aviation engineering and stream lined, made its initial test run here yesterday in the presence of officers of the Pullman Co., for whom it was built, at the William B. Stout engineering laboratories in Dearborn.

The new car, powered with two 160-horsepower gasoline engines, is 44 ft. 4 in. long, 10 ft. 6 in. high, accommodates 50 passengers and is said by its sponsors to reduce the passenger per mile cost of operation to one-third the cost in coaches pulled by a locomotive. The car, built of chrome molybdenum steel and duralumin, has a speed of 90 miles an hour.

NOLTE OPPOSES CITY FINANCING HOUSING

Objects to Government Competing With Real Estate Owners for Tenants.

Comptroller Nolte told reporters today he would oppose any expenditure of city funds for a housing project, designed by the City Plan Commission for improvement of blighted areas. The commission has suggested that the Federal Government should be asked for a grant to meet the greater part of the cost of $5,000,000 or more, and has asked for $1000 to complete its survey and plans for presentation.

"I don't think the Government and city should go into competition with owners of real estate," Nolte said. "There are plenty of suitable dwellings to be had at low rentals, now vacant, and their owners should have a chance to rent them as soon as possible, without having the Government and the city step in and put up competing buildings."

Mayor Dickmann, who has previously expressed an unfavorable view of the plan, said today he still doubted whether any city money should be expended in this manner, even the $1000 needed for completion of the plans. His grounds of objection are similar to the Comptroller's.

Real Estate Exchange's View.

The Mayor, after hearing the plans outlined Wednesday, asked that they be laid before the Real Estate Exchange and the local chapter of the American Institute of Architects. He was informed today by Secretary Lang of the Real Estate Exchange that the directors would not oppose the $1000 appropriation, but would not commit themselves at this time as to the main question of the proposed improvement. The architects are to meet Tuesday.

Chester A. Dougherty, president of the Exchange, talked with members of the board of directors yesterday, and informed Harland Bartholomew, engineer of the commission, that they would not oppose the present request for an appropriation, and would not approve or disapprove the plans themselves until the plans have been made ready for presentation to the Federal authorities.

"We think it likely that the commission's survey will show interesting and valuable facts," Dougherty said. "They may then light on the serious problems, which we all recognize, of vacancies and delinquent taxes in the blighted districts. Private capital is not likely to go into those districts with new buildings. The City Plan Commission thinks it may be done with help from the Federal Government."

"Before the real estate men can give an opinion on the plan, they will need to know what the set-up is, as between the Government grant and local funds; also whether the new buildings would be taxable."

ST. LOUIS BANKERS DRAFTING COMPETITIVE CODE UNDER NRA

It Will Provide Uniform Hours, Maximum Interest, and Trust Service Fees.

The St. Louis Clearing House Association and the Associated Bankers of St. Louis are drafting a code of fair competition under the NRA banking code, approved Oct. 16 by President Roosevelt. Richard S. Hawes, president of the Clearing House Association, said today.

The code for St. Louis, subject to approval by Washington authority, will provide uniform banking hours, maximum interest rates, service charges and fees for trust services, and will seek to reduce to a minimum the liability of banks under the deposit insurance fund.

The code provides for collective bargaining, prohibits restriction of employees in organizing, and stipulates minimum wages.

PICKETS AND POLICE CLASH

Tear Gas Bombs Used at South Carolina Mills.

By the Associated Press.

BATH, S. C., Oct. 27.—State highway police clashed with a group of pickets at the Bath mill of the Loring chain of mills here today and hurled tear gas bombs to scatter crowds which were seeking to prevent workers from entering the mill.

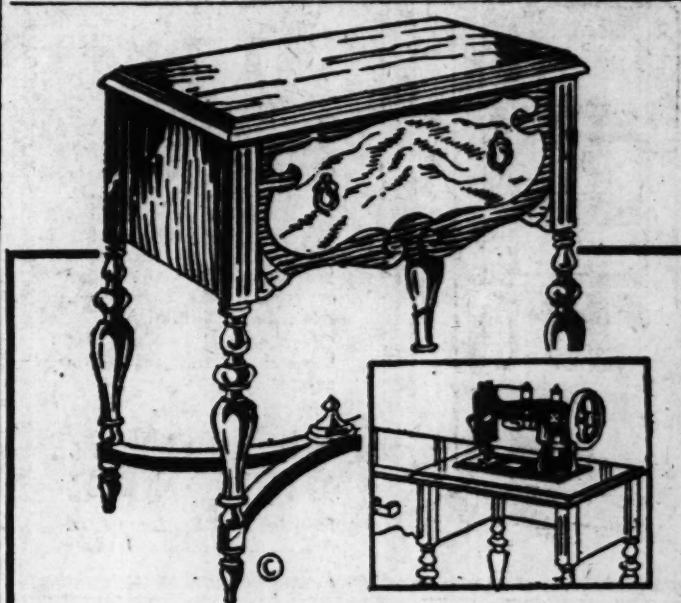

The pickets appeared at the mill as the morning shift started to work. There were a few minor disorders, and a foreman in the spinning room of the mill was struck by a brick thrown through a mill window. Two men, apparently members of the picketing group, suffered head injuries. The mill continued operations, although with a somewhat curtailed force. Striking workers in the Augusta mills had announced they would picket the mills in this area in an effort to close them.

MEADOWBROOK SUIT DROPPED

Settlement With Former Judge T. L. Anderson Announced.

A suit by former Circuit Judge Thomas L. Anderson to set aside the sale of Meadowbrook Country Club was dismissed at Clayton yesterday by Circuit Judge Nolte after a stipulation was filed by Anderson. It was announced that a satisfactory settlement had been made with Anderson, who held $3000 in the club's bonds.

The club has been sold to William Berberich, hotel owner and operator of a delivery service, who will take over the property Nov. 1. The purchase price was announced as $130,000. Anderson filed his suit before announcement was made of the purchase price.

POLICE CHIEFS' IDEAS ON CRIME PREVENTION

Eight Recommendations Made to Attorney-General on Government's Position.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27. — Eight recommendations for improving the Government's position in its campaign against criminals were presented to Attorney-General Cummings yesterday on behalf of the International Association of Chiefs of Police.

The association had been requested by Cummings to set forth its suggestions through its Emergency Crime Committee. Philip T. Bell, Police Chief of Kearny, N. J., former president of the International Association, and Peter Sicaardi, Chief of Bergen County, N. J., represented the committee.

The recommendations included: Revision of laws of criminal procedure in order to hasten trials.

Establishment of a universal fingerprinting system.

Permanence of tenure of office for heads of Police Departments who would be appointed by a non-political board and removed only on specific charges considered in an open hearing by the board.

Refusal of bail for any criminal awaiting trial for a felony, awaiting a new trial, or pending an appeal.

Making it a Federal offense for any person to go from one state to another after committing a felony.

Making it a Federal offense to transfer stolen property from one state to another.

Making it a Federal offense to transport firearms or offensive weapons from one state to another without special permit.

Appointment of all Judges of Criminal Courts for life contingent on good behavior.

ULSTER M. P. SHOT BUT ROUTS HIS ASSAILANTS WITH CANE

Two Men Get Away With Victim's Satchel Containing Parliamentary Papers.

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, Oct. 27.—Major J. H. McCormick, a member of the Ulster Parliament, was shot last night by two assailants.

Major McCormick is well known in Canada where he was Sheriff of Lloyds Minister and raised a force known as McCormick's Devils in the World War.

He was walking home when two men held him up and fired three shots at him from a revolver. One bullet grazed his chest and lodged in an arm. Despite the wounds, McCormick fought his assailants and dealt one of them a severe blow in the face with his cane. He continued his resistance with such vigor that the attackers fled. One, however, grabbed McCormick's satchel containing parliamentary papers which had been dropped in the struggle.

Early in August Carol Took up Camay...

Good features... yes! But how dull her skin! Then one day a green and yellow package caught Carol's eye. And now she uses Camay.

In less than two weeks Carol saw improvement in her skin. Its new clear texture allows the color to show through. Others noticed it, too! Men now frankly admire her. For today Carol is winning her Beauty Contest with honors!

3 "Theatre parties... dances... a full date book! I'm having a wonderful time... now that I have a lovely Camay Complexion."

Now She Wins Her Beauty Contest Every Day!

It's nice to read about romance. But how much better it is to live it!

All the world loves a pretty girl... the girl with a Camay Complexion.

YOU ARE IN A BEAUTY CONTEST

And all the world... men and women, too, are judging your looks in life's daily Beauty Contest. Take a tip from Carol, the girl above, and don't let a poor skin spoil your chances. For in your own home, or perhaps at a party, some good friend or new acquaintance is sure to appraise your beauty. You can't help your features. But every girl... who really desires it... can greatly improve her skin.

So get yourself a Camay Complexion. Your skin will have a texture like satin... a new clear radiance that will add to your charm. Then compliments... praise... admiration will soon follow. You'll see approval in men's eyes.

THE SOAP OF BEAUTIFUL WOMEN

Camay, the Soap of Beautiful Women, is a wonderful help... that can definitely affect your beauty! Try Camay a month... use it twice every day... and watch for the flattering results in your skin!

For, in all your life, you've never known so mild a soap. It's pure... creamy-white... delicately scented... and gives lavish, luxuriant lather.

"My twin sister and I both use Camay," wrote a girl from Rhode Island. "We think it's a grand skin soap."

Thousands of clever women use Camay in preference to all other soaps. And more thousands each day are taking up the Soap of Beautiful Women!

Get Camay today... in the green and yellow wrapper, in Cellophane. It's the 1933 beauty soap... the smartest looking, best feeling soap of the year. And the price is amazingly low!

RETAILERS FIGHT SALES TAX BILLS AT FIRST HEARING

Spokesman Tells Legislators Gov. Park's Proposed Levy Would Add to Stores' NRA Burden.

WILLIAM HIRTH ALSO AGAINST IT

Farmers' Association Head Thinks It Should Come Only as Last Resort—State Teachers for It.

By BOYD F. CARROLL, Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 27. — Gov. Park's proposed general sales tax for emergency unemployment relief and rehabilitation of public school and State finances encountered its first organized opposition from representatives of retail merchants and one farm organization at the first hearing last night before the House Ways and Means Committee.

Discussion of the four sales tax bills pending before the committee, which differ only in rates and details of assessing the tax, will be resumed at another hearing Tuesday afternoon.

The bills, or a possible committee substitute combining them, likely will not be reported out by the committee for another week.

Opponents in Majority.

Opponents of the bills, who were in the majority last night centered their attack on arguments that the tax was discriminatory and would impose unreasonable burdens on business and those least able to pay the tax. The Legislature was urged to devise some other means of obtaining the required additional revenue.

Supporters of the sales tax will present their views at the next hearing, at which opponents also will be heard. The only advocates of the tax appearing last night were two representatives of the State Teachers' Association.

A strong undercurrent of opposition to the sales tax is evident in both houses, but no actual test will be reached in the House, where the bills were introduced, until after a report is made by the committee. Some opponents of the sales tax have indicated they may support it, however, on final vote, if no other means of raising the necessary revenue is found.

Speaks for Missouri Retailers.

G. J. Nooney of St. Louis, Baer & Fuller Co., of St. Louis, appeared as spokesman for the Missouri Retailers' Association, of which he is president. He said the organization was opposed to a sales tax.

Outlining the association's position, Nooney said a sales tax was unsound and discriminatory and would retard business. He said research had disclosed that no group of retailers showed a profit for 1932 business, but on the contrary suffered losses varying from 1 to 6 per cent of net sales, depending on volume. Reports so far indicate heavier losses for 1933, he added.

He declared the levying of a sales tax would hinder the "Buy Now" campaign of the National Recovery Administration, and would add to the increased expenses incurred by retailers under the NRA program.

Nooney's statement was approved before the hearing at a meeting of leaders of the association. Among those who attended were Morton May, president of Famous & Barr Co., and Frank W. Mayfield, president of Scruggs-Vandervoort-Barnes, of St. Louis; C. C. Peters and M. R. Aaron, representing two large retail stores of Kansas City; R. E. L. Lambkin of Cape Girardeau; C. H. Sonnenberg of Hannibal and Marvin L. Brownlow of Springfield.

William Hirth of Columbia, president of the Missouri Farmers' Association, said he believed there was an overwhelming sentiment in the State against a general sales tax. He said such a tax should not be levied except as a last resort.

He suggested taxes on amusements and tobacco and increases in the corporation franchise and beer taxes as possible ways of increasing revenues.

Teachers Argue for the Tax.

Passage of the bills was urged by Miles A. Hill of Lebanon, and School Superintendent William F. Knox of Jefferson City, representing the State Teachers' Association, to provide additional funds for the schools. Both declared the tax an equitable one, which would not injure the retailers but would be passed on to the consumers. Specific provisions of the bills were not discussed. Two of the bills provide a tax of 2 per cent on gross receipts of retail sales and the other two provide a tax of 1 per cent on such sales.

By Whites in St. Louis as Result Of Higher Pay Under NRA CodesUrban League Reports Some Had Been With Firms for Years—Rise in Number on Relief Rolls Indicated.Negro leaders of St. Louis share the concern which has been given expression in Washington that their race may suffer rather than be helped by the National Recovery program.Instances of Negro employees being displaced by white workers when code provisions made their jobs more profitable and desirable have been compiled by the Urban League and forwarded to the Rosenwald Foundation, which has investigated itself in the national aspects of the problem.In another phase of the recovery program, public works, the St. Louis Negro finds little to encourage him because skilled Negro workmen are barred from existing labor unions and can find employment on public works only at common labor.The largest field of employment open to Negroes, domestic service, is not touched by any code. Yet as the costs of living rise under the NRA, the expenses of 93,000 St.
Louis Negroes increase proportionately.

Relief Figures for Negroes.

Peter Kasius, director of Citizens' Committee on Relief and Employment, does not doubt that an increasing percentage of those now applying for relief are Negroes, although definite figures are lacking.
The committee has estimated that Negroes, who constitute 11.4 per cent of the city's population, represent 40 per cent of those who have required relief.John T. Clark, secretary of the Urban League, points out that the displacement of Negroes by white workers has been a tendency all through the depression as the competition for jobs became keener and as white workers, forced out of their usual employment, turned to the more menial tasks which theretofore had been left to the Negroes.Impetus has been lent to this tendency, Clark says, by the NRA codes which establish minimum rates of pay and regulate working conditions. During the past three months, he says, there have come to the attention of the Urban League 126 instances of white workers taking the places of Negroes in instances in which Negroes had worked for a period of years.Not in every case was the NRA directly responsible, as some changes might have been made in accordance with the previously developed tendency, but there were many instances in which Negroes who had worked for from $3 to $10 a week, were replaced by white workers immediately after their employers adopted a code providing for higher wages and shorter hours.Explanation Given Negroes.
In no such instance was the Negro told that he was discharged because the new conditions made possible employment of a white worker, but the explanation was given that other workers objected to the employment of Negroes, or that tenants or customers objected.Among the Negroes recently replaced by white workers were four janitors and maids at a private school, none of whom had been employed there for less than six years.
The Urban League consulted with the school authorities, and its representative was told that while the work of the Negroes had been satisfactory, it was desired to give the work to needy white families in the vicinity.A Negro porter in an Olive street restaurant, employed there for twoyears at $7 a week, was replaced by a white man when his employer put up a Blue Eagle, and two who had worked in a restaurant and grocery for $10 were let out under similar circumstances. In another case a Negro porter, discharged when his employer adopted a code, had been paid only $3 a week. An Olive street furniture store which had employed a Negro maid for seven years at $7.50 a week, replaced her with a white woman when the code required a minimum wage of $14.At Disadvantage in Finding Job.
Not only is the Negro suffering by losing his present job to the white worker, but the same conditions place him at a relatively greater disadvantage when it comes to finding a new job.This is apparent from an examination of Citizens' Committee records which show that in a predominantly Negro group of 2743 families receiving relief in September, only nine cases were closed at the end of the month because the family wage earner had found work.
In a predominantly white group of 2887, the cases closed by re-employment totaled 179.A somewhat different conclusion is indicated in the records of two selected groups of 500, one white and the other Negro. Families in these groups were selected for special consideration because their only difficulty was unemployment, there were no social or health problems involved, and, in general, they represented the most employable type of workers, who had been able to sustain themselves through the depression until quite recently.Out of these groups 75 white workers and 76 Negroes found employment during the month. It was observed, however, that while most of the white workers returned to their regular jobs, the Negroes earned less in their new jobs than they had formerly, and many of them were in temporary work or odd jobs.

Clark Urges Organization.

Clark holds the view that the most effective means of obtaining for the Negro his full share of NRA benefits is by direct action. "We must organize our economic strength and spend what incomes we have where the Negro is given a chance to earn," he said.Already, Clark added, there is in the Negro community west of Grand boulevard a move to withhold patronage from a chain grocery because a Negro clerk there, formerly employed full time, is working only a few hours a week under the rearrangement of hours brought about by the NRA code.The league, he said, plans to form unions of skilled Negroes in the building trades in the hope of sharing in jobs created by public works and to proceed with these organizations with or without recognition by the American Federation of Labor.
The new City Hospital for Negroes, he pointed out, is being built for Negroes in a Negro neighborhood, but members of that race can obtain employment there only as hod carriers or common laborers. This, he said, is an indication of what the Negro can expect from a public works program, unless something is done about it.The first step in the formation of Negro unions was taken Monday night when hotel workers, under the sponsorship of the Urban League, formed a union which has obtained recognition by the Hotel
Men's Association.NAZIS WORK ON SWEEPING

BERLIN, Oct. 27.—A revolutionthe German press yesterday. He said various sub-commissions aland civil codes with a view to adapting them to the Nazi concep-

Another prominent part in the new penal code, according to Dr.
Frank, will be occupied by "the protection of the race by sterilizing habitual criminals and other inferior elements."

FRANCE'S POSITION ON TARIFF

GENEVA, Oct. 27.—France, still adhering to the tariff truce declared in London, intends to reserve its Parliament's right of initiative in tariff matters.
This stand was officially announced yesterday in a statement which said France had asked the League of Nations to inform the President of the World Economic Conference that France was obliged for constitutional reasons to reserve the right of initiative. It also was obliged "like various other Governments" said the announcement, "to reserve the right to make any arrangements which protection of vital interests of the country may render necessary."

ANKARA, Turkey, Oct. 27.—
When the tenth anniversary of the founding of the Turkish Republic is celebrated Sunday, one of the 201 planes to fly over this city will be a symbol of emancipation of women in Turkey. In that plane will be Turkey's first woman aviator, 22-year-old Bedri Hanım, who will fly from the Civil Aviation School at Istanbul, where she has just received her pilot's license.During these 10 years of reform Mustafa Kemal has released womharems.The new civil code and the new tradition with which Kemal replaced ancient tradition made city women, and peasant women, too, so far as it has been possible to reach them in the lonely stretches of Anatolia, just as free as men to marry, divorce, work, dress and amuse themselves as they desire. It also made them free as men to starve.It is not a very happy picture—that of these emancipated women laboring in factories for 30 cents a day, driving at typewriters for $45 a month, or playing bridge and poker in fashionable salons.Emancipation is certainly at its happiest in the schools. Here Turkish girls and young women have the chance to learn what to do with the new freedom; how to make real professions out of the jobs which the women of today frequently are plunging into merely as a means of keeping the wolf from to Brawl With Hotel Doorman.

Mallorca (or Majorca), largest of the Balearic Islands, about 160 miles west in the Mediterranean from Valencia, Spain, has developed a considerable colony of foreign visitors since the depression because of moderate living costs. There were 11,000 visitors on the island last winter, most of them Americans. Because of differences in manner and means of living, Mallorcans have not been especially cordial toward the winter colonists.The case in which the five Americans were acquitted at Palma arose from an incident at Hotel Mediterraneo in that city. According to Rutherford Fullerton, 53 years old, a veteran of the Spanish-American War, and a grandnephew of President Hayes, one of the party of Americans got into a row with a doorman at the hotel. The doorman called the Civil Guard and the American called his friends.There was a brawl.
Resisting a policeman in Spain is not the same thing as in the United States. In Spain the police are part of the military establishment and offenders against the police are subject to trial by the military authorities under military law. The five Americans landed in jail and were held without bail. This was on June 4 last.At length the case was called to the attention of the State Department in Washington, and finally after six weeks, United States Ambassador Claude G. Bowers, succeeded in effecting their release on bail.

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles; that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight for the rights of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare; never be satisfied with merely passing the buck, always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Conditions in the Postal Service.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

YOUR editorial on civil service of Oct. 21 drew the proper conclusion in its premises had been correct. However, they were faulty. If it were true that all the supervisory officials were chosen from the rank and file of the department for their ability, leadership or any other sterling quality, it would be a rank injustice to remove them from the positions they merited. Unfortunately, this is not the case. Once the applicant obtains his or her appointment in the department, the rules of civil service seem to be ended unless he or she is to be removed for cause.

Because of the nature of work in the postal service, there must be shifts of men employed all day and all night. As the majority of the mail is handled at night, necessarily the greater number of employees must be used on the early and late night shifts. However, there are a number of preferable day tours, and also a number of employees are used in the various substations in the day time. Naturally, seniority rules should apply, but, unfortunately, they do not. Outside influences are used to obtain these better assignments. Both political and fraternal connections are strained to the utmost to obtain these appointments. The same thing is true about the supervisory positions. Approximately 5 per cent of the promotions in the postal service are attributable to ability. The other 95 per cent find their fountain head in either a political or a fraternal connection.

At the termination of the last Democratic postmaster in St. Louis, practically every supervisory official was reduced in rank and in addition some 70 employees, who were under the civil service regulations, were removed from their positions and placed upon the substitute list. Practically all supervisors who were removed had been in their positions because of seniority, but nevertheless were removed and replaced by other men, all of them having political or fraternal connections of the proper kind. However, two wrongs never justify a right, and the mere fact that it happened before would not condone it now.

If the supervisors who are being replaced now were all competent and deserved their positions, the writer would be the first to take up a pen in their behalf. However, he knows from personal experience, having been employed in the postoffice in St. Louis some seven or eight years and having worked under practically all the supervisors, that possibly 95 per cent are incompetent and merely serve their positions of authority. The other 5 per cent could not hold a position if they were not for the fact that they are protected by the civil service laws. Of course, in the supervisory body of the postal service, there are some who hold their positions because of ability and merit, but that percentage is very small, and can easily be ascertained by the work that these supervisors perform.

The writer is not attempting to justify the removal of employees in the service without cause. The point that he desires to make is that the civil service regulations appear to end when the appointment is made. If the new Postmaster in St. Louis will make his recommendations for promotions on ability and seniority, rather than upon connections and "pull," he will be doing something that very few Postmasters have done in the past.

A Reply to Col. McCormick.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

COL. ROBERT R. MCCORMICK'S blast against the NRA, as spread upon this page of Wednesday under a two-column headline, contains a few errors of fact.

(1) "A year ago, citizens, you were doing business," etc., etc. Where? Not even the taxpayers, to whom he was speaking, were doing much; least of all in Chicago.

(2) "Your property was your own," etc., etc. How many foreclosures had the Chicago Tribune, published by Col. McCormick, recorded up to a year ago? What about the "property" of hundreds of thousands of farmers and home owners? What about the billions in closed banks, who held that "property"? It is true there were huge estates and holdings held, some fabulous salaries (or pensions), even in Chicago, where the school teachers were owed $200,000,000 in unpaid salaries. The Tribune itself carried the story about the police being called on two successive days into the city's financial district. Long bread lines everywhere, actual starvation, in the richest country on earth, fears spreading, chaos in the streets. What Col. McCormick longs to return to?

So far as I know, only one prominent Chicago citizen escaped all this turmoil; he fled to Greece. But everyone knows that the NRA has NOT deprived any American citizen of a single right (not even the right to use a prominent position for purposes of criticism, nor taken a penny's worth of property from anybody. When Col. McCormick bitterly complains that American citizens are helpless, he is betraying the prejudices of his class; it does begin to look like they were going to be deprived of their ruthless domination over the inherited rights of the rest of us.

THE RETAIL CODE.

The President's approval of the retail code brings the last of the major business groups in the country under the supervision of a code authority. Like the codes which have preceded it, the new constitution of the retail trade has emerged from the modification process a much better document than the one which went in. The consumer, in particular, can rejoice that the efforts which were made to write resale price maintenance and cost-plus prices into the code ended finally in failure.

The Recovery Administration rejected the provision of the drug code which would have permitted the manufacturer of drug products, in effect, to dictate the price at which they could be sold at retail, and would have made it impossible for any one retailer to sell them at a lower price than any other. For the provision which would have denounced as unfair competition the sale of any product at less than its wholesale cost plus 10 per cent, it has stipulated one which prevents sales below invoice cost, with the added stipulation that the retail price "should" include an allowance for store wages which is to be computed by the trade authority. This compromise will check uneconomic use of the "loss leader" practice, without introducing the dangerous precedent of establishing a fixed margin of profit for all retail units.

The provision which prohibited a merchant from advertising a policy of generally underselling his competitors has been changed so that it prohibits such advertising only when it is "inaccurate." This leaves every retailer to compete, if he chooses to do so, on a price rather than service basis and permits him to inform the consumer of this policy. The Post-Dispatch has consistently opposed the resale price maintenance, cost-plus and price advertising provisions which appeared in the original draft of the code. None of these provisions remains in the code which now goes into operation.

The administration has introduced still further safeguards for the protection of the consumer. Consumers' co-operative stores are permitted to give to their customers rebates based on earnings, although the granting of rebates is denied to establishments operating on a commercial basis. A further provision limits the increase in retail prices over those which prevailed in June to that amount which may be necessary to cover the increased costs necessitated by the requirements of the NRA.

Similarly wise, in our view, is the suspension of the questionable prison labor provisions of the code. The respite of 90 days will give administrators of prison industries some opportunity to adjust their sales to the altered trade situation. Exemption of establishments employing less than five clerks, in towns under 2500 population, also seems expedient. It will greatly simplify the task of administration.

The emphasis of the whole document is properly placed upon its labor provisions. It outlaws child labor. It sets minimum wages and prohibits the reduction of wages which were above this minimum. It limits weekly hours to 56 in the drug trade and to a maximum ranging from 40 to 48 in other retail establishments, with limited exceptions for such peak periods as inventory and the Christmas shopping weeks. It leaves the way open to collective bargaining in a field where labor organization is, as yet, virtually non-existent.

It cannot be denied that the code presents difficult problems of enforcement. Stores selling below invoice cost, plus wage allowance, will be able to claim that they are legitimately clearing stock, discontinuing lines or disposing of damaged or perishable commodities. Prevention of price boosting beyond the added costs imposed by the NRA would require an examination of the books of the individual retailer, which seems to be utterly out of the question. Consumers, competitors and employees will have to do their part by complaining against violations of the code rules if the plan is to work successfully. Actual administration will be in the hands of local committees, regional advisory committees, national retail and drug councils, and, finally, national retail and drug authorities, which include in their membership representatives of the Recovery Administration. There is now the task of implementing the policies enunciated in the code. It is a formidable one, but it is one well worth doing and one in which we wish them all success.

GRAF ZEPPPELIN'S CHICAGO FLIGHT.

Though disappointed for the third time in his hope of seeing the Graf Zeppelin, St. Louis joins in the widespread admiration of the great dirigible in its present flight to the United States from Germany, via Brazil, on the occasion of the Chicago fair. Adulation persists, though the precision and uniform success of the Graf's flight have long ago banished novelty from its exploits. Its log records more than 430,000 miles of air travel, the transport of 17,500 passengers, 44,092 pounds of mail and 81,570 pounds of freight. The forthcoming homeward flight will be the ship's fiftieth Atlantic passage.

The only flaw we can find in this record is that the many miles of travel have not included the St. Louis district. It is to be regretted that Dr. Eckener was unable to use the mooring mast at Scott Field, near Belleville, on this voyage. While somewhat off the course in the dirigible's flight from the southeast, Scott Field actually is about 80 miles nearer Chicago than is Akron, where the ship was moored. We reiterate the community's standing invitation: Drop in any time, Dr. Eckener, when you're out this way.

CASE DISMISSED.

Al Smith has tossed away his brown derby, now wears a black one, and talks "like the rising hope of the stern, unbending Tories."

The United States Supreme Court has refused to review the decision of the Missouri Supreme Court upholding the procedure by which Missouri ratified the repeal amendment. This was to have been expected. The petition for review never amounted to more than the blind adherence of the Missouri Anti-Saloon League to a position which ignored public opinion, not only in Missouri, but throughout the nation. The Blaine resolution, submitting the repeal amendment, called for action by state conventions rather than by Legislatures. Missouri complied with this order of Congress, choosing its convention delegates in an election at large. This was a fair and orderly procedure. To attempt to set it aside by raising the question of whether the Legislature performed a Federal or State function in calling the election and convention was to rely on legal technicality, something in which the average citizen has no interest. Repeal is assured. Thirty-three states have voted to ratify repeal. Six more will vote Nov. 7. No group knows better than the panel of jurists who sit on the United States Supreme Court that legal precedent follows after custom and that the voice of the people speaks the law of the land.

ISSUE OF THE LAUNDRY LOCKOUT.

To forestall unionization of the industry and to resist demands which they felt to be unreasonable, the large laundries of St. Louis have closed their plants and locked out their workers. At the time of the lockout, drivers of eight laundries and linen and towel supply companies had walked out on a strike, because the companies had refused to recognize or negotiate with their union. It seemed probable the strike would spread, so the companies decided to become the aggressors and to present their case to the public.

It was feasible for the companies to do this, for they have a closely-knit central organization, known as the St. Louis Laundry Board of Trade, through which they can act as a unit. In other words, the laundry owners have a powerful union of their own, but they do not want their employees to have one. The companies' fear of what would happen if they were compelled to deal with their employees collectively, instead of separately, is intense. They say it would mean "virtual transfer of laundry management from owners to professional labor leaders."

That, of course, is an exaggeration. Many employers are dealing with labor unions today without a transfer of sovereignty. As a matter of fact, 27 St. Louis laundries, which, with one exception, are not members of the Laundry Board of Trade, have organized the drivers' union and are operating. It is safe to say they are operating at full capacity, for the lockout of the larger laundries has seriously inconvenienced the people of St. Louis, and they are being forced to resort to all sorts of makeshifts to get their clothing and linen washed.

We have no opinion on the demands made by the drivers. Although 27 companies have found it possible to meet them, it may be that they are unreasonable. But the real issue is not the character of those demands. It is unionization. The laundry owners are unwilling to give up a measure of the old freedom they enjoyed in dealing with their employees. Like the men's clothing manufacturers, they seem to be unaware that the times have changed. Again, like the men's clothing manufacturers, the laundry owners are flying the Blue Eagle, but they do not want to accept the Blue Eagle's terms, in so far as Section 7 of NIRA is concerned.

It is precisely Section 7, guaranteeing workers the right to organize and bargain collectively, that dooms the laundry lockout to failure. It cannot continue indefinitely. Nor can the laundry owners flout Section 7. They are no different from other employers, who have resisted it with all their power and who have run to Washington to seek merit clauses in their codes, only to return without them. If the big steel, coal and oil barons are unable to get around Section 7, what chance have the local laundry owners?

Most industrial disputes under NIRA have been precipitated by employees. In this one, industry is the aggressor. It prefers to throw thousands of persons out of work, neglect its customers and tie up its huge plant investment rather than to extend to employees a right guaranteed by law. One of the hardest lessons we have to learn in the new era is better to balance power between capital and labor and so bring about a greater diffusion of the national wealth. The laundry industry must learn this lesson, and, unless we are mistaken, it is learning it. Anyway, the school bell is ringing.

AUTUMN STILL-LIFE.

The hill-top fire of a solitary hickory, its towering gold shot through with the black of massive trunk and branches; a grove of ancient oaks, young again in rich plaids of sepi, green and bronze; the scarlet of maples and the alternating verdure of pines reflected in the silvery blue of an Ozark lake. An amber slope of waist-high sassafras; the dull burning of a plum orchard; the blood-red pennons of woodbine against a stone wall. Gray morning mist hiding the shallow water of the marsh and opal dew on the brownish meadow. A cluster of cobalt cornflowers in a rail fence corner and a red squirrel sitting bolt upright under a dogwood tree. The vast bowl of a haze-stepped valley and the spectrum spilled around it in gleams, gay patches and far-reaching splashes. A winding creek, edged with willows, their slanting green as fresh as April; day's end on the river, mother-of-pearl and glints of rose; a thin paring of lemon peel hanging against a chill, night sky.

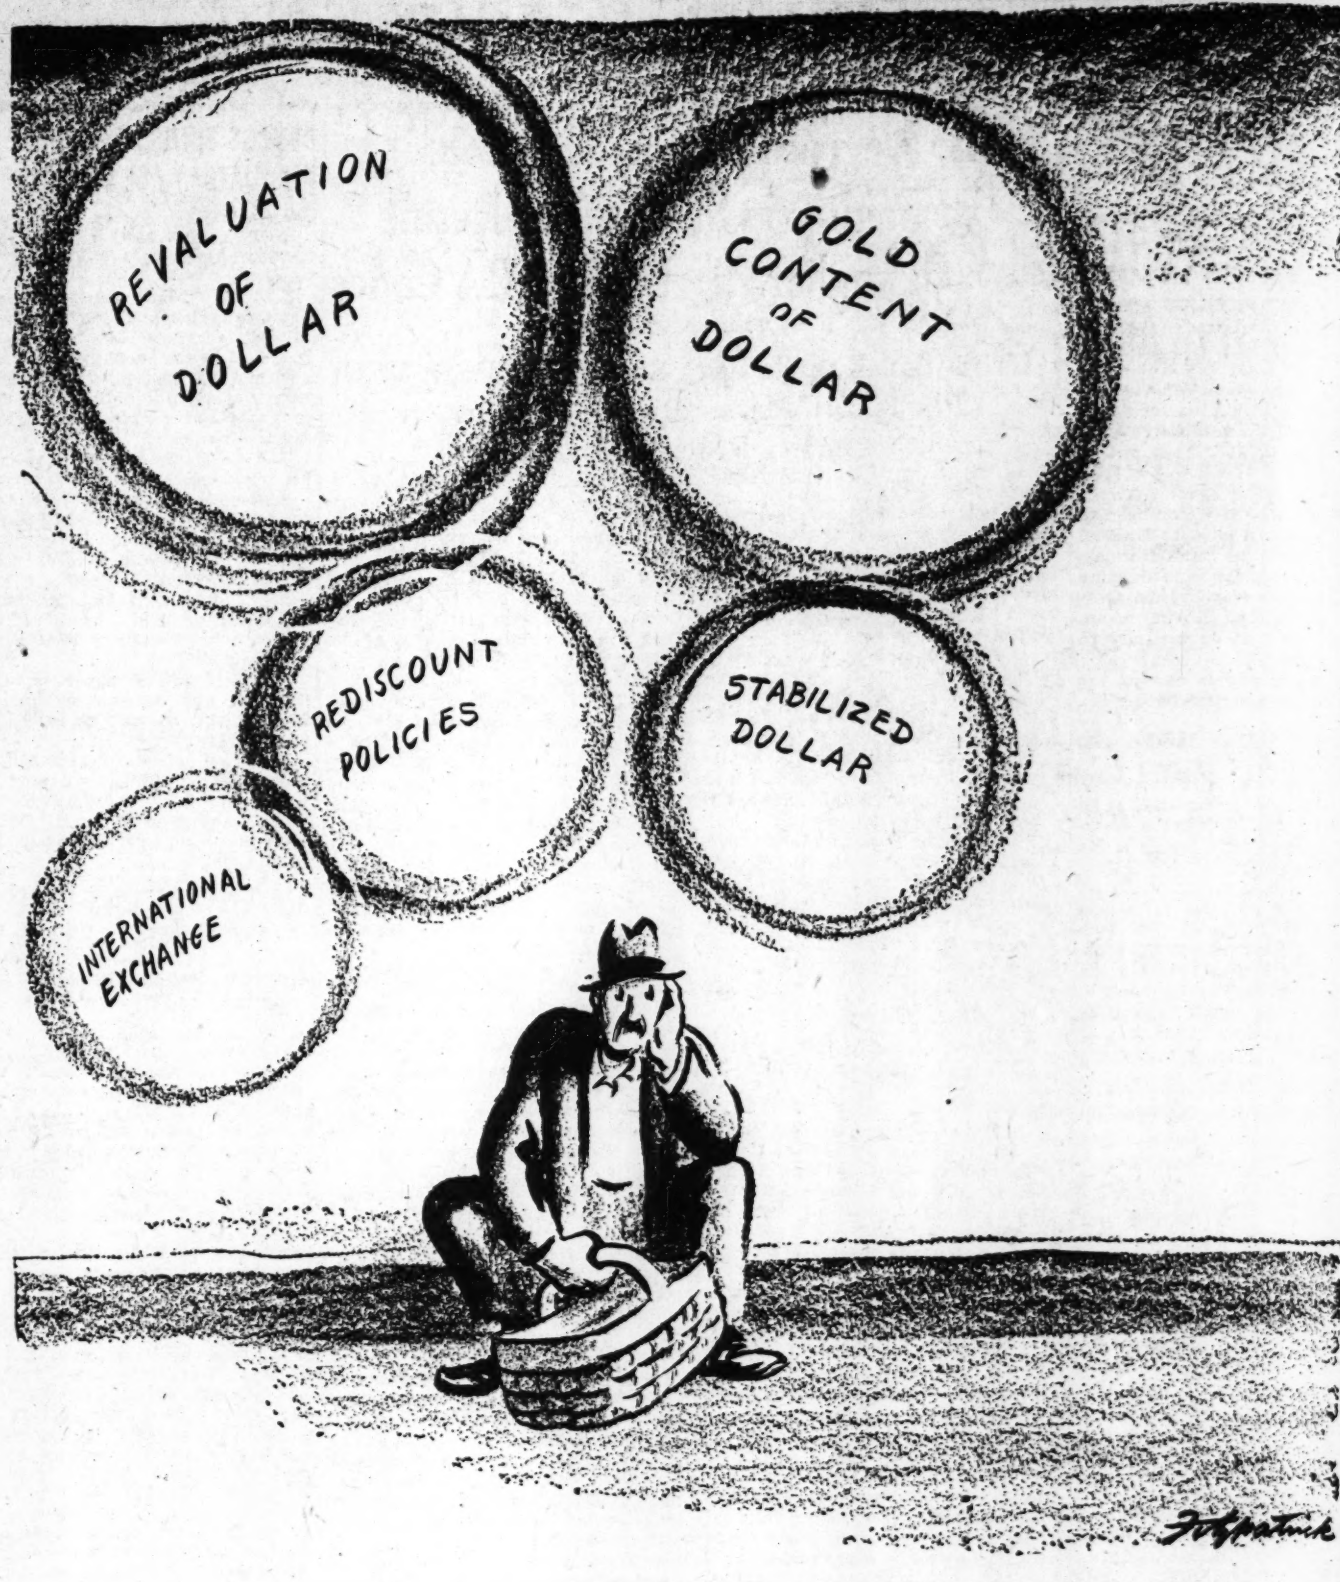

THE TRUTH, BUT NOT THE WHOLE TRUTH.

When the Chase National Bank, in 1930, offered $40,000,000 of Cuban bonds to American investors, the prospectus stated that Cuba's funded debt was $87,000,000. In addition, there was $20,000,000 held by the public in the form of serial certificates. The prospectus did not say that Cuba also owed the Chase bank and associates $40,000,000. The explanation to the Senate committee for the omission is that this was an existing, not an outstanding, obligation. To the average person, that would seem to be a distinction without a difference; but international bankers, of course, are not average persons.

With the sale of the bonds, the debt to the Chase and associate banks was paid. According to counsel for the Chase bank, the investor was not misled, because Cuba's finances were exactly the same after the sale as before. That statement is undoubtedly true; but there's a trick in it, just the same. The bonds discharged a debt which the American investor, depending on the prospectus of the Chase bank, knew nothing about. And if the American investor, after the transaction, had been told that Cuba's bonded debt was now, not $87,000,000, but $40,000,000 more than that, or $127,000,000, he possibly would have rubbed his eyes.

Perhaps he wouldn't. For though the year was 1930 and notwithstanding the market crash of 1929, the American investor in foreign bonds was still a trusting soul, still had implicit confidence in the genius and integrity of our international bankers, still believed in fairies, and the terrible valley of disillusion he has since traveled still lay smiling before him in beckoning greenery and seductive foliage.

But it is fortunate for Mr. Wiggin, then head of the Chase bank and responsible for its operations, that he was not doing his magician's stuff in England. Had London been his home town, instead of New York, and he left out the item of that $40,000,000 debt Mr. Wiggin would have gone to jail—to the same jail, possibly, Lord Kylsant was sent to, and for a longer term.

THE CLASS IN ECONOMICS.

TODAY and TOMORROW

By Walter Lippmann

Aspects of the Currency Experiment

THE Government's monetary policy has been inaugurated in a reasonably calm atmosphere. The financial markets here and abroad are obviously bewildered. But they are not panicky. While few of the recognized authorities profess to understand the policy, while most of those who think they understand it disbelieve in it, the disposition is clearly to accept the decision and to judge the experiment by the results as they are made manifest.

Several circumstances have contributed to this sober and matter-of-fact mood. The first is the moderation of the first move: the raising of the buying price of an ounce of newly-mined American gold by only 27 cents over the world price. This has been taken, and presumably with good reason, as evidence that, in executing the policy, the administration itself intends to feel its way rather than to plump for a doctrinaire solution. For the Government's own action in dealing with the price is far less violent than has been the action of international speculators during the past four months.

A second steady element is the realization that, in taking the control of the gold value of the dollar out of the hands of the speculators and into its own hands, the Government is in a position to introduce order and purpose where there has been chance and disorder. For the Government has the power not only to raise the price of gold by buying it but it has the power to lower the price by selling gold.

The power is not merely formal. It is actual power, derived from the fact that the United States possesses two-fifths of the monetary gold of the world. Therefore, whatever men may think of the experiment, they know that, with the exception of France, there is no other country that has such enormous resources with which to conduct it.

A third element, which on second thought tends to counteract the effects of fear and bewilderment, is the realization that the premise of such a policy as this must be an intention to return to a currency convertible into gold. This is not an adventure into fiat money, though failure through maladministration and panic might, it must be admitted, lead to fiat money. This policy, whatever else may be unclear about it, is a policy designed to re-establish a gold currency. The currency is to be revalued gradually, but the end aimed at is a stabilized and convertible currency.

direction as to where you wish to go. Above all, in the unknown, the greatest need is a stout heart; the greatest danger is fear. In this particular experiment, the greatest danger lies in exaggerated hopes and exaggerated fears. If the experiment succeeds, it will certainly not succeed suddenly. Assuming it to be true that the price level responds to the gold content of the currency, this response is not likely to be automatic and immediate.

The price structure is a very complicated thing, and it will require time for it to adjust itself upward to a cheap dollar, much as it required time for it to adjust itself downward to a dear dollar. The deflationary movement lasted from the summer of 1929 to the summer of 1932. The reflationary movement is not likely to be completed in three weeks or three months. So those who believe in the experiment must put away the impulse of optimism.

As for the pessimists, it is for them to realize that panic fear is the one sure way to bring about what they most fear. For obviously, the danger point of the policy is its possible effect on the Government's credit. The whole recovery and reconstruction effort depends upon a gigantic use of Government credit. The banking structure depends upon the condition of the Government credit. Were this policy to impair the Government's credit, it would not only be sure to fail, but it would produce disaster. It is, therefore, the first duty of the administration to watch for the effects on the Government credit; it is the duty of the rest of us, and of bankers and financiers and financial writers in particular, to throw large buckets of cold water on any manifestation of panic fear.

To my mind, the most disturbing aspect of the new policy has been, not the policy itself, but the circumstances attending its adoption. The theory that the price level will rise if gold is cheapened is, of course, debatable, but by no means improbable. My own view is that, while the short-run validity of the doctrine is extremely uncertain, its long-run validity has a rather high degree of probable truth in it. But I do not know that either proposition is certainly true, and, after much reading of monetary theory, I feel sure that nobody can be perfectly sure. If money were the subject matter of an exact science, the world would not be so confused about money.

But what historical experience does make entirely clear is that monetary policies dictated by popular agitation are almost invariably dangerous. Now this policy, though it has been under consideration for months, was obviously adopted at this particular moment by the agitation of the wheat and corn farmers of the Middle West. That agitation has good reasons behind it. But a national monetary policy which comes into being to quiet a sectional agitation is bound to be suspect. People rightly ask themselves whether the money of the whole nation is to be managed as a response to political pressure from a part of the people.

This disquieting aspect of the new policy the administration needs to remove. I think there is evidence that it has started to do that. The measures it adopted Wednesday

An Industrialist on NRA

Robert L. Lund, President, National Association of Manufacturers, and Member NRA Industrial Advisory Board, in Magazine of Wall Street.

ALTHOUGH I feel that organized labor has been unwise in its organizing activities, I believe labor and management will eventually work out a sound understanding. I do not believe the American Federation of Labor will be able to monopolize labor organization. Not more than 10 per cent of the wage earners of the industries in which it is represented are in its ranks, and the causes which have kept it from dominating the labor field will continue to operate. Selfish, unpatriotic policies will bring their own retribution.

While the readjustment that is going on under the Recovery Act has its threats, it must not be forgotten that the act offers benefits to industry. The prevention of destructive competition, the balancing of the economic equation and the co-ordination of industries, made possible under the aegis of the recovery program, are precisely the objectives toward which we have been working. They were impossible without sympathetic governmental partnership.

It will be agreed that a nation such as ours should be able to plan its affairs in such a way as to provide the highest degree of prosperity for its people. In the minds of students of national economy, the Recovery Act is viewed by some, however, with grave doubt. The socialization of industry, which has built up our national economy, it is certain that all of the wisdom that has created our industrial order must be centered on this problem. A sound solution can be found, one which will preserve the fundamental factors which have built up our industry, but, if our policy is misdirected, it is possible that the recovery program may degenerate into a bureaucratic control of the business of this country which will be utterly destructive.

BYRD'S ADVANTAGE.

From the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Admiral Byrd has it on the rest of us. When he gets to Little America, he will probably find the frozen assets he left just as valuable as they were three years ago.

for pegging the price of corn by loans have great significance. Pegging prices is not, in general, a desirable policy, but in view of the emergency in the grain and cotton areas it is not only humanly desirable but wise to take care of those distressed farmers by the use of Government money.

With the prices of these commodities pegged, the monetary policy of the Government can perhaps be insulated against the agitation of the distressed farmers. By taking care of these most urgent needs directly, the temptation to try to take care of them by manipulating the dollar is reduced. The administration may thus obtain enough of a political moratorium to enable it to make the currency experiment cautiously and without expecting immediate and special benefits to a few producers.

To make the experiment succeed, to make the experiment honest, this kind of independence is an absolute necessity. The President will require all his political genius to preserve his independence.

The DAILY MERRY GO ROUND

By DREW PEARSON and

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27. HERE is a brief stock-taking of where the U. S. A. is headed economically under the New Deal. It is based upon some reports prepared for President Roosevelt by his experts, and from other reports, entirely unofficial. It is by no means infallible.

GENERAL: The gap between Capital and Labor is widening. Big Business, ready to yield to Radical Socialism during the Bank Holiday, is now cocky, confident and fighting every inch of the way against Government regulation. Labor, meanwhile, sees its first opportunity to get something.

This growing gap is one of the most serious things confronting the country.

AGRICULTURAL: Another gap—that between farm prices and industrial prices—also is serious. It is not so much the NRA as to do other factors. One is the farmer's debt burden. The other is his inability to organize.

Under the NRA, industry can ignore the old Anti-Trust laws, can combine to fix prices, etc. Organization of most industry is easy. It is relatively concentrated in the hands of a few people.

But there are some 10,000,000 farmers. Organizing them is next to impossible. Those running the farm strike only scratch the surface numbers. Farmers won't be better off until they learn to stick to their own.

DEBTS: Lending more money to the farmers is not appreciated by them. Most of the farms are mortgaged up to the roof. More money would just bog them down. What they want are good prices for their products.

The various monetary measures proposed by Roosevelt all are for the purpose of wiping out debt burdens. With inflation, mortgages would be paid off easily. But this is a haphazard solution. Some of Roosevelt's friends claim he is afraid of more stringent measures. Capital levy would accomplish exactly the same thing, but the thought of it sends cold shivers down the spinal columns of big business.

ECONOMIC PLANNING: This is the way. The hit-and-miss system which, for instance, comes new coal mines, while others are not making money and while thousands of coal miners are out of work, can not continue. If the country is going to keep its head above water, it must plan.

Secret planning, however, will not do. Roosevelt has his hands too full right now to attempt by real study of it.

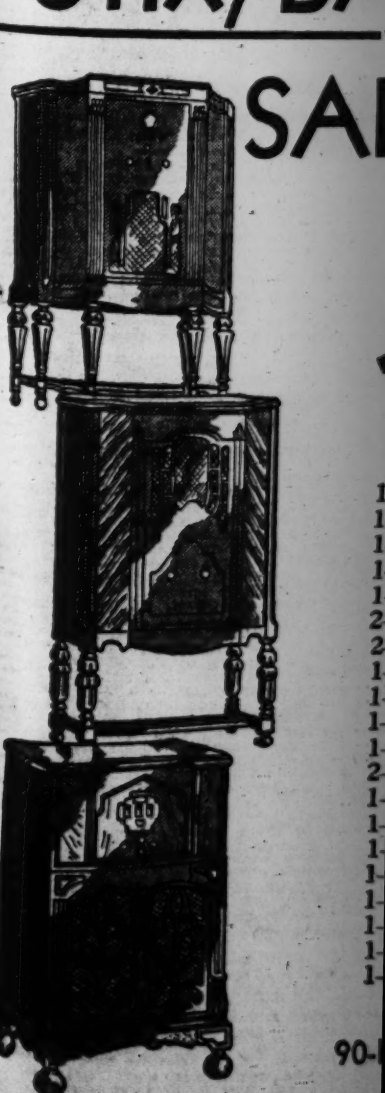

PUBLIC WORKS: A certain amount of economic planning is taking place in regard to these. At least in regard to Federal projects. The Director of the Budget is allowing no Federal jobs to be undertaken if their upkeep substantially will swell his expense. Delay in public works has been chiefly to the states and municipalities in standing up to the hammer and asking for money. There are those who think that if they can satisfy requirements.

BUSINESS: The recent upward trend is having a hard time steadying further. Retail sales failed to hold their usual seasonal gain during mid-October. The chief difficulty is that some prices have

One day his son, having just come from Harvard, went with his father while the latter made the rounds of the great banks and companies on which he serves as director.

"Well, what do you think of it, son?" asked old Henry, proudly.

"Piffle," replied the younger.

"Just pure piffle."

Note: Not long ago, Bruere threatened to cut off his son's expense money if he did not come back from Paris. Young Bruere called his bluff. He told him to go ahead. Next day he got a job running a taxi.

$14,827 BID SO FAR ON SENTER LIBRARY

$510 Paid for First Edition Riley's "The Old Swinmin' Hole."

SPECIAL to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27. — Books and manuscripts from the library of the late Charles F. Senter of St. Louis, sold at auction during the past two days at the American Art Association-Anderson Galleries, have brought $14,827. The sale will be concluded tomorrow when Senter's collection of rare medals and orders of chivalry will be offered.

The best price yesterday was $510 for a first edition of "The Old Swinmin' Hole and 'Leven More Poems," by James Whitcomb Riley, purchased by Dr. A. S. W. Rosenbach. The book was originally in the library of Eugene Field, to whom Riley had presented it.

An unusual item, which brought only $17.50, was a copy of Holbein's "Dance of Death," which bore a note on the fly-leaf stating that the binding was of human skin.

An original receipt for the treaty ceding Louisiana to the United States, catalogued as "probably the most important document relating to the Louisiana cession outside of public archives," was sold for $45.

Robert Louis Stevenson's manuscript of an unpublished story, "The Murder of a Chinaman," was sold for $175. A Robert Hoe copy of the Nuremberg Chronicle, a first edition, was sold for $270.

For a collection of autographs of Presidents of the United States, from Washington to Wilson, and a group of political mementoes, $340 was paid.

SLATKIN, ST. LOUIS VIOLINIST, GIVES SKILLFUL PERFORMANCE

Program Model for Older and More cert at Sheldon Memorial.

Felix Slatkin, St. Louis violinist, gave a recital last night at the Sheldon Memorial auditorium before a large and friendly audience. But the indulgence of friends in the presence of a "home town boy who had made good" soon changed to a spirit of genuine respect as young Slatkin gave increasing evidence of his virtuosity and his musicianship.

His program was a model for older and more experienced violinists. The first group contained the E Major concerto by Sebastian Bach and the A Major concerto by Mozart, the second part was devoted to Ravel's formidable four-decade "Trizgane" and the third part had only small pieces.

Young Slatkin exhibited a large tone, a strong, flexible bowing arm and an intonation that was as flawless in double-stop, octaves and ponticello passages as at all other points. Of his interpretations, the Mozart concerto was the most interesting. The Bach was deficient in vitality in the first and third movements.

Ravel's "Trizgane" was tossed off in a manner that brought a spontaneous burst of applause from the house and that spoke well for the technical control and facility of both the soloist and his able accompanist Mrs. David Kriegerhaber.

Tausig, 50 Westmoreland place, and their daughter, Miss Mary Bolland Tausig, will give a tea at the home Saturday afternoon, Nov. 4, from 4 until 6 o'clock in honor of President Marion E. Park of Bryn Mawr College. President Park will be in St. Louis to attend the dinner to be given Thursday night, Nov. 2, in the Gold Room of the Jefferson Hotel by the St. Louis alumnae of seven colleges.

Dr. and Mrs. Tausig and their daughter have invited to their tea those who will be interested to hear President Park speak of Bryn Mawr.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bakewell III, 30 North Kingshighway, have returned from Cincinnati where they attended the wedding of Miss Bakewell's sister, Miss Virginia Wright, daughter of Mrs. John McCune Wright, and Philip Platt Smith, son of Dr. and Mrs. Elsworth S. Smith, 4602 Maryland avenue, which took place at the home of the bride's mother Saturday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Bakewell remained to spend a few days with her mother.

Mr. Smith's parents, his aunt, Mrs. J. D. Perry Francis, and Mrs. W. D. Cross; his cousin, Edgar Leander Taylor, who was best man; Mr. N. S. Chouteau Walsh, Miss Dorcas Carr Taylor, Clarkson Carpenter Jr., also cousins of the bridegroom, and Henry Carpenter, who also attended the wedding, moved home early this week. Mr. Smith and his bride will live in St. Louis.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Leslie Behr and their daughter, Miss Edith Margaret Behr, have departed for their home in Lake Forest, Ill., after a visit with Mr. Behr's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Gale Barstow of the Chesterfield apartments. The visitors came to St. Louis for the Bridlepath Hunt Club Steeplechase races Saturday. Miss Behr will return later for a longer visit.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hardin Smith Jr. will give a buffet supper tomorrow night at their home, 621 Westwood drive, in honor of the members of their wedding party. Several of the guests are visiting here from out of town. They include Mr. and Mrs. William Wesley Hall of Howe, Ind., and Miss Helen Boatwright and Preston S. Jenison, both of Kansas City. Miss Boatwright and Mr. Jenison are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Smith.

Mrs. Smith was, before her recent marriage, Miss Delphine Meyer.

An informal reception will be given tonight at the Jefferson Memorial following the address by John S. Leahy. Mr. Leahy's topic will be "The Missouri Bar, Past and Present." In addition to members of the Missouri Historical Society, the lawyers of St. Louis and their guests have been invited.

MRS. FRANK A. THOMPSON, 117 South Clay avenue, Ferguson, will be hostess at a small tea this afternoon in honor of her guest, Mrs. John Carleton Jones of Columbia, Mo. About 40 of Mrs. Jones' friends have been invited.

The tea table will be decorated with yellow roses and will be lighted by ivory tapers in silver candelabra. Mrs. Thompson's daughter, Miss Jacqueline and Miss Eliza Atwood will serve. Mrs. Jones is the widow of John Carleton Jones, who was at one time president of the University of Missouri.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Lansing Ray, 22 Westmoreland place, returned home a few days ago from a visit in Chicago.

Mrs. Lawra L. Whittemore, 5523 Cabanne avenue, will go to Chicago next week to visit Mrs. Alfred E. Hamill. Mrs. Hamill is related to several early St. Louis families of prominence.

Miss Dorothy Hempelmann, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. L. H. Hempelmann, 3808 Russell boulevard, has chosen Saturday, Nov. 11, for her wedding to Walter Haase, 3523 Longfellow boulevard. The ceremony will take place at 3:30 o'clock in the evening at the home of the prospective bride's parents with Mr. Haase's brother-in-law, Circuit Judge John W. Calhoun, officiating. An informal reception for members of both families and a few close friends will follow.

Miss Hempelmann will have as her only attendant and maid of honor Miss Betty Noland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Noland, 21 Washington terrace. Mr. Haase will have David Miller of University City as his best man.

The prospective bride and bridegroom will go to Honolulu for a month on their wedding trip.

Mrs. J. H. Breen, who makes her home with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Lincoln, 15 North Elizabeth avenue, Ferguson, will return next Friday after an absence of four months. Mrs. Breen spent the summer in Philadelphia. For the last three weeks she has been in Mount Gretna, Pa.

Invitations have been issued for the first fall dance of the Ferguson Dancing Club which will take place tonight at the Ferguson Country Club. Eugene de Penaloza, 211 Hereford avenue, Ferguson, and F. Baker de Camp Jr., 123 South Clay avenue, Ferguson, are in charge.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Nussbaum of the Congress Hotel will return Friday from the Broadmoor in Colorado Springs, Colo., where they have been spending the last several weeks.

Mrs. Jack Lewis Minner, 6816 Pershing avenue, departed at noon today for Chicago to be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Higgins, and to attend the fair. She will be entertained informally during her visit.

The St. Louis University Classical Club will begin its fifth year at a meeting Sunday at 2:30 p. m., in room 208 of the University Administration Building, 221 North Grand boulevard. Miss Marie Louise Padberg, junior at Maryville College, is president of the organization.

Miss Helene Long Obermoller of Maryville College will read a paper "The Nature and Technique of the Epic," and Miss Dorothy Martha Casey, junior at Webster College, will speak on "Homer and the Homeric Age." Discussions will be led by Miss Elizabeth Terese Mon-

PUBLIC MEETINGS AND ANNOUNCEMENTS

A meeting will be held at 8:30 o'clock tomorrow night at 1425 North and South road, University City, to organize a Veterans of Foreign Wars post for University City and Clayton. No post has been established in either of the municipalities.

The John Reed Club of St. Louis will meet at 8 o'clock tonight at the Cabanne Branch Library, 1106 Union boulevard. Henry Poelling will discuss the NRA.

The Denton J. Snider Association for Universal Culture, meeting tomorrow at Cabanne Branch Library, will study the sonnets of Shakespeare as this topic is discussed by Dr. Snider in his "Biography of William Shakespeare."

John S. Leahy, former president of the St. Louis Bar Association, will speak tonight at 8:15 o'clock at a meeting of the Missouri Historical Society in the Jefferson Memorial. His subject is "The Missouri Bar, Past and Present."

J. Hutton Hynd, leader of the Ethical Society, will give the fourth and last lecture in a series on "Ourselves and the Changing Social Patterns" at 11 o'clock Sunday morning at Sheldon Memorial, 3848 Washington avenue.

Miss Eleanor Margaret Carey of Fontbonne College, interpretive readings of passages from the first and the third books of Homer's "Iliad," "The Quarrel Scene" and "At the Scaean Gates," will be presented by Miss Imogene Frances Viar, freshman in the School of Education at St. Louis University, and by Lawrence Thompson Kenney and Robert Francis Schaffly, sophomores in the College of Arts and Sciences.

7 WOMEN'S COLLEGE HEADS HERE THURSDAY

Alumnae to Give Banquet at Which Walter Lippmann Will Speak.

Heads of seven women's colleges will be in St. Louis Thursday night for a banquet at Hotel Jefferson at which Walter Lippmann, political essayist, will be the principal speaker.

About 1000 alumnae and friends of Mount Holyoke, Barnard, Smith, Vassar, Wellesley, Radcliffe and Bryn Mawr colleges are expected to attend.

The meeting is the fifth held in various cities in recent years by heads of these colleges, to direct attention to the special contribution privately endowed women's colleges have made to education. Other meetings have been at Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Chicago.

William Allan Neilson, president of Smith College, will preside. Short talks are to be made by Mary Woolley, president of Mount Holyoke; Virginia C. Gildersleeve, dean of Barnard; Henry Noble MacCracken, president of Vassar; Ellen Fitz Pendleton, president of Wellesley; Ada Louise Comstock, president of Radcliffe, and Marion Edwards Park, president of Bryn Mawr.

Arrangements for the banquet are in charge of a committee of alumnae of the colleges, headed by Mrs. George W. Gellhorn.

Mrs. Gellhorn represents Gryn Mawr. Others on the committee are: Mrs. Albert E. Tausig, Smith; Mrs. Neal Campbell, Barnard; Mrs. R. H. B. Thompson, Mount Holyoke; Mrs. Eugene R. McCarthy, Vassar; Mrs. Archer O'Reilly, Radcliffe, and Mrs. John B. Edwards, Wellesley.

REBOUNDED STOCK PRICES FOLLOWING GRAIN RALLY

Despite Relatively Quiet Trading, Close Is Firm, With Gains of 1 to 2 Points Predominating.

STOCK PRICE TREND. Friday, 27th. Advances 330 150. Declines 144 400. Unchanged 145 143. Total issues 619 699. New 1933 issues 4 2.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27. Stocks moved upward today, following rally in grains and despite relatively quiet trading, market sentiment appeared to be considerably improved. Another advance in the domestic gold price seemingly was a major factor. The close was firm, with gains of 1 to 2 points predominating.

Buyers and sellers generally were puzzled when the R. F. C. raised the gold rate 22 cents to $31.76 an ounce and foreign exchanges, contradictorily, turned heavy. The gold rate 22 cents to $31.76 an ounce and foreign exchanges, contradictorily, turned heavy. The gold rate 22 cents to $31.76 an ounce and foreign exchanges, contradictorily, turned heavy.

There was some last-minute profit-taking in shares, but National Distillers held an advance of some 4 points, and U. S. Smelting, Allied Chemical, Coraco, Pasco, American Commercial Alcohol and Chase Chemicals, among others, fractionally to more than a point.

Wheat, aided by reports that Government-sponsored purchases had been resumed, finished up 2 1/2 to 3 cents a bushel, after a cotton-firmed. Bonds were irregular.

The British pound, at $4.71, was off nearly 4 cents. The French franc sagged 60 of a cent to $5.30. The Canadian dollar, at $1.35, was off 1/10 of a cent.

VIENNA DIVORCE GRANTED ON JEWISH-ARYAN GROUNDS

Racial Differences Led to Conjugal Shipwreck, Court Finds; Socialist Paper Assails Theory.

By the Associated Press.
VIENNA, Oct. 27.—What was believed to be the first divorce decree granted in Austria on the ground of marital incompatibility between Jews and Aryans was handed down today by a Vienna court.

The court's decision pointed out that "racial differences such as between Aryans and Jews must inevitably lead to conjugal shipwreck, except in those unusual cases where common interests are unusually strong. Both parties were held equally to blame in the case before the court 'because, although they knew they did not belong together, they married anyway.'

The Socialist "Abend" in an editorial said "it is imperative to protest vigorously against such smuggling of the Nazi racial theory into Austrian jurisprudence."

Denver Judge Orders Cafe Man to Pay Two Waiters $107 in Wages.

By the Associated Press.
DENVER, Colo., Oct. 27.—District Judge Frank McDonough yesterday ordered Major Avondale, a restaurant owner, to pay $107 to two waiters, Kenneth Beaton and Warren T. Williams, for wages under the presidential re-employment agreement.

Judge McDonough held that Avondale, in signing the agreement to shorten hours and raise wages, had signed a contract with President Roosevelt, that he must abide by the contract, and that the complainants were entitled to allowances based on the contract scale of wages.

The complainants did not take their case to the local NRA compliance board, but appealed to the District Court on the ground they were entitled to a judgment for breach of contract.

"Avondale's contract with the President was made for the benefit of third parties—his employees—and they are entitled to the full benefit under it," Judge McDonough said.

RABBI WOLF GOLD TO TALK

Your car is an investment in convenient transportation. Yet not every Ford can give you perfect winter performance unless you protect it against freezing and rust.

Boil-away anti-freezes evaporate during warm spells and leave your car unprotected. Refills are frequent. Tests show many so-called "permanent" anti-freezes break down and cause rust.

At $2.95 a gallon, Eveready Prestone is your most economical buy. One filling lasts all winter—25,000 or more miles of safe, rust-free service. The V-8 takes 2 gallons for protection to zero. All other Fords need only 1 gallon for protection to zero. For other makes, see your dealer's chart.

PARK'S LIQUOR CONTROL BILL IS INTRODUCED

Donnelly Presents Plan to Senate and Hearings Probably Will Be Held Next Week.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 27.—Gov. Park's liquor control bill, drawn in accordance with the recommendations of his Advisory Commission on Liquor Control, introduced today by Senator Donnelly of Lebanon, majority floor leader. It will be ready for reference to committee Monday and hearings on liquor legislation probably will be started next week.

The measure, established by the Liquor Control Board of three members to issue licenses and regulate the details of the sale of liquor. It provides for State regulation of dealers who will be authorized to make sales in original packages, the liquor not to be consumed on the premises, and also for sales by the drink by hotels, restaurants and clubs which have been established not less than one year.

In offering the measure Senator Donnelly said he was not in agreement with the Advisory Commission on its local option recommendation, but that he had been requested by the Governor to prepare the bill to conform to the ideas of the commission and had done so.

Would Let Voters Decide.

The commission proposed, instead of the old-time local option election, a prohibition against the issuance of licenses in any county, city or town over the protest of the Judges of the County Court or the Mayor and City Council. Donnelly said he believed it advisable to place the decision as to whether liquor should be sold in any community directly in the voters' hands.

The bill contains a provision prohibiting a distiller, wholesaler, or brewer from having any financial interest in a retail liquor establishment, or from providing money or fixtures for a retail place. Any contract between a distiller, wholesaler or brewer and a retail dealer for the exclusive sale is declared void, and existence of such a contract will cause forfeiture of the licenses of both manufacturer, wholesaler dealer and retail dealer.

In an effort to defeat the bootlegger, the bill attempts to reach even the consumer with a provision prohibiting any person from drinking or having in his possession any liquor unless acquired from a licensed dealer. The bill provides that profit from the sale of liquor shall not exceed 10 per cent, and provision is made for an inspection of the records and accounts of dealers by the State.

Board to Fix Hours.

The board is given general regulatory powers over dealers, including the power to fix the form and size of containers in which liquor may be sold, and the days on which and the hours during which it may be sold. Sales on Sunday and election days are prohibited in the act. Licenses may be issued only to citizens of the United States and legal voters in the city or town in which the license is to be used. No person who has been convicted of violating either State or Federal laws may be licensed and no licensee may have in his employ any person who has been convicted of violation of the law.

Penalties for violation are a fine of not more than $1000 or imprisonment for not more than six months for the first offense, and imprisonment for not more than 12 months without fine for a second offense. Forfeiture of license is provided in either case.

Senator Donnelly introduced four companion bills designed to set up a complete system for the inspection of the manufacture and sale of liquor and beer. One bill takes from the State Health Commission all duties now imposed by law for the inspection of beer, and transfers them to the proposed Liquor Control Board.

Another increases the inspection tax on beer from 1 cent to 5 cents per gallon, and also provides for a stamp tax of 3 cents for labeling each beer "package." This would apply both to 3.2 per cent beer and to beer of higher alcoholic content. "Package" is not defined in the law, the definition being left to the Liquor Control Board. It might mean a 3-cent tax on each bottle of beer in addition to the 5 cents per gallon tax.

Another Bill Introduced.

Another liquor control bill was introduced in the House today by Representative McCormick of Platt County, home county of Gov. Park, which deals only with licensing and distribution, and makes no provision for taxation of intoxicating liquors.

Control would be vested in the State Commissioner of Health, who would issue licenses and administer the law. Drug stores and grocery stores would be authorized to sell intoxicating liquor in original packages, not to be consumed on the premises where sold. Hotels with 25 or more rooms, and operating a dining room, and restaurants with a seating capacity of 40 or more persons, would be authorized to sell liquor by the drink, but only with meals.

McCormick's bill fixes the annual license fee at $300, to be divided $100 each to the State and the county and municipality where the licensee will operate. One of the requirements for a license is that the applicant must have been in business for at least a year, at the place for which the license is sought.

CANNED BAKED BEANS

GOOD ON COOL DAYS

Soup, Salad, Meat and Vegetable Combinations Tasty.

Wise the woman who keeps a few cans of baked beans in the pantry, for as cooler weather comes on they fit in well with heartier appetite demands.

But don't just open the can and reheat the beans every time you serve them. There are too many recipes possible to be content with the one way of serving them.

You can make a substantial soup for lunch, combine beans in a salad, stuff vegetables with them or serve them with meats as illustrated by the following recipes:

Stuffed Ham Rolls
One medium can baked beans
One teaspoonful prepared mustard
Two tablespoons ketchup
12 thin slices boiled ham Mash baked beans slightly, add

"Tea For Me? You Bet!"

Look for this Trademark

INDIA TEA

"Put me down as a tea lover. But make sure you say I drink India Tea. It's a man's drink. Rich, winy, full-flavored. Made to order to suit my taste. To get India Tea... from the land where the finest tea in the world is grown... look for the Map-of-India trademark (above), in addition to the brand name, on packages of tea you buy."

Have you tried it in Stuffing? You'll like it.

Maul's BARBECUE SAUCE

seasonings, spread mixture on thin slices of ham and roll like jelly roll. Fasten with toothpicks. Fry in a skillet, which has in it a small amount of melted butter, until ham is thoroughly heated and slightly brown. These may be placed in shallow pans and baked in a moderate oven for about 20 minutes.

Celery Salad.
One medium can baked beans.
One cupful celery, cut in pieces.
One-half cupful radishes, sliced.
One-half teaspoonful salt.

One-eighth teaspoonful paprika.
Put baked beans in a strainer and pour boiling water over them. Cool. Mix beans, celery, radishes, salt and paprika and marinate in French dressing. Chill. Arrange in nests of crisp lettuce leaves and garnish with radish roses. Serve with Russian dressing.

Stuffed Onions.
Six large Bermuda onions.
Three tablespoons butter.
One medium can baked beans.
One-fourth cupful ketchup.
One teaspoonful salt.

One-fourth teaspoonful pepper.
One-half cupful dry bread crumbs.
Put the onions carefully, scoop out centers, leaving hollow cup with opening at top about as big as a 50-cent piece. Chop one-half cupful of the onion removed from centers and let simmer in butter 10 minutes. Remove from fire and combine with beans, ketchup, seasoning and bread crumbs. Fill onions with prepared mixture. Place in a deep covered baking dish with a little water. Bake in moderate oven one and one-half hours, or until onions are tender.

Bean Soup.
One medium can baked beans.

Butterscotch Pie
Four tablespoons butter.
Three tablespoons corn starch.
One-half cup sugar.
One cup sweet milk.
One teaspoon vanilla.
Three eggs, separated.

Pinch of soda.
Put sugar and butter into a frying pan and cook until a deep brown; stir to prevent burning. Heat milk, add to sugar and butter, add soda and simmer until sugar is melted. Dissolve cornstarch in one-half cup cold water, add yolks of eggs and mix well.

Pour the boiling mixture over the eggs and starch; return to fire and cook until very thick (thick enough to stay in pastry shell when cut). Add vanilla and pour into ready-cooked pastry shell.

Make meringue of egg whites and three tablespoons sugar. Cover top and bake in slow oven 10 minutes, or until done.

HAM AND APPLES
Two pounds slice of ham.
Ten whole cloves.
One and a half cups yellow sugar.
Six tart apples.
One-half cup water.

Rub one-half cup sugar into the ham. Sprinkle with cloves. Place in baking pan and surround with the apples peeled, cored and sliced in half cross-wise. Sprinkle the remaining sugar over the apples, add the water to the pan and bake in moderate oven until done (about 45 minutes).

Oyster Age.
Oysters are not ready for marketing until they are from 2 to 5 years old—sometimes older. Some of the more hardy ones live as many as 15 years. Incidentally, you can tell an oyster's age by counting the rings on his shell.

One cupful water.
Three tablespoons celery.
Three tablespoons onion, chopped.
One teaspoon salt.
Dash of pepper.
One and one-half cups milk.
Cook beans slowly with water and seasonings until the beans are soft. Press through a coarse wire strainer or colander. Add scalded milk to the strained bean mixture.

CHRYSANthemum HUE FOR BRIDE'S PARTY
Gold Cake, Orange Ice and Egg Salad for Lunchcon.

Big yellow and white chrysanthemums in tall vases for the center of the table and dainty food harmonizing in the same tints made an attractive occasion of a bridge luncheon for a bride-to-be last week.

The chicken salad was bordered with rosettes of mashed yolks of eggs mixed with mayonnaise, orange ice was served with gold cake and minis were decorated with little yellow designs.

Here's the gold cake recipe with an especially good chocolate cream frosting.

Gold Cake.
Eight egg yolks.
One and one-fourth cups sugar.
Three-fourths cup butter.
Three-fourths cup milk.
Two and one-half cups pastry flour.

Three teaspoons baking powder.
One-fourth teaspoon salt.
Cream butter until soft. Add sugar gradually, creaming until mixture is fluffy. Sift flour, baking powder and salt together four times. Beat egg yolks until thick and light, and add to butter-sugar mixture. Add flour alternately with milk, a little at a time. Add flavoring. Bake in three greased layer cake pans in moderate oven 25 minutes. Put chocolate frosting between layers and on top.

Chocolate Cream Frosting.
Two unbeaten egg whites.
Two tablespoons butter.
Two tablespoons sweet cream.
Two and one-half cups confectioners' sugar.

Three square bitter chocolate.
One-half teaspoon vanilla.
Put chocolate, butter and cream in pan over hot water. Put unbeaten egg whites into bowl and add sugar, a little at a time, beating it in. Add the melted chocolate and butter mixture, beating until frosting is of good spreading consistency. Add vanilla.

Cocoa Nut Custard Pie.
Pie crust.
Three eggs, slightly beaten.
One-eighth teaspoon salt.
One-half cup sugar.
Three cups milk, scalded.
One cup shredded coconut.

Line pie plate with pastry, rolled to ¼-inch thickness, allowing pastry to extend 1 inch beyond edge. Fit loosely on plate. Fold edge back to form standing rim and flute with fingers. Combine eggs, salt and sugar; add milk gradually, then add coconut and mix thoroughly. Pour into pie shell. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.), 15 minutes, then decrease heat to moderate (350 degrees F.) and bake 30 minutes longer. Cool.

Canned Peach Pie.
One package orange-flavored gelatin.
One and one-half cups warm peach juice and water.
Two and one-half cups canned sliced peaches, drained.
Dissolve gelatin in warm peach juice and water. Add peaches. Chill. When slightly thickened, turn into cold pie shell. Chill until firm. Serve with whipped cream.

Brown Sugar Raisin Pie.
One-half cup finely rolled ginger snaps.
Three-fourths cup raisins, chopped.
Three-fourths cup brown sugar, firmly packed.
Two and one-fourth cups hot water.

One-fourth cup cider vinegar.
Three tablespoons butter.
Combine raisins, sugar, water, vinegar and butter, and cook ten minutes. Add ginger-snaps. Cool. Line a 9-inch pie plate with pastry, rolled to ¼-inch thickness, allowing pastry to extend 1 inch beyond edge. Fold edge back to form standing rim. Fill with mixture. Moisten edge of pie with cold water and arrange lattice of pastry strips across top. Flute rim with fingers. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) 10 minutes, then decrease heat to moderate (350 degrees F.) and bake 30 minutes longer.

Ginger Orange Cream Pie.
One and a quarter cups finely crumbled ginger snaps.
One-quarter cup sugar.
One-third cup butter.
One and one-half cups scalded milk.

Two egg yolks, beaten slightly.
One-eighth teaspoon salt.
One-half teaspoon vanilla.
Two oranges, cut in small pieces.
Roll snaps fine and mix with one tablespoon sugar and softened butter. Press mixture firmly against sides and bottom of buttered pie plate. Bake for 10 minutes in a hot oven. Scald milk and pour gradually over beaten yolks; add two tablespoons sugar and salt and cook in double boiler, stirring constantly until mixture thickens. Chill and add flavoring. Combine cut up oranges with cold custard and fill baked pie shell with this mixture.

Ginger Pumpkin Pie.
Crust: One and a quarter cups finely crumbled ginger snaps.
One tablespoon sugar.
One-third cup butter.
Filling: Two-thirds cup brown sugar.
One-half teaspoon salt.
One teaspoon cinnamon.
One-half teaspoon ginger.
One and a half cups cooked, strained pumpkin.
Three eggs.
One half teaspoon salt.
Roll ginger snaps fine and mix with sugar and softened butter. Press mixture firmly against sides and bottom of buttered pie plate. Combine sugar, salt, cinnamon, ginger and pumpkin. Beat eggs, add milk and stir into pumpkin mixture. Pour into pie shell. Bake 15 minutes in hot oven, then reduce heat and continue baking in slow oven for 30 minutes.

PIES NOW RESTORED AS DESSERT LEADER

Cool Days Bring Back Popular Pastry — Tasty Fillings Given.

During the summer frozen or fruit desserts have been in the lead but with cooler weather comes the old desire for pie. And it can't be served too often for men of the family with whom the "great American desert," as some one has christened pie, is always popular.

Pumpkins, mince, apple and lemon are the pie standbys in many homes for the winter, but why not introduce new fillings now and then? Here are some particularly toothsome recipes:

Chocolate Custard Pie.
Three squares unsweetened chocolate.
Three and a half cups milk.
Three-fourths cup sugar.
Two-thirds cup sifted cake flour.
Three-fourths teaspoon salt.
One egg, slightly beaten.
Two tablespoons butter.

One and a half teaspoons vanilla.
One baked nine-inch pie shell.
Add chocolate to milk and heat in double boiler. When chocolate is melted, beat with rotary egg beater until blended. Combine sugar, flour and salt; add chocolate mixture gradually, stirring until smooth; return to double boiler and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Then continue cooking 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add egg to mixture slowly, stirring vigorously; return to double boiler and cook two minutes longer, stirring constantly. Remove from boiling water; add butter and vanilla. Cool slightly and turn into pie shell. Chill. Before serving, cover with one-half cup sweetened whipped cream to which one-fourth cup of raisins and one-fourth cup nuts have been added.

Cocoa Nut Custard Pie.
Pie crust.
Three eggs, slightly beaten.
One-eighth teaspoon salt.
One-half cup sugar.
Three cups milk, scalded.
One cup shredded coconut.

Line pie plate with pastry, rolled to ¼-inch thickness, allowing pastry to extend 1 inch beyond edge. Fit loosely on plate. Fold edge back to form standing rim and flute with fingers. Combine eggs, salt and sugar; add milk gradually, then add coconut and mix thoroughly. Pour into pie shell. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.), 15 minutes, then decrease heat to moderate (350 degrees F.) and bake 30 minutes longer. Cool.

Canned Peach Pie.
One package orange-flavored gelatin.
One and one-half cups warm peach juice and water.
Two and one-half cups canned sliced peaches, drained.
Dissolve gelatin in warm peach juice and water. Add peaches. Chill. When slightly thickened, turn into cold pie shell. Chill until firm. Serve with whipped cream.

Brown Sugar Raisin Pie.
One-half cup finely rolled ginger snaps.
Three-fourths cup raisins, chopped.
Three-fourths cup brown sugar, firmly packed.
Two and one-fourth cups hot water.

One-fourth cup cider vinegar.
Three tablespoons butter.
Combine raisins, sugar, water, vinegar and butter, and cook ten minutes. Add ginger-snaps. Cool. Line a 9-inch pie plate with pastry, rolled to ¼-inch thickness, allowing pastry to extend 1 inch beyond edge. Fold edge back to form standing rim. Fill with mixture. Moisten edge of pie with cold water and arrange lattice of pastry strips across top. Flute rim with fingers. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) 10 minutes, then decrease heat to moderate (350 degrees F.) and bake 30 minutes longer.

Ginger Orange Cream Pie.
One and a quarter cups finely crumbled ginger snaps.
One-quarter cup sugar.
One-third cup butter.
One and one-half cups scalded milk.

Two egg yolks, beaten slightly.
One-eighth teaspoon salt.
One-half teaspoon vanilla.
Two oranges, cut in small pieces.
Roll snaps fine and mix with one tablespoon sugar and softened butter. Press mixture firmly against sides and bottom of buttered pie plate. Bake for 10 minutes in a hot oven. Scald milk and pour gradually over beaten yolks; add two tablespoons sugar and salt and cook in double boiler, stirring constantly until mixture thickens. Chill and add flavoring. Combine cut up oranges with cold custard and fill baked pie shell with this mixture.

Ginger Pumpkin Pie.
Crust: One and a quarter cups finely crumbled ginger snaps.
One tablespoon sugar.
One-third cup butter.
Filling: Two-thirds cup brown sugar.
One-half teaspoon salt.
One teaspoon cinnamon.
One-half teaspoon ginger.
One and a half cups cooked, strained pumpkin.
Three eggs.
One half teaspoon salt.
Roll ginger snaps fine and mix with sugar and softened butter. Press mixture firmly against sides and bottom of buttered pie plate. Combine sugar, salt, cinnamon, ginger and pumpkin. Beat eggs, add milk and stir into pumpkin mixture. Pour into pie shell. Bake 15 minutes in hot oven, then reduce heat and continue baking in slow oven for 30 minutes.

PIES NOW RESTORED AS DESSERT LEADER

Cool Days Bring Back Popular Pastry — Tasty Fillings Given.

During the summer frozen or fruit desserts have been in the lead but with cooler weather comes the old desire for pie. And it can't be served too often for men of the family with whom the "great American desert," as some one has christened pie, is always popular.

Pumpkins, mince, apple and lemon are the pie standbys in many homes for the winter, but why not introduce new fillings now and then? Here are some particularly toothsome recipes:

Chocolate Custard Pie.
Three squares unsweetened chocolate.
Three and a half cups milk.
Three-fourths cup sugar.
Two-thirds cup sifted cake flour.
Three-fourths teaspoon salt.
One egg, slightly beaten.
Two tablespoons butter.

One and a half teaspoons vanilla.
One baked nine-inch pie shell.
Add chocolate to milk and heat in double boiler. When chocolate is melted, beat with rotary egg beater until blended. Combine sugar, flour and salt; add chocolate mixture gradually, stirring until smooth; return to double boiler and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Then continue cooking 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add egg to mixture slowly, stirring vigorously; return to double boiler and cook two minutes longer, stirring constantly. Remove from boiling water; add butter and vanilla. Cool slightly and turn into pie shell. Chill. Before serving, cover with one-half cup sweetened whipped cream to which one-fourth cup of raisins and one-fourth cup nuts have been added.

Cocoa Nut Custard Pie.
Pie crust.
Three eggs, slightly beaten.
One-eighth teaspoon salt.
One-half cup sugar.
Three cups milk, scalded.
One cup shredded coconut.

Line pie plate with pastry, rolled to ¼-inch thickness, allowing pastry to extend 1 inch beyond edge. Fit loosely on plate. Fold edge back to form standing rim and flute with fingers. Combine eggs, salt and sugar; add milk gradually, then add coconut and mix thoroughly. Pour into pie shell. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.), 15 minutes, then decrease heat to moderate (350 degrees F.) and bake 30 minutes longer. Cool.

Canned Peach Pie.
One package orange-flavored gelatin.
One and one-half cups warm peach juice and water.
Two and one-half cups canned sliced peaches, drained.
Dissolve gelatin in warm peach juice and water. Add peaches. Chill. When slightly thickened, turn into cold pie shell. Chill until firm. Serve with whipped cream.

Brown Sugar Raisin Pie.
One-half cup finely rolled ginger snaps.
Three-fourths cup raisins, chopped.
Three-fourths cup brown sugar, firmly packed.
Two and one-fourth cups hot water.

One-fourth cup cider vinegar.

Filling: Two-thirds cup brown sugar.
One-half teaspoon salt.
One teaspoon cinnamon.
One-half teaspoon ginger.
One and a half cups cooked, strained pumpkin.
Three eggs.
One half teaspoon salt.
Roll ginger snaps fine and mix with sugar and softened butter. Press mixture firmly against sides and bottom of buttered pie plate. Combine sugar, salt, cinnamon, ginger and pumpkin. Beat eggs, add milk and stir into pumpkin mixture. Pour into pie shell. Bake 15 minutes in hot oven, then reduce heat and continue baking in slow oven for 30 minutes.

NATIONAL OBSERVANCE
MARKS APPLE WEEK

Starts Next Tuesday as Apple Shipments Reach Peak.

We are asked once more to remember the old adage, "An apple a day keeps the doctor away," as National Apple Week approaches. Opening next Tuesday, the movement is sponsored by growers, shippers and distributed throughout the United States.

St. Louis has many varieties of choice apples in the markets now, with Western apples in the lead. An apple in the youngster's lunch box, a bowl on the dining room table for between-meal snacks, or as the answer to occasional before-bed-hungry feeling, are good ways of interesting the family in apples.

And here are other suggestions: Apple Stuffing. Peel six apples, chop very fine. Add one tablespoon powdered sage, one-half teaspoon poultry seasoning, one and one-half teaspoons salt, one-fourth teaspoon pepper and two cups crumbled bread. Very good to stuff goose or pork.

Baked Apples. Many fillings may be used to vary apples from time to time. Honey mixed with nuts, marmalade, mincemeat, brown sugar mixed with cinnamon and grated orange rinds, maple sugar with nuts, are among the possibilities.

Apples, scooped out, may be used as salad cups and the part scooped out may be minced with nuts and celery and moistened with celery for filling.

Waldorf salad, combining nuts, celery and apples, is always liked. Apples cut in small bits are good with tuna fish and mayonnaise in a salad.

Apple Cider Sauce. Peel, core and cut two quarts of apples into eighths. Add two cups boiled cider, one and one-half cups sugar, one cup water. Cover and simmer over fire until liquid is almost absorbed.

Deep Apple Pie With Cheese. Six tart apples. Three-fourths cup sugar. One-fourth teaspoon cinnamon. One-fourth teaspoon salt. Two tablespoons butter.

Pare, core and slice apples. Line a deep pie pan with pastry, spread a layer of apples over the bottom, sprinkle with a mixture of the sugar, cinnamon and salt, dot with butter and repeat until all are used. Add top sheet of pastry. Put pie in a moderately hot oven for 10 minutes, lower temperature to more moderate heat and bake for 30 to 35 minutes, or until the apples are tender and the crust is golden brown.

After pie is baked, lay thin slices of cheese or grated cheese over the top and put in a very moderate oven until cheese is melted. Serve at once while the cheese is warm. Dutch Apple Cake. Spread any quick coffee cake dough in a shallow pan. Brush over with melted butter and cover with apples sliced very thin. Sprinkle well with sugar and cinnamon and bake about 25 minutes in moderate oven.

Apple Pudding. One and a half cups milk. One-half cup water. One-half cup uncooked rice. Two tablespoons sugar. One-fourth teaspoon salt. One tablespoon butter or margarine.

Five medium sized apples. Two tablespoons shortening. One-half cup water and stir in rice. Steam until tender in a double boiler. Stir in sugar, salt and butter with a fork. Stew apples, pared and cut in quarters, in a little water until soft. Line a buttered dish with rice and place cooked apples in the center. Then spread with two tablespoons (or more) of orange marmalade. Cover the top with rice and bake about 30 minutes in a moderate oven. Serve with milk or cream.

Apple Turnovers. Prepare pastry as for dumplings but cut into rounds. Cover one side of round with apples, pared, cored and sliced, add sugar and cinnamon or grated lemon rind, wet edges, fold pastry over, pressing well to keep together. Bake about 25 minutes in moderate oven.

MEAT PATTIES

One pound veal cutlet. Two tablespoons shortening. One teaspoon salt. One-fourth teaspoon pepper. One teaspoon minced onion. Three hard-cooked eggs. Ten crackers. One tablespoon chopped parsley. One-half cup meat stock, or one bouillon cube with hot water. Fry veal in shortening, season, cool and chop fine. Lightly fry onions in same fat, add veal with chopped hard-cooked eggs, finely rolled crackers, parsley and stock. Mix and shape into patties, and place in greased pan. Bake for 15 minutes in hot oven.

Relish Rolls.

Remove crust from day-old sandwich loaf and cut in thin slices lengthwise of loaf. Combine one-fourth pound softened butter with one-half cup sweet pickle relish and blend into smooth paste. Spread slices of bread with mixture and roll each slice as for jelly roll. Wrap each roll tightly in waxed paper. Chill. To serve, cut rolls in thin slices.

VEGETABLES HERE NOT AFFECTED BY STRIKE

Farmers' Movement Has Not Cut Supply or Raised Prices.

In spite of many rumors of farmers refusing to send supplies to markets, St. Louis continues to have a bountiful supply of fresh vegetables at reasonable prices.

Green beans, spinach, beets, celery, turnips, greens and sweet potatoes among other vegetables are even a little cheaper this week. Lettuce, due to workers returning to the fields after a strike in the Western states, also dropped a little in price.

Florida and Louisiana gumbo swelled the supply of that vegetable this week. Large California green peppers, which are almost a meal in themselves when stuffed with meat or rice, are seen in some markets. If mushrooms are a favorite in the family, they may be served this week without economic scruples as they are cheaper than in some time.

LEMON CAKE

Two cups sifted cake flour. Two teaspoons baking powder. One-fourth teaspoon salt. Four tablespoons butter or other shortening. One cup sugar. One egg, unbeaten.

One teaspoon grated lemon rind. Three-fourths cup milk. Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add egg and lemon rind and beat well. Add flour alternately with milk, a small amount at a time. Beat after each addition until smooth. Bake in two greased nine-inch layer pans in moderate oven 25 minutes. Put layers together with lemon filling and cover top and sides of cake with frosting.

ORANGE-BISCUITS

Two cups sifted flour. Two teaspoons baking powder. One-half teaspoon salt. Two tablespoons sugar. Four tablespoons butter or other shortening.

One tablespoon grated orange rind. Two-thirds cup milk (about). Twelve cubes cut sugar. One-fourth cup orange juice. Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt and sugar, and sift again. Cut in shortening and orange rind. Add milk gradually until soft dough is formed. Roll one-half inch thick on slightly floured board. Cut with small, floured biscuit cutter. On top of each biscuit place one-half cube of sugar dipped in orange juice. Bake in hot oven 15 minutes.

Cream of Corn Soup.

Make a cream sauce of two tablespoons butter blended with two tablespoons flour, add two cups milk, but do not let milk boil; add one teaspoon salt and one can of corn which has been pressed through sieve.

TASTE the finer flavor!

With your first serving of this intriguing Mexican dish you will exclaim, "This is Chili Con Carne as it might have been served to a Montezuma." It complements your guest, Hirsch Bros. & Co., Inc., Louisville, Ky.

COUSIN OF ORANGES COMES TO MARKET

First Satsumas of Season Arrive in Carload From California.

Satsumas, in flavor and appearance, closely related to the orange, are in this week, a carload arriving from California.

They are sweet and juicy, with a flavor all their own which makes them especially good in fruit cocktails and salads, and as a breakfast fruit.

From California come also some cantaloupes and a liberal supply of Casaba melons.

The same State ships us raspberries but in limited quantities which keep the price rather high.

Avocados continue to sell at much lower than usual prices for what used to be considered a luxury out of reach of the ordinary food budget.

Pineapple and Rice.

Mix together one cup of cooked rice, one cup of whipped cream, one cup of shredded pineapple and half a cup of powdered sugar. Chill.

RECIPES FOR NEXT WEEK

Beets With Orange Juice.

Pare and slice thin one dozen medium-sized beets. Place in greased glass baking dish. Mix together two tablespoons flour, half a cup sugar and half a teaspoon salt. Add half a cup of orange juice. Pour over beets, dot with butter, cover dish and bake about an hour in moderately slow oven.

Stuffed Cucumbers.

Three cucumbers.
Two tomatoes.
One-half cup diced celery.
One teaspoon salt.
One-eighth teaspoon pepper.
One tablespoon chopped onion.
Mayonnaise.

Chill cucumbers and tomatoes. Peel cucumbers and cut in halves lengthwise. Remove pulp from the centers, being careful not to break the outside. Peel tomatoes, cut into small pieces and drain off juice. Mix cucumber pulp, tomatoes, celery, salt, pepper and onion with mayonnaise to moisten. Fill the cucumber halves with this mixture and arrange on crisp lettuce leaves. Place in refrigerator to chill thoroughly. Garnish with parsley.

Barbecued Leftover Lamb.

Two cups roast lamb.
One-half teaspoon salt.
One-half teaspoon mustard.
One teaspoon vinegar.
One-half cup currant jelly.
Three large tomatoes.
Two oranges.

Put meat cut in small pieces in greased casserole. Mix salt, mustard and vinegar and pour over lamb. Spread jelly and butter over lamb.

Cornbeef Boiled Dinner.

Two and one-half pounds corned beef.
Three medium sized parsnips.
Three medium sized carrots.
Two white turnips.
One small head cabbage.
Six potatoes.
Six small heads.

Wash meat with cold water, cover with fresh cold water and bring to boiling point. If very salt soak an hour in cold water before cooking. Skim after cooking awhile, cover kettle and simmer about four hours until meat is tender. An hour before serving add parsnips, carrots and turnips, peeled and sliced. Add cabbage cut in quarters at the same time. Half an hour before meat is done, add potatoes cut in quarters. Remove meat to platter. Surround with vegetables. Garnish with cooked or canned beets.

Salmon Croquettes.

Add three tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca, half a teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon paprika, one tablespoon chopped green pepper, one tablespoon chopped pimiento to one cup of milk and cook in double boiler until tapioca is clear, stirring all the time. Add 1½ cups flaked canned salmon and two teaspoons lemon juice. Cool. Shape in croquettes, roll in fine cracker crumbs and beaten eggs, then in crumbs again. Fry about one and one-half minutes in deep very hot fat.

Soak 16 dried apricots in cold water overnight after cutting in small pieces. Cook until soft and put through sieve. Heat one quart milk in double boiler, add one tablespoon of corn starch which has been mixed with a little cold water. Beat the yolks of two eggs, add two-thirds cup of sugar and the hot milk mixture. Return to double boiler and cook until custard coats the spoon, stirring continually. Add one-half teaspoon of gelatin which has been dissolved in cold water and cook until dissolved. Mix well with apricot pulp and chill. Fold in one cup of whipped cream and freeze in refrigerator tray.

RICE AND BEEF

Three cups cubed left-over roast meat.
One-half pound bacon, chopped fine.
One medium-sized onion.
One tablespoon minced parsley.
Three cups seasoned stock.
Two peeled tomatoes, cut fine.
Two sweet green peppers, chopped.

One-half cup well washed rice. Cook onion with bacon in pan until golden brown. Add meat, cover with stock, add tomatoes, peppers, parsley and simmer for five minutes. Then add rice and simmer slowly until rice is tender. This may be cooked in a casserole. Season to taste.

Apricot Balls.

Steam three-fourths cup apricots five minutes. Put apricots, three-fourths cup coconut and one-half cup nut meats through food chopper. Add one-half teaspoon grated orange rind, one-half teaspoon grated lemon rind, and one tablespoon lemon juice and knead mixture until blended. Shape into balls about three-fourths inch in diameter and roll in granulated sugar.

DISGUISED OATMEAL PLEASES CHILDREN

They'll Like It in Nut Bread and Cookies for Luncheon.

Say what you will about the things we ought to eat, there often comes a time when we rebel and turn from the sensible standbys and want something entirely different.

Children, like grownups, often show distaste for foods, but they can be diverted by changing the manner in which these things are served.

For instance, some mothers find it hard to induce their lads and lassies to eat their daily cereals. Well, why not give it to them occasionally at noon instead of breakfast and serve it in pudding, cookies or bread?

Here are bread and cookie recipes which will arouse renewed interest in oatmeal by any youngster who eats these:

Oatmeal Bread.
This bread has a rich, nut flavor, brown to perfection, and retains moisture. With the evaporated milk, its full of nourishment.
One cup boiling water.
Two cups oatmeal, uncooked.
One-half cup molasses.
One-half teaspoon salt.
One tablespoon butter.
One cup evaporated milk.
One cake yeast, dissolved in one-half cup lukewarm water.
Five cups white flour.
Add boiling water to oatmeal and let stand one hour. Add molasses, milk, salt, butter, dissolved yeast and flour. Let rise until double in bulk. Knead well. Turn into greased bread pans, let rise, and bake 15 minutes at 425 degrees F., then 45 minutes at 375 degrees F. Yield, two loaves.

Oatmeal Drop Cookies.
Three-quarters cup sifted flour.
One teaspoon baking powder.
One-quarter teaspoon nutmeg.
One-quarter teaspoon salt.
One-half cup butter or other shortening.
One-quarter cup brown sugar, firmly packed.
One egg, well beaten.
One cup raisins, chopped.
One cup oatmeal.
One-third cup milk.
Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, nutmeg and salt, and sift together three times. Cream butter, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add egg and raisins. Add oatmeal. Add milk, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time. Drop by teaspoons on greased baking sheet. Bake in hot oven 10 minutes. Makes two dozen.

SAVORY COOKED DRESSING FOR COLE SLAW AND SALADS
One teaspoon salt
Mustard dash
Dash of white pepper
Paprika dash
Three tablespoons flour
Two tablespoons sugar
One cup milk
One egg
Six tablespoons vinegar
Two tablespoons butter or other fat
Sift dry ingredients together to mix them thoroughly, add cold milk, stir until well blended, then cook in a double boiler until thickened. Cover and cook 10 minutes longer. Beat egg until very light and add some of the hot mixture to the egg gradually. Then combine and cook whole mixture a few minutes longer. Add vinegar slowly, stir and continue to cook until fairly thick; then add the butter or other fat.

COCOA SYRUP
One-half cup cocoa
One and one-half cups sugar
Dash of salt
One cup water
Two teaspoons vanilla
Mix cocoa, sugar, salt and water. Place over low flame and stir constantly until sugar is dissolved and mixture boils. Boil three minutes and add vanilla. Pour at once into air-tight jar and seal. When cold, place in refrigerator. This syrup will keep fresh for a month. It can be used as a base for iced chocolate drinks, or as a sauce by reheating and adding a little butter. Makes two cups syrup.

Apple Sauce Whip.
Add one teaspoon lemon juice to three-quarter cup hot sweetened apple sauce. Then fold in one stiffly beaten egg white.

CREAM OF CHICKEN SOUP

One and one-half cups chicken, diced.
One and one-half cups celery finely cut.
One carrot finely diced.
One cup water.
Two bullion cubes (chicken flavor).
One and one-half cups milk, scalded.
One and one-half tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca.
Two tablespoons butter.
Combine chicken, celery, carrot, water, bullion cubes and salt in upper part of double boiler and cook over direct heat 10 minutes. Add milk and tapioca, place over hot water and cook 15 minutes longer, or until tapioca is clear and mixture is slightly thickened, stirring frequently. Add butter.

Roll Cakes.

Split rolls but do not separate halves. Remove some of the crumbs. Toast rolls lightly, then fill with creamed chicken or fish.

Many Celebrations on Hallowe'en

Once again we welcome Hallowe'en with its opportunities for entertaining in a picturesque and jovial manner.
Whether it be a bridge, dance, buffet supper or just a "get-together" without any special program, some attempt at decoration is essential to carry out the spirit of the day.
Yellow and black are the Hallowe'en colors and witches on broom sticks, black cats, pumpkin lanterns and autumn foliage may be used for decorations.
If using little tables to serve refreshments have bridge covers of black oil cloth with bright orange pumpkin place cards and a small nosegay of yellow chrysanthemums in the center. It's also fun to use place cards with a fortune tucked inside each. A perfect one for this is bright yellow with an eerie witch pointing to your fate.
Amusing little figures for table decorations may be devised from marshmallows, as explained below.
A charm cake with ring, thimble and other favors, a salad served in orange cups and popcorn balls also with favors are other Hallowe'en suggestions.

Hallowe'en Salad.
Soak together about five minutes: One level tablespoonful gelatin and one-quarter cup cold water. Add to: One cup hot pineapple juice.
Add: One-quarter cup sugar, one-quarter teaspoonful salt, one-half cup orange juice and one-quarter cup water.
Cool and, when jelly starts to congeal, add: One cup oranges, cut in small pieces; one and one-half cups cooked pineapple, cut in small pieces, and one cup raw carrot, grated on a coarse grater.
Scoop out the inside of oranges, using some of the pulp in the salad, and cut a face on the side of the orange skins. When the salad is ready to mold, use these orange pumpkins instead of individual molds. Garnish with mayonnaise.

Hallowe'en Popcorn.
Make a sugar syrup by boiling one and one-half cups sugar and two-thirds cup water until it spins a thread. Remove at once from the fire and drop in a very little red food coloring. Stir carefully, but quickly, and pour in a thin stream over the popcorn, two quarts of it in a large bowl. Continue stirring until the syrup has covered all the corn and has sugared slightly.
Popcorn Balls.
Mix together one and one-half tablespoons melted butter, two cups molasses and two-thirds cup sugar. Cook without stirring until the candy becomes brittle when dropped in cold water. Take from fire, add a little pinch of soda, and pour over four quarts of freshly popped corn, stir, and while still warm make into balls.
When forming the balls, insert a tiny, inexpensive gift wrapped in waxed paper in the center of the ball for the Hallowe'en party.

Crane Cake.
Use any favorite loaf cake recipe, bake in shallow pan and cut in squares.
Wrap little charms—a ring, thimble, a tiny doll, etc., in small pieces of waxed paper. Grease a cake pan, and sprinkle liberally with flour. Shake pan to spread flour over surface.
Put in a layer of cake, batter, distribute charms over batter and then add the rest of the batter. Bake in a moderate oven for 50 or 60 minutes. Cool, ice with plain white icing.

Marshmallow Decorations.
Campfire Witch.
Make figure from four marshmallows—two for feet, one for body and one for head. Insert cloves for features. Cut cape and hat from black crepe paper. Sew or paste in place. Cut broom from orange crepe paper rectangle rolled around and round and fastened at one end. Slash other end with scissors, and set in place.

Hallowe'en Clown.
Wrap stiff wire with black crepe paper. Insert in marshmallow base. Wrap half of flexible wire for arms with orange crepe paper and half with black. Twist arms in place. Draw clown features on marshmallow head and set head on top of wire. Cut cap and cape from black and orange paper. Tie or paste in place.

Witch's Cat.
Wrap stiff wire with black crepe paper. Insert in marshmallow base. Cut ears with scissors; outline cat's features with black paint or match black. Set cat head on top of wire. Tie large orange bow beneath head of cat.

Heads in Caps.
Make flat circles by gathering one edge of black and orange crepe paper rectangles. Set marshmallow head, with clove features, in place. Twist cap from black or orange crepe paper and set in place.

CRANBERRY PUFFS
Three-fourths cup cranberries, coarsely chopped
One cup finely rolled crackers
One-eighth teaspoon salt
One-half cup sugar
Three teaspoons baking powder
One tablespoon grated orange rind
One tablespoon shortening
Two eggs
One-half cup milk
Mix cranberries with finely rolled biscuit, salt, sugar, baking powder, orange rind and melted shortening. Slightly beat egg yolks, add milk and stir into first mixture. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Fill deep greased muffin tins or timbale cups two-thirds full and bake in moderate oven for 25 to 35 minutes, according to depth of pans. Serve warm with hard sauce or whipped cream.

GRAPEFRUIT MARMALADE
Select firm perfect fruit. Wash one large grapefruit, one orange and one lemon. Slice as thinly as possible, discarding all seeds. Cover with three quarts of cold water and let stand until next day. Bring to boil slowly and boil five minutes. Remove from fire, add five pounds of sugar, stirring until the sugar is dissolved. Let stand in kettle until next day. Boil slowly, stirring occasionally to prevent burning, until marmalade is thick and rich. Makes 12 glasses.

Orange Icing.
Add enough powdered sugar to the juice, and grated rind of one orange to make the right spreading consistency and use for cup cake icing.

ONIONS STUFFED WITH PEANUTS

Five mild mild onions
Three tablespoons butter or other fat
One-half cup chopped peanuts
Two tablespoons chopped parsley
Two cups bread crumbs
One teaspoon salt
Pepper

Skin onions, cut in half crosswise, simmer in salted water until almost tender, and drain. Remove centers without disturbing outer layers and chop fine. Melt two tablespoons of fat in a frying pan, add chopped onion, and cook for a few minutes. Push vegetables to one side, melt remaining fat and add to it bread crumbs, peanuts, salt, and pepper, then combine with stuffing, cover, and bake in a moderate oven for about 30 minutes, or until onions are tender. Remove cover from baking dish during last of cooking so onions will brown on top. If desired, use peanut butter instead of chopped peanuts, working it into the bread crumb stuffing.

Ice and Oysters.
A little ice goes a long way with oysters served on the half shell. If they remain on ice too long after they are opened, the flavor suffers thereby. Better serve them not long after they are opened.

Finito Sauce.
Melt one tablespoon butter in pan, blend in one tablespoon flour, then add slowly one cup of milk. Finally add two tablespoons minced pimiento and serve over hot halves of hard-cooked eggs.

BABY LABEL BREAD

St. Louis' 39-year favorite

39 YEARS AGO there was no better bread than Baby Label. That has been true ever since, and it's doubly true today. For Baby Label Bread is better than ever before, thanks to the new twist.

Baby Label texture has been good enough to win thousands of families for years. Today the new twist makes this famous texture finer, even. It has no holes, no unevennesses of any kind. That makes Baby Label Bread easier to spread—nicer to eat!

Ask for Baby Label Bread—the bread St. Louis grew up on. Ask for the new twist loaf. Then you'll be sure you're getting the most for your money... the kind of bread you want for your family.

GREEN TOMATOES NOW QUITE PLENTIFUL

Cooked and Spiced They Make Delicious Filling for Pie.

Many green tomatoes are found this week in the markets, permitting more preparation of pickles and pickled.

And how about green tomato pie? If you have never tried this luscious pastry, here is a recipe given by the Bureau of Home Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Green Tomato Pie.
Six medium-sized green tomatoes
Two tablespoons water
One-half lemon, sliced
Two tablespoons cornstarch
One cup sugar
One-eighth teaspoon salt
One-fourth teaspoon cinnamon
Two tablespoons butter
Wash tomatoes, remove stem and blossom ends, and cut into thin slices. Cook tomato, water, and lemon until tomatoes are almost tender and drain. When tomato liquid has cooled add cornstarch, which has been mixed with sugar and salt, and cook until thickened. Add tomatoes, cinnamon, and butter, and mix thoroughly. Pour hot mixture into a baked pastry shell, add the top sheet of dough and bake in a moderately hot oven for about 30 minutes, or until golden brown.

SPICE CAKE

One-half cup butter.
Two cups brown sugar.
Two egg yolks.
Two cups cake flour (sifted before measuring).
One teaspoon baking powder.
One teaspoon soda.
Two teaspoons cinnamon.
One-half teaspoon cloves.
One-half teaspoon nutmeg.
One cup sour milk or buttermilk.
One teaspoon lemon flavoring.
Two egg whites.
Cream butter and sugar together. Add beaten egg yolks. Sift together all other dry ingredients. Add alternately the dry ingredients and sour milk to the butter mixture. Add lemon flavoring. Bake in moderately oven about 45 minutes. Ice loaf with any desired frosting.

Nut and Olive Sandwiches.
Chop equal parts of nuts and stuffed olives and moisten with mayonnaise. Spread on whole wheat bread.

CHICKEN GOES FAR IN COMBINATIONS

Pie, Croquettes, Hamburger-Style Cakes and Casserole Recipes Given.

"My family is so fond of chicken but it never goes far enough to satisfy them," complains a reader of this section.

Why not try spreading it out by using it with other foods? Buy a small chicken, stew it and pick meat from bones. Reserve the gravy for soup or to use in some of the following recipes with the meat.

Chicken and Vegetable Pie.
Mix two cups of left-over chicken, cut in small pieces with two cups mixed cooked peas, potatoes and celery. Add two cups of chicken gravy or white sauce. Season. Cover with biscuit dough and bake about half an hour in moderately hot oven. Cut gashes in crust to let steam escape.

Croquettes.
Three tablespoons quick cooking tapioca.
One-half teaspoon salt.
Mix two cups of left-over chicken, cut in small pieces with two cups mixed cooked peas, potatoes and celery. Add two cups of chicken gravy or white sauce. Season. Cover with biscuit dough and bake about half an hour in moderately hot oven. Cut gashes in crust to let steam escape.

Chicken Hamburgers.
Two cups minced cooked chicken.
Three-fourths cup chicken stock or milk.
Salt and pepper.
Few drops onion juice.
Two tablespoons butter or chicken fat.
One-half cup fine cracker crumbs.
Combine chicken, ham, crumbs, sauce, salt and pepper. Very little salt will be needed on account of ham. Turn into casserole, sprinkle with buttered crumbs and bake 20 minutes in moderately hot oven.

Chicken Hamburgers.
Two cups minced cooked chicken.
Three-fourths cup chicken stock or milk.
Salt and pepper.
Few drops onion juice.
Two tablespoons butter or chicken fat.
One-half cup fine cracker crumbs.
Combine chicken, ham, crumbs, sauce, salt and pepper. Very little salt will be needed on account of ham. Turn into casserole, sprinkle with buttered crumbs and bake 20 minutes in moderately hot oven.

TOMATOES STUFFED WITH MUSHROOMS

Six tomatoes (large).
One cup mushrooms cut into small pieces.
One small onion, minced.
One cup minced celery.
One egg.
One cup bread crumbs.
One-half teaspoon pepper.
Two tablespoons butter.
Cut stem ends from tomatoes and scoop out pulp. Sprinkle shells lightly with salt.
To half of mashed tomato pulp add mushrooms, onion, celery and well beaten egg. Save remainder of tomatoes for seasoning other dishes. Add bread crumbs enough to thicken to consistency of soft dough; add salt and pepper. Fill tomato shells half full; place one-half teaspoon butter in center of each and fill to top.
Bake about half an hour in moderate oven.

DRIED APRICOT PIE

One and one-half tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca.
One-third cup sugar.
One-fourth teaspoon salt.
Two cups cooked dried apricots, drained.
One cup hot apricot juice.
One-half cup crushed pineapple, drained.
One-half cup pineapple juice.
Combine tapioca, sugar, and salt. Add apricots and juice and let stand 15 minutes, or while pastry is being made. Line a 9-inch pie plate with pastry rolled to 1/4-inch thickness. Add pineapple and pineapple juice to apricot mixture and turn into pie shell. Arrange lattice of pastry strips across top. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees Fahrenheit) 10 minutes; then decrease heat to moderate (350 degrees Fahrenheit) and bake 30 minutes longer. Cool. Serve with or without sweetened whipped cream.

COFFEE CUSTARD

Beat two eggs slightly, add three tablespoons sugar and a few grains of salt. Then add one cup milk and one cup strong cold coffee. Pour into greased custard cups, place in pan of hot water about an inch deep and bake 40 minutes in moderate oven.

Oranges and Honey.
Sliced oranges over which a little strained honey is poured are delicious for breakfast.

sauce may be served over this dish.
Mincing Chicken and Ham.
Two cups minced chicken.
One cup minced ham.
One cup soft bread crumbs.
Two-thirds cup stock gravy or white sauce.
One teaspoon lemon juice.
Two tablespoons buttered crumbs.
Combine chicken, ham, crumbs, sauce, salt and pepper. Very little salt will be needed on account of ham. Turn into casserole, sprinkle with buttered crumbs and bake 20 minutes in moderately hot oven.

FLAVORED BISCUITS FOR AFTERNOON TEA

Cream Scones Also Delightful for Informal Entertaining.

Because living has been so simplified in the past two years due to enforced economy, entertaining has also taken on a more modest form. Not altogether a misfortune, for there has been quite a revival of "tea time visiting" when friends are invited informally for the cheering cup and pleasant conversation.

Flavored hot biscuits go well with tea and scones are also popular. Here are recipes for some:

Cream Scones.
Two cups sifted cake flour.
Two teaspoons baking powder.
One-half teaspoon salt.
Two teaspoons sugar.
Four tablespoons butter or other shortening.

Two cups sifted cake flour.
Two teaspoons baking powder.
One-half teaspoon salt.
Two teaspoons sugar.
Four tablespoons butter or other shortening.
Two eggs.
One-third cup light cream.
Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt and sugar and beat again. Cut in shortening. Reserve half of an egg white for glaze. Beat remaining eggs well and cream. Add this mixture to flour mixture and stir until all flour is dampened. Then stir hard until mixture forms a soft dough. Turn out at once on slightly floured board and knead half a minute. Roll half an inch thick and cut in triangles. Place on ungreased baking sheet. Brush tops lightly with egg white slightly beaten. Sprinkle with sugar and bake in hot oven about 15 minutes.

Chocolate Tea Biscuits.
Two cups sifted cake flour.
Two teaspoons baking powder.
Four tablespoons sugar.
One-half teaspoon salt.
Two-three cup milk.
Four tablespoons melted butter or other shortening.

Two squares unsweetened chocolate, melted.
Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, sugar and salt and sift again. Add milk and butter and stir carefully until all flour is dampened. Add chocolate and stir vigorously until mixture forms a soft dough and follows spoon around bowl. Turn out immediately on slightly floured board and knead 30 seconds. Roll one-half inch thick and cut with one and one-half inch floured biscuit cutter. Bake on greased baking sheet in hot oven 12 minutes, or until done. Makes three dozen biscuits.

Lemon Tea Biscuits.
Two cups sifted cake flour.
Two teaspoons baking powder.
One-half teaspoon salt.
Four tablespoons butter or other shortening.
One and one-half teaspoons grated lemon rind.
Two-thirds cup milk.
Four tablespoons sugar.
One and one-half teaspoons grated lemon rind.
One-fourth teaspoon lemon juice.
Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Cut in shortening; add lemon rind and blend. Add milk all at once and stir carefully until all flour is dampened. Then stir vigorously until mixture forms a soft dough and follows spoon around bowl. Turn out immediately on slightly floured board and knead 30 seconds. Roll one-fourth inch thick and cut with one and one-half inch floured biscuit cutter. Combine sugar, lemon rind and enough lemon juice to make a crumbly mixture. Place half of biscuits in greased muffin pans or on greased baking sheet; spread with melted butter and with sugar mixture, and top with remaining biscuits, pressing lightly together. Bake in hot oven 8 to 10 minutes, until done. Makes 2 1/2 dozen small biscuits.

Cheese Biscuits.
Two cups sifted flour.
Two teaspoons baking powder.
One-half teaspoon salt.
Two tablespoons butter or other shortening.
One cup grated American cheese.
Three-quarter cup milk.
Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Cut in shortening. Reserve half of an egg white for glaze. Beat remaining eggs well and cream. Add this mixture to flour mixture and stir until all flour is dampened. Then stir hard until mixture forms a soft dough. Turn out at once on slightly floured board and knead half a minute. Roll half an inch thick and cut in triangles. Place on ungreased baking sheet. Brush tops lightly with egg white slightly beaten. Sprinkle with sugar and bake in hot oven about 15 minutes.

Tomato Juice Cocktail.
Four cups tomato juice.
One-fourth cup sugar.
One-half cup lemon juice.
One teaspoon Worcestershire sauce.
Blend all ingredients well together and set in refrigerator to thoroughly chill.

Good Gravy must stand on its own Feet

GRAVY should be more than a faint echo of the meat it comes from; good gravy should have a character of its own. You can put in the character this way: To each cupful of gravy add one teaspoon of Lea & Perrins Sauce. Add it at the table if you like—a few drops of Lea & Perrins to the gravy on your plate. Try it—it will give you a new respect for gravy—and for Lea & Perrins' power to season flavor. It's too delicious not to try!

"DON'T LIE TO ME, WOMAN!
YOU DIDN'T MAKE THIS CAKE!"
"OH, YES I DID, MR. SMARTY—AND ANY TIME I WANT TO, I CAN MAKE ANOTHER JUST AS GOOD. AUNT HARRIET TIPPED ME OFF TO SOMETHING!"

Now Janet, do be sure to use Calumet Baking Powder—and you'll never have any more sad stories to tell me about your baking. Calumet makes all the difference in the world in texture! The layers rise more evenly, too—on account of that Double-Action—one action in the mixing bowl and another in the oven.

Don't go putting in more Calumet than the recipe calls for! That small proportion is right for Calumet—it goes further, you see, than other baking powders.

CREAM LOAF CAKE—(2 eggs)

2 cups sifted Swans
Down Cake Flour
2 teaspoons Calumet
Baking Powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup sugar
2 eggs, well beaten
1-1/4 cups heavy cream
1 teaspoon vanilla
Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift together three times. Add sugar gradually to eggs, and beat well. Add flour, alternately with cream, a small amount at a time. Beat after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla. Bake in greased pan, 8 x 8 x 2 inches, in moderate oven (350° F.) 50 minutes. Spread chocolate butter frosting on top and sides of cake. (All measurements are level.)

I know you'll have marvelous luck with this cake—it's easy and it's delicious!

FISH CANAPES TASTY EITHER HOT OR COLD

Simple Suggestions to Dress Up Family Dinners.

"I am trying to dress up my dinners and treat the family like company, and you have no idea how pleased they are," one of our readers tells us.
"It's really not so much extra trouble, and it adds an appetizing tang of surprise to the meal," she says.
Canapes are one of her new touches, and she finds either hot or cold fish excellent for these. Here are some of her recipes:
Sardine Canapes.
Spread thin slices of bacon with mustard, roll each slice around a sardine which has been seasoned with lemon juice and paprika. Tie and bake in hot oven until bacon is crisp. Serve on toast strips.
Crab Canapes.
Combine one cup flaked crabmeat, two tablespoons cream, one-fourth teaspoon salt, one-sixth teaspoon paprika and one teaspoon of lemon juice. Spread on strips of bread, spread lightly with grated cheese and brown in hot oven.
Shrimp Canapes.
Mix one cup of minced cooked or canned shrimp with one and one-third teaspoons lemon juice, a few drops of tabasco, one and a half tablespoons minced green peppers. Put on crackers spread with mayonnaise and garnish with finely chopped hard-cooked egg and minced pickles.
Salmon Canape.
One-half cup canned salmon, flaked.
One hard-cooked egg, chopped.
One tablespoon dried celery.
Two tablespoons mayonnaise.
One teaspoon minced onion.
One cucumber pickle, chopped.
Mix fish with egg, celery, onion, mayonnaise, salt, pepper and pickle. Spread on rounds of buttered nut bread.
Tuna Canapes.
One and a half cups cooked, flaked fish.
One cup rich cream sauce.
One-half tablespoon green pepper, minced.
One-fourth tablespoon chopped pimento.
One-fourth teaspoon curry powder.
Salt and cayenne.
Mix fish with cream sauce. Season with the curry powder, salt and cayenne. Make round, pieces of toast about three inches in diameter, cover the toast with the fish mixture, piling high in the center. Sprinkle with grated cheese, dot with butter, brown in a hot oven.

HAM SHANK MEDLEY

One shank end ham.
Five small potatoes.
One small head cabbage cut in fifths.
Five small onions.
Three small turnips, cut in quarters.
Three medium-sized carrots, cut in quarters lengthwise.
Plunge ham in a kettle of hot water and simmer one hour before adding vegetables. At the end of the first hour's cooking, add turnips, and when these have cooked 15 minutes add other vegetables; cook 30 minutes longer, remove vegetables carefully so as not to break in pieces and serve on a platter. Arrange ham in the center of the platter and surround with vegetables.

NEW ENGLAND FISH DINNER

Two pounds fish, freshened.
One-quarter pound salt pork.
Twelve raw beets.
Two pounds small potatoes.
Two cups small onions.
Two cups white sauce.
Two hard-cooked eggs, chopped.
Bring fish slowly to a boil. Cut the pork in narrow, thin slices and crisp in oven or frying pan. Cook vegetables separately. Place fish on platter and cover with sauce. Sprinkle eggs over the top. Garnish the platter with pork and vegetables by grouping, placing the beets at both ends, potatoes front and back and the onions between with pork strips.

OYSTER PIE

Drain one quart oysters, saving the juice. Go over the oysters to remove any bits of shell. Melt one-quarter cup butter, add one-half cup thinly sliced celery and one slice of onion, chopped fine. Cook slowly for 10 minutes without browning. Then stir in one-quarter cup flour and when well mixed add the oyster juice, one cup milk, one-half cup thin cream. Stir until thickened and boiling. Add the oysters and pour at once into a deep baking dish. Cover with a thin biscuit crust, cut three slits in the crust and bake in a hot oven for 25 minutes or until browned.

FISH FILLETS BAKED IN CREAM

Cut fish fillets in long, narrow strips, roll and skewer with toothpicks. Season with salt and pepper. Roll in flour, dip in beaten egg, and roll in fine, soft bread crumbs.
Place fillets close together in a shallow baking dish, dot with butter and pour in thin cream until the fish is about half covered. Bake in a moderate oven for about 30 minutes.

Mother Takes a Holiday
AND DAUGHTER DOES THE WASH IN HALF THE TIME

Cuts Out All Boiling, Scrubbing, Rubbing Soaks Clothes Clean In 15 Minutes!

1 MY DAUGHTER IS DOING THE WASH TODAY! SHE'S BEEN STUDYING DOMESTIC SCIENCE, AND SHE OFFERED TO DO IT "THE MODERN WAY"—WITH A SOAP CALLED OXYDOL.

2 GOOD HEAVENS! HERE SHE IS NOW—AND IT'S ONLY ELEVEN O'CLOCK.

3 SHE'LL SOON FIND OUT IT'S NO FUN, WHATEVER SOAP SHE USES!

4 YOU'LL SEE. I'LL BET A BOY RANG HER UP AND SHE DROPPED EVERYTHING IN THE MIDDLE!

5 ALL DONE, MOTHER! COME AND SEE HOW SPARKLING WHITE YOUR WASHLINE IS!

6 DONE? YOU COULDN'T POSSIBLY GET THINGS CLEAN IN THIS TIME!

7 THERE! IS THAT WHITE? AND JUST FEEL IT—AND SMELL IT!

8 I DON'T SEE HOW YOU DID IT! THESE SHEETS USED TO COME OUT GRAY EVEN AFTER BOILING!

9 TELL US HOW.

10 THERE'S NO MYSTERY. 15 MINUTES' SOAKING IN CREAMY OXYDOL SUDS—NO SCRUBBING OR BOILING! AND THE CLOTHES WILL LAST AGES LONGER!

11 YOU'D THINK IT WOULD FADE THINGS, WORKING SO FAST, BUT ALL THE COLORED THINGS ARE BRIGHT AS NEW!

12 I REMEMBER NOW. OXYDOL IS PROCTER AND GAMBLE'S NEW GRANULATED SOAP.

13 SEE YOU LATER! I'M MEETING TOM FOR LUNCH.

14 I WOULDN'T HAVE BELIEVED A SOAP COULD MAKE ALL THAT DIFFERENCE!

15 THE JOKE'S ON US, ALL RIGHT. I'M GOING TO ORDER A PACKAGE OF OXYDOL RIGHT NOW!

DIRT SOAKED OUT LIKE MAGIC BY AMAZING NEW LAUNDRY SOAP

Ends Forever All Scrubbing And Boiling—Works Faster Than Any Soap Known Before—Yet Can't Harm Hands, Clothes Or Colors

HERE is a new scientific soap development that has already revolutionized washdays in more than a million homes. A creation so amazing that women everywhere are asking—"Will the wonders of science never cease?"
An utterly new-type laundry soap. A soap that multiplies itself 500 TIMES in suds. Which means you get at least twice as much suds as from old-style soaps. A still faster-washing, still whiter-washing soap that's utterly SAFE for colors, fabrics, and hands.
This remarkable new discovery is called OXYDOL. And you'll find to your surprise that it makes other soaps—"granulated," bar, or flake—hopelessly out-of-date.
Women believed they had the fastest soap already! Then found it was slow, alongside OXYDOL. For OXYDOL utterly banishes boiling. It ends washboard scrubbing. It cuts soaking time to 15 minutes—gets clothes out hours sooner.
They believed they had the whitest washes they could possibly get. And are now amazed by washes 4 to 5 shades whiter than before.
By impartial scientific test, ONE washing with OXYDOL gets clothes whiter than 2 to 4 washes with other soaps. But that's not all!
You'll find clothes actually last longer, washed with this new soap. That the daintiest colors DO NOT fade. That it is easier on hands than any soap you've ever used. For no strong agents, no chemical bleaches are in OXYDOL. Just pure soap elements blended with others that protect clothes against fade.
OXYDOL simply can't hurt anything clear water won't!

DISSOLVES DIRT—In Any Water, Hard or Soft

Its creamy, "free-acting" suds dissolve dirt in 15 minutes. No boiling, no back-breaking scrubbing is necessary. Nor any "water-softener," either. For the right amount of water-softener is already there.
Different from ordinary soaps, OXYDOL is specially fitted to water conditions in each district where it is sold. The water in this district, for example, has been tested for "hardness" by expert chemists. The OXYDOL you buy here contains just the right proportion of "softener" to fit it.
With OXYDOL you'll do your wash in 25% to 40% less time. You'll get a whiter, sweeter-smelling wash than ever before. Everything will iron beautifully—no soap streaks or smudges anywhere. And you'll never be bothered with fading colors or red, soap-bitten hands.
These things we promise you. Whatever your former favorite, try OXYDOL next time you wash. You'll never go back to slower soaps or harsher soaps again! Procter & Gamble.

OXYDOL

ECONOMICAL

By actual test, a regular 25c package of Oxydol will do the work of 8 to 10 cakes of bar soap—or 2 to 3 times as much flake.

"Helen, you sure know my weakness"

YOU ought to be a detective, Helen. For you've certainly discovered my weakness—cheese—especially a cheese flavor like this!

If you, or anyone in your life, has a weakness for cheese, Chateau is made to order for you.

It's a new and distinctive cheese treat that is mild, but not too mild; tangy, but not too tangy. In other words it's just right.

And Borden makes it by a special pasteurizing process that adds valuable body-building elements good for the youngsters... and brings Chateau to you in a form that's as easily spread as butter.

Try Chateau. See why it has enjoyed such phenomenal success with cheese-lovers. Your grocer has it, in the special Borden package that keeps it fresh and does away with all rind and all waste.

And don't miss these other Borden treats
Let Chateau serve as your introduction to the complete line of Borden's Fine Cheeses: to Borden's Cream Cheese, Borden's Swiss, Borden's Brick, Borden's Pimento, Borden's American, Military Brand Camembert, Liederkranz, Borden's Limburger.

TWO MEN ADMIT ROBBERY OF OIL STATION, GET 5 YEARS

Fair Stole $35 From Attendant at 1187 South Kingshighway, Negro Sentenced.

Ervin Bekhardt and Martin Barron pleaded guilty today of robbery of a gasoline station attendant last July 19 and were sentenced to five years each in the penitentiary by Circuit Judge Bader. They admitted taking $35 from Ralph Sell, attendant at 1187 South Kingshighway. Bekhardt is 33 years old and Barron 41.

Herman Reese, Negro ex-convict, was sentenced to five years in prison when he pleaded guilty of taking $5.35 from Emil Lucas, 6220 Natural Bridge road, at the point of a knife. The holdup occurred in an alley near Fourteenth street and Franklin avenue last Sept. 4.

ANTI-HOLIDAY FARM GROUP ORGANIZING

Southwestern Iowans Forming Society to Oppose Agricultural Strike.

By the Associated Press.

DES MOINES, Ia., Oct. 27.—In opposition to the national farm strike, farmers in Southwestern Iowa are forming an anti-holiday organization whose principal function would be to keep farm produce moving to markets.

At Glenwood, farmers named Frank Buffington of Glenwood temporary chairman. Their action followed closely on the withdrawal of members of a company of Iowa National Guardsmen who were deputized by Sheriff William Demoss of Mills County to keep open the bridge over the Missouri River at Plattsmouth, Neb.

The guardsmen appeared as private citizens under instructions from State Adjutant-General Charles Grahl were not permitted to wear uniforms or carry side arms. Sheriff Demoss reported that some had put on uniforms when deputized, later changed to civilian dress.

LOUIS L. BOEHMEN DIES AT MUSICIANS' MEETING

Stricken After Making Speech; Formerly With Symphony, Also Practiced Law.

Louis L. Boehmen, musician and attorney, died of a heart attack yesterday afternoon while attending a meeting of the Musicians' Mutual Benefit Association at Musicians' Hall, 3535 Pine street. He was stricken after completing a speech which would have reduced the pay of officers of the association.

Mr. Boehmen, who was 63 years old, played in the second violin section of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra for 20 years, starting when he was 18. He withdrew in 1908, when he was graduated from the Washington University Law School, but retained his interest in music, playing in the Municipal Theater Orchestra for 10 years, until two years ago, and with the orchestra at the American Theater.

He also was a pianist and organist. His father, John Boehmen, a musician and one of the founders of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, died in 1926.

Active in politics, Mr. Boehmen was president of the Neun Republican Club of the Twenty-second Ward last January. In 1909 he was an unsuccessful candidate for Councilman.

Following the death of his wife in 1921, Mr. Boehmen resided in the home of his sister, Mrs. George B. Godfrey, 2620 Union boulevard.

The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from the Peetz Undertaking Co., Lafayette avenue at Longfellow boulevard, to Bellefontaine Cemetery.

SAN JOAQUIN STRIKE ENDS

Cotton Pickers Return "Under Protest," Leader Says.

By the Associated Press.

FRESNO, Cal., Oct. 27.—Picking starts in full force in the San Joaquin valley cotton belt today after a strike which for weeks threatened the $10,000,000 crop.

A definite end to the prolonged walkout was reported by authorities last night as Miss Caroline Decker, 21-year-old blonde strike leader, announced accepting "under protest" of a compromise wage increase for pickers. The compromise pay is 75 cents for each 100 pounds of cotton harvested, an increase of 15 cents over the former scale. Strikers, estimated by authorities to number 12,000 originally demanded $1 and later held out for 80 cents.

BULL GOES FARMER TO DEATH

Animal Also Charges Victim's Wife; Neighbors Rescue Her.

By the Associated Press.

MANFIELD, Mass., Oct. 27.—Wilhelm Cross, 32 years old, a farmer, was gored to death by a bull yesterday and his wife, Alvina, 32, was injured as she went to her husband's assistance.

Cross went to a pasture to lead the bull home. Later his wife heard the bull roaring and ran to the pasture to find he had driven his horns into her husband's side and tossed him into the air. She attempted to chase the animal away, but he charged her. The woman was rescued by neighbors, who held the bull at bay with pitchforks.

A. J. McGuire, Creamery Man, Dies.

By the Associated Press.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 27.—Arthur J. McGuire, 59 years old, founder and general manager for 11 years of Land of Lakes Creameries, Inc., largest dairy co-operative in the United States, died yesterday after a brief illness. The organization comprises 450 co-operative creameries owned by about 33,000 farmers.

SAYS HAROLD MCCORMICK'S LOVE COOLED IN FOUR MONTHS

Mrs. Doubleday Files Dates in $1,500,000 Breach of Promise Suit Against Chicagoan.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—Mrs. Rhoda Tanner Doubleday of New York charges that it took only four months for the love of Harold F. McCormick to cool. For his refusal to carry out an alleged promise to marry her, the New York divorcee asks for $1,500,000 from the chairman of the International Harvester Co.

The declaration of her breach of promise suit, filed in Circuit Court yesterday, says that McCormick proposed on Nov. 7, the day before election last year. He told her he would not marry her, it charges, on March 4, this year.

"We are going to contest it to the end," McCormick's attorney announced, when inquiry was made as to possible settlement out of court.

MUNICIPAL LEAGUE ELECTION

Mayor of Richmond Heights Heads County Group.

Brainerd W. La Tourette, Mayor of Richmond Heights, was elected president of the St. Louis County League of Municipalities last night, succeeding Mayor John B. Chipman of Webster Groves. Glen Mohler, City Attorney of Clayton, was re-elected executive secretary.

Other officers: Alvan J. Goodbar, chairman of the Board of Trustees of McKnight Village, vice-president, and Walter Heinboeche, city engineer of University City, treasurer.

The law firm of Greensfelder & Grand filed suit in Circuit Court yesterday against the closed West St. Louis Trust Co. for a fee of $12,000 for legal services. Among the conferences over a six-weeks period trying to effect a reorganization, C. P. Frier, Deputy State Finance Commissioner in charge of the bank, previously had rejected the claim.

JUST AILING ALONG

Low mentally and physically. Peppless... Irritable... yet nothing really wrong.

He used to be the liveliest member of his crowd. And now, just half-alive! Slipping on the job—worrying family and friends. Tossing at night—fearing some dangerous ailment. And yet, ten to one it's nothing really serious—nothing he cannot easily correct in a few days.

It's Asthenia

(Run-down condition, usually caused by Constipation)

Millions of men and women are in the same lamentable plight today... and not one in ten can guess the cause. That's the tedious thing about Asthenia... it drags you down, slows your mind, robs you of your joys and pleasures, yet you hardly realize you're slipping.

Would you like for once to brush the slouch from your eyes—be ready and eager for any task—experience all the joys of this glorious old world? Then rid yourself of Asthenia—and all say rid of it. You think that you're not the least bit sluggish—you say that you're "regular" as can be—but physicians will tell you that it's only too easy to deceive yourself in this respect and stay doped with poisons. Thus millions of micro-organisms accumulate in the intestinal tract and produce that dull, aching, peppless feeling known as Asthenia.

Decide right now to turn the tables on Old Man Gloom. Take Pluto Water every morning for ten mornings, and see a new world in ten days.

Gentle, Effective

Take it before breakfast, after a glass of water—four-fifths glass Pluto Water in four-fifths glass water—for ten straight days! Cleanse your system of every vestige of health-destroying impurities. Then you will understand why for nearly 30 years, from all over the world, people have traveled to French Lick Springs for this ten-day Pluto Water treatment. And why physicians everywhere recommend it as a mild and effective laxative—non-habit-forming.

Two sizes—2c and 6c—effective at all drug counters. Beware of cheap imitations. Get the genuine French Lick Springs Hot French Lick, Indiana.

PLUTO WATER

Now in Two Forms—PLUTO WATER and FRENCH LICK SALTS

The same essential minerals contained in the famous Pluto Water have now been concentrated into pleasant-tasting, effervescent laxative crystals known as FRENCH LICK SALTS. Effectively cleanses the system, gives the same beneficial benefits as Pluto Water. Try it. At all stores—5c the bottle.

MAN SOUGHT IN $7000 CHECK FORGERY CAUGHT

W. A. Tucker, Who Disappeared 12 Years Ago, Held on Interception of Mail Charge.

William A. Tucker, who disappeared from St. Louis 12 years ago after cashing about $800 worth of fellow employees' pay checks, was arrested yesterday in Kirkwood by Postoffice Inspector Kuperfer on an indictment pending in Concord, N. H., charging interception of mail.

Tucker has been sought since October, 1921, when he left the employ of Frederick L. Thompson, wealthy Rye Beach (N. H.) resident, for whom he worked as a caretaker.

Postoffice Inspectors declare that Tucker, then wanted for taking dividend checks from Thompson's desk, came to St. Louis last December and got in touch with his wife, whom he had left in 1921 with their two children.

She had married in the meantime, but left her husband, by whom she had three children, and went with Tucker to New York, taking their two children with them but leaving her children by her second marriage in St. Louis. She had married the second time, Inspectors say, under the impression that Tucker, missing for years, had died.

Before leaving St. Louis for New York, the Postoffice Inspectors charge, Tucker wired the postmaster at Rye Beach to forward Thompson's mail to the St. Nicholas Club in New York. Arrived in New York, they say, he sent a messenger for the mail, obtained a bank statement from the First National Bank in Boston among the letters, and on the strength of the statement cashed a forged check for $7000 against Thompson's account. The charge of interception of mail, based on this alleged transaction, is punishable by a maximum sentence of five years in prison and a fine of $3000.

Seeking Tucker, Inspectors learned that he had written letters to a relative in St. Louis. Recently they learned that he had returned and was living on Brooklyn avenue in Kirkwood. He and his family were moving yesterday to a house at 780 Fillmore avenue when he was arrested.

Postoffice Inspectors say that Tucker was sentenced to two years in Leavenworth for desertion from the First Missouri Infantry in 1917. After his release he went to work for the Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad as a clerk. He disappeared from St. Louis on Feb. 1, 1921, after leaving the office with checks of other clerks which he was to have cashed for them.

Subsequently, Inspectors say, he married a woman who worked with him on the Thompson estate at Rye Beach. He parted from her before returning to his first wife in St. Louis. While he was working for Thompson, Inspectors say, he was known as Richard Allen. Federal agents say that during the past 12 years he also has represented himself at various times as William Arthur, and Lieut. William Turner.

NEEDY EX-SLAVE GETS RELIEF BY WRITING TO PRESIDENT

84-Year-Old North Carolina Negro Appeals to "Head Man" When Charities Pass Him By.

By the Associated Press.
 MARGARETTSVILLE, N. C., Oct. 27.—With destitution upon him and no help in sight from local relief agencies, Andrew Powell, 84-year-old Negro, took his case directly to the President and now he is living in comfort at executive orders from the White House.

First "rheumatism" beset Powell, former slave, and he couldn't work. Then his aged wife grew seriously ill and took to bed. He applied to charity workers for help, but somehow they passed him by in the rush of caring for victims of a wind storm that struck this vicinity.

Somewhat the old Negro about the "head man" in the White House, describing him as "real whitefolks."

So Powell sat down and with feeble hand scribbled President Roosevelt a letter. He told the chief executive of his trials and tribulations, and would "real whitefolks" please help "a ol' nigger who ain't long fer dis worl'."

Right back came a letter from the White House, telling Powell not to worry.

Just behind that letter came local relief workers carrying a burden of things to eat and to warm the old ex-slave and his sick wife. The two now are listed permanently on the relief rolls.

TO HEAR PLEA OF FARMERS FOR EXTENSION OF DEBTS

Attorney O. D. Newlon Appointed Conciliation Commissioner Under Altered Bankruptcy Act.
 O. D. Newlon, an attorney, today was appointed Conciliation Commissioner for Ralls County, Mo., to conduct hearings under the amendment to the bankruptcy laws for the benefit of farmers seeking composition or extension of their debts. The appointment, by Federal Judge Davis, was on petition of 15 farmers asking debtors' relief. Newlon, who resides at New London, in Ralls County, will receive $10 for each case handled.

The Australian "Wonder" Horse—Wondering What It's All About

No, that's not Winooka, the Australian marvel, out in front—that's Mate. The "greatest sprinter in the world," so advertised, is just entering the picture at the left. There were five horses in the race at Laurel, Md., Wednesday and Winooka finished fifth, as shown.

Post-Dispatch Free Boxing School Idea Approved by Highest A. A. U. Officials

Avery Brundage, president of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States and his assistant, J. Lyman Bingham, have sent a telegram of congratulation to the Post-Dispatch commending this newspaper for the boxing school for amateurs which it is fostering here with the co-operation of the City Department of Recreation.

The telegram speaks for itself:

"Have read with much interest announcement of your free boxing school ending with city wide tournament for boys between 16 and 21. Amateur boxing is badly in need of such sponsorship and the results of your efforts will have far reaching effects.

"Your plan is in keeping with the nation-wide movement to provide wholesome entertainment and recreation for increasing leisure time and will be hailed with delight by all lovers of sport in St. Louis.

"On behalf of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States we wish to commend the Post-Dispatch for its interest in the development of clean amateur sport. We also greatly appreciate the co-operation you are receiving from Alfred Fleischman and Benny Kessler who are taking an active part in the reorganization of the A. A. U. in your vicinity. Please feel free to call upon us if we can be of assistance.

(Signed) Avery Brundage, president, J. Lyman Bingham, assistant to the president, Amateur Athletic Union of the United States.

While the opening of the school, which was scheduled for yesterday had to be postponed due to the illness of Kessler, there has been no letup in the interest. Each mail brings additional entries and a checkup of those received by the Post-Dispatch, together with those which have been made direct to the four community centers where the instructions will be given indicate that more than 350 boys have entered.

It is now the intention to start instructions Monday, depending of course upon the speed of Kessler's recovery.

In the meantime those who have not sent in their entry blanks may do so.

Westhus Meets Denver Ace in Billiard Final

Bud Westhus, St. Louis professional three-cushion player, and Robert B. Harper of Denver, the national amateur title holder, will meet in the deciding match in the Southern sectional event, with the winner to qualify for the national championship, at Peterson's parlors tonight at 9 o'clock.

Westhus and Harper are the only undefeated players in the competition. The St. Louisan has won five straight matches, while his rival has chalked up four victories. Harper is scheduled to play Herbert Peterson in a match at 3 o'clock and must win to remain on even terms with Westhus.

Westhus yesterday gained two victories. In the first he gained a 50-to-30 triumph over Frank Fleming, Champaign (Ill.) veteran, running out in 51 innings for his best match of the tournament. Westhus then won from Gene Deardorff, former city amateur champion, but only after a hard fight, 50 to 48, in 82 innings. Deardorff started like a real champion and at the end of 59 innings was leading, 48 to 26. However, in the next 22 innings, Deardorff was able to score only five points, while Westhus scored 24 in 23 to snatch the victory.

In an earlier match Deardorff established a new game record for the tournament when he ran out in 47 innings, in dubbing L. M. Dieckmeyer, 50 to 15. Dieckmeyer came to life in his next match and defeated Ben Goodman, 50 to 35, giving him a record of one victory and five defeats.

Harper, in his only contest, gained a 50-to-44 victory over Fleming in 70 innings.

The standings and today's schedule:

Player	W	L	HR	60
Westhus	5	0	7	81
Harper	5	0	7	82
Deardorff	3	2	7	47
Fleming	4	0	7	83
Peterson	1	3	5	15
Goodman	1	5	0	35
Dieckmeyer	1	5	0	15

TODAY'S MATCHES:
3 p. m.—Fleming vs. Goodman.
3 p. m.—Harper vs. Peterson.
7 p. m.—Deardorff vs. Fleming.
9 p. m.—Westhus vs. Harper.

WILBUR AND PASHALLIAN TO BOX NEXT TUESDAY

The third special bout arranged by Matchmaker Willie Miller for the season's amateur boxing inaugurated at the South Broadway Athletic Club next Tuesday night will bring Walter Wilbur of the Jefferson A. C. against Bob Pashallian of the South Broadway team, in a lightweight event.

In announcing the match today Miller stated that he plans to line up the winner of the Pashallian-Wilbur bout for a future engagement with the winner of the match between William Beaudouh, senior Mississippi Valley lightweight titleholder, and Al Brenet of the Jefferson A. C., who meet in another feature.

CECIL PAYNE IS A WINNER OVER ABAD; PARKS IN DRAW WITH RED

COLISEUM RESULTS

Cecil Payne, Louisville, Ky. (135½), outpointed Dave Abad, St. Louis (133), Tommy Sullivan, referee.

Joe Parks, St. Louis (150), and Joe Red, St. Louis (150), drew; 8 rounds, Sullivan, referee.

Elmer Savage, St. Louis (150), defeated Al De Rose, Chicago (150); 8 rounds, Al Neist, referee.

Al Neist, referee.

Joe Red, St. Louis (150), won technical knockout over Red Tonn, Chicago (150), fourth round. Neist, referee.

Joe Red and Harry Cook, judges.

By W. J. McGoogan.

Cecil Payne, Louisville, Ky., lightweight, scored somewhat of a surprise victory over Dave Abad, St. Louis, at the Coliseum last night in a 10-round contest.

Abad, who had been suffering from a boil on his elbow necessitating postponing the bout for more than a week, fought probably the most sluggish contest he has exhibited in the five or six years he has been boxing in this city.

Up to Record.

Payne proved to be just about as good a boxer as his record indicated. He was smart and clever enough to cope with Abad's style, but he did not show a killing punch.

Abad did a little of the bobbing and weaving for which he is famous but rarely did he flash any of the offense which he has shown in the past. He contented himself with trying to make Payne look foolish and succeeded to some extent but when Cecil refused to swing, Abad could do nothing himself so Payne won.

The Louisville boy seemed to have a shade in three rounds with one going to Abad and the rest even.

Joe Parks and Joe Red, St. Louis boxers, each weighing 150 pounds, fought the hardest contest of the evening. So close were they at the end of the bout that one judge voted for Parks, one called it even and the referee declared that Red had the edge which made it a draw.

Red, a rugged youngster, bored into Parks incessantly and pushed Parks around considerably but Parks' clever younger brother scored with cleaner punches than Red.

It was probably the hardest professional bout that Parks has ever fought. He was bleeding from the nose from an early round but he was not exceptionally cool when the going became rough.

Red wrestled Parks to the floor twice in the last round but Parks refused to become rattled by this display of strength on the part of his opponent and got up to finish strongly.

Savage Is Winner.

Elmer Savage gained a victory by a wide margin over the veteran Al De Rose of Chicago in another eight rounder but he was unable to put De Rose away although Elmer had Al down for a nine count in the seventh round.

Babe Davis won a technical knockout over Red Tonn of Chicago when Tonn refused to come out for the fourth round of their scheduled six-round curtain raiser. Tonn did not seem to be seriously hurt. He was cut under the right eye but not severely, but evidently decided after the third round that he was outclassed and quit.

The attendance was announced as 1898 and the "gate" $24.15.

SAVOLDI'S DROP KICK BANNED BY NEW YORK WRESTLING OFFICIALS

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—"Jumping Joe" Savoldi, former Notre Dame football star, was informed today by the State Athletic Commission that his "drop kick" had been banned and he was warned against attempting to use it in his future wrestling matches.

Savoldi meets "Man Mountain" Dean of Georgia here Monday night.

HENRY SELECTS GUNNER LINEUP FOR REDS' GAME

Gwynn Henry, coach of the St. Louis Gunners, last night announced his starting lineup for the game with the Cincinnati Reds, of the National League, Sunday afternoon at the Public School Stadium.

Henry made a last-minute change and will use Homer Reynolds, the smallest lineman on the squad, at one of the guard berths. Reynolds, who played with Tulsa University last season, will fill up the position which has been vacant since Ray Jennison, regular guard, was injured in last Sunday's game with the Memphis Tigers. Jennison is on the shelf with a dislocated shoulder and probably will be lost to the Henrymen for several weeks.

For the past week Henry has been trying out various line combinations and Reynolds, though a diminutive griddle, made the front wall look best while he was playing. The other Gunner guard will be Leonard McGirl, one of Henry's products from the University of Missouri, and Sandburg, a protege of Ernie Nevers, will begin at the other tackle. Eddie Kaval again is selected to open hostilities at center. The ends, as usual, will be Bob Gonyea and Charley Malone.

Henry also changed his mind about his starting backfield. All week he had been prepping Moses, versatile athlete from Southern California, to start in Breidenstein's position at right halfback, but Breidenstein came through so cleverly yesterday that he will begin the game at his old position. Dick Frahm, the team's outstanding blocker, will be at the other halfback and Chester Johnson will open at fullback.

Feminine grid fans will be admitted at the reduced price of 40 cents and children under 16 years of age will be able to see the game for 25 cents.

There are two world prices for gold, one in London, in shillings and pence, one here, in dollars. Nobody knows quite what the pound or dollar is worth, so the values in gold don't mean much. The real value of gold is based on the franc, still on a gold basis.
So the little French franc, originally worth more than 19 cents, then cut down to less than 4 cents, is now the world's standard of value. The President of France, if he knew American slang, might say to the President of the United States, "Laugh that off."

Then came miserably poor wages, less than $25 a year in Russia for instance, while a President of the United States complained that you couldn't hire a good man in America for less than $100 a year. Recently mechanics got from $5 to $20 a day, now they get less. Occasionally somebody gets a million dollars, or a hundred million, or five hundred million. That means nothing. He never takes it with him.
If the end of the "individualist" should come, that would mean an end of enterprise. But there is no danger of it. Strong individuals, like Grover Whalen, will always exist, each with his top hat and his gardenia in his button hole, if he wants them, doing useful work for society.

A Balanced Blend

I keep coming back to that word "balanced" on the back of the Chesterfield package

YOU often hear the word balance—something is out of balance—top-heavy, not on an "even keel."

What you read, "Chesterfield Cigarettes are a balanced blend," means that the right amounts of the right kinds of tobacco are welded together; that is, home-grown tobaccos, the right kind, the right quantity—are blended and cross-blended with tobaccos from Turkey and Greece.

When these tobaccos are balanced one against the other, then you have a mild cigarette.

When they are in balance, then you have a better-tasting cigarette.

May we ask you to read again the statement on the back of the Chesterfield package?

May we ask you to try Chesterfield?

More About Minor-Suit Bidding

In the last two articles we examined responding hands with which, in response to a diamond opening bid by the partner, we bid either one in a higher suit or two trumps or two diamonds. All these hands had powerful diamond support and if the diamond and spade holdings had been interchanged, and opener had bid a spade, our bid would have been in most cases three spades. Since a minor suit was bid, we avoided the jump raise, our immediate objective was to feel out the trump situation rather than give an immediate option between trumps and no trumps and a game in the suit.

At Last We Come to It. When should one give a jump raise in a minor suit? All our preliminary "don'ts" have been leading up to this question. My answer is this: Give the jump minor-suit raise when your distribution is such that you feel the hand will be reasonably safe at five in the minor, but that you will be nervous about letting your partner play in three no trumps unless he can actually bid the suit you are afraid of.

Almost necessarily this means that your hand must have a singleton or worthless doubleton and that in high cards it must be about a trick stronger than a hand with which you would give a jump raise in a major suit. With

Sp. x x D. Q x x x
H. K x x C. A x x
S. x

I would raise immediately to three diamonds. With the first hand, I would not stand for three no trumps unless my partner could bid spades secondarily. Over three spades I would bid three no trumps, but I would avowly hope that my partner could make some further constructive rebid, relying on my jump raise, as a slam is almost sure unless there are two aces off the hand. Opener might have A K J x x in diamonds and K Q x x in spades, in which event we should get to five diamonds, but no further. If he has two aces, we should not have much trouble in getting to six, since my first bid told him that I was perfectly ready to get to five diamonds even if his bid was a minimum of its kind, with primary values shaded below three primary tricks because of very aggressive distribution.

With the second hand I would not stand for no trumps even if he bid spades secondarily. Since we very near and again we should stop short of it only if he has opened with only one ace. I would not mind making a later cue bid in hearts with this hand to show that we had losers only in the club suits—and that he, not I, could count those losers. An immediate response of two clubs would be too weak and too misleading; this suit will be useful only for slam purposes, and only if your partner can bid clubs secondarily or show top clubs by a no-trump bid at a higher level than three—that is, constructively and not as a sign-off.

The Position Factor as Regards the Opening Bid.

In the above examples I have assumed that the opening bid was made by dealer or in second position, so that the bidblatibility of the opener's minor suit required no confirmation. If the opening bid was made in third position or, to a less extent, by fourth hand, the jump raise is equally advisable with the two hands just given. However, I would in these cases pass three no trumps if that were his response to the jump raise, as I would conclude that his diamonds might be weak, far from biddable in any other position, and that he had bid the hand in the suit. In that case, his strength is elsewhere and our best chance is in no trumps. If his opening bid was not a real bid at all, but only a defensive psychic, he would pass my three diamonds. However, in responding to a third-hand diamond bid I would also bid three diamonds on such a holding as

Sp. x x D. K Q J 10 x
H. K x x C. A 10 x x

to tell my partner that I am prepared for a weak diamond-holding by him, and only I want to get to game—probably in no trumps—unless he has bid an out-and-out psychic. I am reaching out for a game; whereas had he opened in first or second position, I would be planning to induce a constructive rebid for slam purposes, and would bid two diamonds only. In other words, if I know he has a natural rebid, I will permit him to make it. If he may have no actual rebid, I must compel a forced response for fear of losing a game. In either event if he has a real bid the slam developments can be properly handled. The point is to safeguard the game in connection with a third or fourth hand opening bid which may have no justification for rebidding unless forced. At the same time, my response shows wherein lies the safety of the hand if my partner's hand is very weak.

WHERE ARE THE PROPHETS?

Confidential Talks With Mothers and Fathers.

Hobbies in the Family
In one family of my acquaintance hobbies were so popular that a child who did not have one by the time he or she reached adolescence was looked upon as an oddity. The father collected phonograph records, and had such an amazing collection that he gave concerts which his friends and neighbors enjoyed greatly. The mother made a specialty of books on art, in particular on Leonardo da Vinci, and eventually became quite an authority on the subject. One son, who was preparing for law, studied Chinese art for his own amusement and, though he had no money to collect either books or specimens, was laying up an ambition for future fulfillment. As a result of the number and variety of hobbies, no one could ride his own without giving an opportunity to the others occasionally to exercise theirs. Gradually there came to be an interchange of views and ideas on the various subjects which enlarged each field. Chinese music was added to the record collection; books on Chinese art stood beside the Leonardo volumes; and presenting was chiefly in the coin of the other fellow's hobby. The home was alive and active like a hive with bees bringing in honey. Nearly every day some new thought or one more item was added to the record collection; a joy and triumph that pervaded the entire house. Whether these hobbies made the family more interesting to their friends and neighbors is beside the point. Certainly they unified and inspired the home, and I do not doubt, enriched and made fuller and happier the lives of their possessors.

Pineapple Cakes
One-half cup butter.
One cup sugar.
Two-thirds cup pineapple juice.
Two cups pastry flour.
Two teaspoons baking powder.
On teaspoon lemon extract.
One-eighth teaspoon salt.
Two egg whites, beaten.
One-half cup crushed pineapple.
Cream butter and add sugar. Add juice, flour and baking powder. Beat two minutes. Fold in lemon extract, salt and egg whites. Half fill greased muffin pans. With spoon insert teaspoon of pineapple into centers of the batter. Bake 15 minutes in moderate oven. Cool and frost.

Buttered White Onions
Peel small white onions to the amount desired. Cover with cold water. Bring slowly to boiling point, then drain and rinse in cold water. Repeat the process. The third time continue cooking until onions are tender, about 20 minutes. Drain well, add a large lump of butter, salt and pepper and let stand over a low flame until the butter melts. Serve in a heated vegetable dish. The onions will have a lovely delicate flavor if cooked this way.

Muffin pans should be filled two-thirds full.

LISTEN, WORLD!

by Elsie Robinson

We Must Be Self-Starters

SHE hasn't any initiative. She'll do perfectly whatever she is told to do; follow directions intelligently. But she never thinks of doing things by herself. And if she's left to carry an unprogrammed responsibility, she falls down. Then everyone is furious.

Being a friendly little soul, this distresses her terribly. Nor can she understand it. Why should people be so angry just because she doesn't go ahead on her own? To be "happy," good-natured and obedient—that was enough when she was a girl. And it was enough during her married life, when Jim was here to plan everything.

But now Jim has gone, and, at 38, Mrs. Allen must get out and earn a living somehow. There have been good chances—hotel hostess, traveling companion, housekeeper—but she has failed at all of them, and always for the same reason.

"If people would only be a little patient and understanding," she says ruefully. "It really isn't my fault. I was always this way. I simply wasn't born with initiative. It never was easy for me to strike out, like it is for other girls. Even if I had wanted to, my father wouldn't have let me. He always wanted me to run everything. So did Jim."

"But everybody said I was a wonderful daughter and wife, and I'm just as willing to do things now. I know I could succeed if people would only tell me what they want. Why can't they? That surely isn't asking much."

Her voice breaks. You can feel the fright that is creeping upon her. But you can also see that she's sorry for herself; believes that she has been unfairly treated; thinks that the modern world is cruelly commercial, with no consideration for finer feelings.

She's wrong, of course. There is kindness in the world as there ever was. But there isn't as much leisure. These are busy, crowded days. Gorgeous days, in which we should all have a part. And we can all have a part, but if we wait for the other fellow to give us direction...

IF WE WANT TO BE PART OF THIS MODERN WORLD, WE MUST BE SELF-STARTERS. Whereupon this discouraged little lady, and millions like her, will sigh, "That lets me out!" But it doesn't.

Initiative isn't something with which one is born. It is something which every human being must acquire. It is never "easy" for anyone "to strike out." We are all born afraid. We must all learn, by slow and painful processes, how to eliminate or control our fear, or at least, hide it. If we don't learn this lesson early, we can learn it late. It is never too late to learn it.

Our parents can help us greatly in learning this lesson. They can help us by forcing us to make decisions and experiments. But comparatively few parents are wise enough to do this. Thirty-five years ago, practically no parents were wise enough. Parents, then, believed in Obedience—and nothing else but. They believed in it enthusiastically, not because obedience was righteous for children, but because it was convenient for parents.

It was convenient for Mrs. Allen's parents to make her obey, and also for her husband. It flattered their conceit and contributed to their comfort. All of which was a bad lesson for Mrs. Allen—and she has a right to resent it.

But it was also convenient for her; and that's something she fails to remember! It's always much easier to let the other fellow do our planning for us. It serves our own laziness and timidity. We don't have to think. We don't have to run dangerous risks or face disagreeable consequences.

In short, while Initiative is lovely in theory, it's a tough, two-fisted job in practice, and it raises Cain with Fraid-cats and Lazy-bones.

WHY IS THERE SO LITTLE INITIATIVE? WHY ARE THERE SO MANY SWELL EXCUSES FOR NOT HAVING IT? That's why. And just where does that park YOU?

The Lovers' Knot for a Quilt

LOVER'S KNOT PATTERN 558
ALL the world loves a lover, and every quiltmaker loves a Lover's Knot. And why shouldn't she, when it makes so decorative a design with so little effort? This quilt should, of course, be carried out in three materials, with the ribbon in two materials, giving the effect of two-toned ribbon. It is not often that a block done entirely in patchwork makes so pictorial a pattern and one that, at the same time, carries out the best traditions of the Colonial needlewoman.

Pattern 558 comes to you with complete, simple instructions for cutting, sewing and finishing, together with yardage chart, diagram of quilt to help arrange the blocks for single and double bed size, and a diagram of blocks which serves as a guide for placing the patches and suggest contrasting materials.

GOOD TASTE

By EMILY POST

Principles of Courtesy

My dear Mrs. Post: I AVENT overlooked the real motive behind the actions of a hostess who has herself served first when other women are present at her table? Having herself served first is really showing real consideration for others. Meaning that since everyone at the table waits until everyone is served before he or she starts to eat, the first serving is the most important practically cold by the time the last person is served and the hostess herself is the coldest portion. Won't you agree that a hostess might have herself served first and at the same time have courteous intentions?

Answer: I cannot remember to have accused any hostesses of rude intentions. I have said, and still do say—that unless something is so wrong with the food that she is afraid her guests will be poisoned, the hostess who helps herself first rather than gives first choice to her guest, may be unthinking and unknowing, but certainly she is NOT. The example you give is very strange to me. WHY should the whole table's company help themselves and then not touch the food until it has grown cold? The fixed rule of etiquette is to eat as soon as two others have said, "I am ready." The other is in many cosmopolitan circles considered correct. To wait for three others is extreme when many are present. When only three or four are present, one is apt to wait longer. But as you yourself have said, certain foods grow cold rather quickly, and the rule of waiting for two others has no doubt become customary for this reason.

Dear Mrs. Post: When writing a note of thanks to a new acquaintance who showed me very friendly kindness and even gave a luncheon in my honor while I was visiting a mutual friend in a distant city, would it be improper to send her a small note as I should very much like to do?

Answer: I can see no objection to your sending a present if you would like to. In fact, it would be a very courteous thing to do. It is very seldom a mistake to follow a spontaneous impulse of kindness or an expression of appreciation. We all love to have someone show us that they like us, and I doubt if anyone lives (unless all spark of youth is dead) who is not thrilled by an unexpected present. Yes, send one by all means—something of no great value but chosen with thoughtful care.

HIT THAT COLD WHERE IT LIVES— in the System!

Don't fool yourself about a cold! It's nothing to be taken lightly nor treated lightly. A cold is an internal infection that will quickly spread within the system unless promptly checked. The wise thing to take for a cold is Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine.

First of all, it is distinctly a cold remedy and not a "cure-all." Secondly, it is an internal treatment. Thirdly, it does the four things necessary. It opens the bowels, combats the cold germs and fever in the system, relieves the headache and grippiness and tones and fortifies the entire system. That's the treatment a cold requires and anything less is being chances. All druggists sell Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine, 30c and 50c. Ask a substitute for the full name and reject a substitute.

My Dear Mrs. Carr: I HAVE been asked to a young man for five years. We want to go to Chicago over the week-end; that is, leave here Friday night on the bus or train and be in Chicago Saturday morning and Sunday. We are making reservations to stay at a private home, and plan to be at the Fairgrounds every minute of the day. Do you think anyone would get the wrong impression? Also, do you see any harm in it?

It seems to me quite all right if you know the character of the place you are to stop and there is not the least question about its respectability. You must know the young man well enough, by this time, to feel that his standing, as well as yours, is all it should be.

My Dear Mrs. Carr: DO NOT live in St. Louis, but know of an old gentleman who has been living from "pillar to post" there for some time and feel uneasy about him and would like to investigate the possibility of getting him into some old folks home. Will you kindly give me the names of some of them in your column?

IF YOU ASK MY OPINION

By MARTHA CARR

Dear Mrs. Carr:

I AM 29 years old and heartbroken; in fact, I have lost all interest in life. I was married to one of the sweetest girls in the universe, and the only mistake she made was in passing on, when she left me behind. I have suffered an irreparable loss, which I know I shall never get over; although my friends and relatives meaning well offer me consolation. We were only happy when we were together. I want to keep her memory dear to me by doing something for others which would make her proud of me. Can you advise me through your paper of some charitable organization, outside of any church, where I can devote my evenings in helping others? Something in welfare work.

B. L.
Organizations for all kinds of welfare work are innumerable. And here is hardly a club of any prominence which has not some kind of welfare work connected with it. Masonic orders might offer you some relaxation and diversion (which, of course, you should take) as well as the other work. Civic welfare work certainly offers every kind of charity field and of course you know that the Y. M. C. A. would give you athletics as well as other interests.

Dear Mrs. Carr: OMTIME ago I started going with a nice girl. One day a friend told me of a slighting remark she had made about me. Although I had a date with her, I did not go back again. Since, I have had time to think it over, I wonder if that friend was just trying to make trouble between us. Is it her place to ask what's wrong?

C. M.
You are slightly tardy of realization. You paid the girl no compliment in giving ear to this line of gossip. It is an old line used to make trouble. Had she really made this remark it was no part of a friend to repeat it to you. Now, you are probably too late. But you might try to explain to her that you do not care and then books at the library and magazines, too, pointing some kind of welfare work in neighborhood gathering.

Dear Mrs. Carr: I AM 60 years old, had four sons, two are living and two dead. I have a husband my same age, who is much interested in other women. He goes to see them; I have seen him myself. I always keep myself clean and attractive. What can I do at my age?

HEARTBROKEN.
I am sorry, but you will not gain anything by allowing him to see that you are heartbroken. You must find other interests—in your church, in beginning to read, first the newspapers and then books at the library and magazines, too, pointing some kind of welfare work in neighborhood gathering.

IT'S ALL DONE WITH MIRRORS THESE DAYS

By Josephine Walter

"IT'S done with mirrors" is a present day expression which might very easily have been coined to describe modern decoration. One of the most interesting features of some of the newer decorative schemes is the utilization of mirrors in adroit and unusual ways, both as to the manner in which they are used and the ways in which they are decorated.

With the present custom of living in apartments or small houses with rooms that frequently lack a sense of spaciousness, mirrors are extremely helpful in extending the dimensions of the room. A mirror, placed at an advantageous spot where it will reflect portions of the room, will make that room seem much larger and better proportioned.

As a fireplace is frequently the center of interest in a room, the overmantel is an ideal spot for placing a mirror. Although the various types of framed mirrors can be used with good effect, it is the plain mirror, which completely covers the wall space above the mantel, that is most in favor today. This wide expanse of mirror gives an illusion of greater space to the room and also reflects the various colors which are used. The plain mirrors are set flat on the wall, either with no visible means of attachment or with tiny glass rosettes or brass stars placed in the four corners. A mirror of this type would be appropriate in practically any style room, regardless of the period furniture used.

One mirror, however, is frequently not enough to satisfy modern ideas of decorating the living room. Often, a mirror is placed over the fireplace and another is set in the opposite wall, so that a double reflection is obtained. In many instances, too, one whole side of a room is lined with glass, in which case the mirror is broken up into panels or squares of some sort.
When this much glass is used, the mirror itself is usually antiqued or given an irregular finish in order to blur the reflection and avoid too much repetition. If only a small amount of glass is desired in the room it might be placed in the space between two windows, thus also serving the purpose of drawing the windows together and permitting them to be treated as one.

Many other rooms in the house also permit the use of this means of decoration. Mirrors in a hall are useful as well as ornamental, especially when placed above con-soles. In addition, today there are cabinets made with mirrors set in the space between floor and top.
And in a house without a dressing room for guests, the inside of the closet door may be fixed with a small mirror and a tiny shelf for make-up.

In the dining room, too, mirrors can provide an effective note of decoration. The service doors into the kitchen or pantry may be made to do double duty by being lined with glass. Of smaller dimensions, glass may be used on the table. Mirrored reflectors for the center of the table are very much in vogue while all mirrored tops are being shown on some dining room tables.

NATURALLY, mirror is most effective and appropriate in a bath or dressing room, and these rooms have become quite elaborate in their use of glass. Instead of the plain silvered mirror, gunmetal, gold, blue and black backed glass are all being displayed, and are often used to completely line the walls of these rooms. In addition, the top of a mirror which is placed above a dressing table is often draped in the same manner as the table which it accompanies, while many mirrors are painted to simulate swag effects in fabric. Dressing tables made entirely of mirrored glass are one of the newest notes in decoration, these, too, being frequently painted with a design of some sort.

And finally, there are the hundred and one little mirrored accesories now to be found in the shops which will help give that smart modern look to almost any room.
Mirrored cigarette boxes and little match boxes to go with them, hanging shelves with mirrored backs, and pictures framed in gleaming glass bands. Folding screens, too, are made of this material; one of the most attractive having alternating panels of blue and gold framed in bamboo. So that, today, all that glitters may not be gold but it is very apt to be a gold-backed mirror.

SEEN in THE STORES
By SYLVIA

FULL length evening wraps luxurious with fur, evening gowns in rich new shades of heavy crepe, cut with a different sort of undressed look, afternoon dresses with metallic trimming, knee-length suits with gobs of fur on the coats, and hats so tiny they look like freshman caps—these were outstanding features of the fashions seen in a special presentation of clothes at a St. Louis store this week. Some of the highlights are given in the following paragraphs.

Those evening wraps would tempt any girl to spend more than her father could make—even if stocks went skyrocketing. Velvet was, of course, the featured fabric, because nothing can compare with it for glamour, but the things that designers are doing with sheer wool are decidedly spectacular. There was one in a banana shade with the shoulders covered with caps of Eastern mink. The waistline was fitted closely to the figure, while the skirt part swept gracefully to the floor.

Padded rolls of bright red velvet on a white velvet evening wrap offered a rare contribution to chic.
These rolls outlined the neck and the front of the coat. A similar achievement with velvet rolls was used on a Persian red crepe evening dress. These formed a lei for the neck and banded the hemline.

The use of fox fur in contrasting colors on the same wrap is something very new and interesting. A banana colored velvet wrap, for example, was fascinating with its bands of red and beige fox around the neck, while black and white fox bands alternated on a black wrap.
Sleeves were cut wide at the wrists and banded so generously with the fox that muff-like cuffs were provided.

The draped neckline which concentrates its most important details at the back instead of the front appeared on both afternoon and evening dresses. The only difference was that for the after-dark fashions it permitted a greater amount of back to show. This arrangement consisted of a very high cowl across the front, a lower drape across the back and a bow with streamers tied on the shoulders.
Don't fail to look for this new line when you're buying a frock for important occasions.

Guests certainly would feel repaid for an invitation to dinner or tea if the hostess appeared in a gown of the type shown in this fashion promenade. To say that it was made of black crepe doesn't sound especially sprightly but to mention that it has a wired collar of starched lace flaring out beyond the shoulders should be better. This collar or bertha, created of handmade alencon, dashed down the back, not stopping until it reached the waist.

Some new colors represented by the gowns in this showing are worth noting as each one has some excuse for its name. Jewel blue was introduced as a deep, mysterious shade mixing some of the amethyst tone with that of the sapphire.
China plate blue proved a good descriptive term for a delicate pastel tint. Banana, that delicate tint between cream and yellow, has been mentioned previously. Persian and joined the ranks of vivid shades, especially smart when combined with black.

BRIARY BUSH, hissed Wyatt Furness. "He's one of Tex Major's colts, isn't he?"

"Yes, he is." Briefly. Again Shelby felt that she was under fire and should take to the cover of her reticence. And it was Briary, she knew, that they had come to see.

"We've seen you riding him," came in Estelle brightly. "But you haven't been on the regular bridled path."

"No," admitted Shelby. "I've found a trail in the woods. I don't have to cross so many public roads."

"You ought to keep him in the club stables," said Mrs. Drumm. "Do you mind my taking a look at him?" asked Wyatt Furness, with emphasized courtesy.

"No, go ahead."

"Don't you ever put him to pasture?" asked Estelle, as though she had Shelby there. But Shelby, already beginning to chafe, explained about Johnnie's pasture lot; she said nothing of the mortgage which lay on every blade of grass. Over in the stall Wyatt Furness's expert, supercilious eye was appraising Briary.

"What a magnificent hunter!" he decided, commonplacely enough.

Estelle went over and looked, but less particularly.

"He's a Kentucky horse, isn't he?" she asked, and Shelby was again on her guard.

"Yes, Tex Major was one of them."

"Then Briary comes from your father?"

"No."

"He's so lovely, and we've all been perfectly mad to have you bring him out and let us see him. With a coy air of scolding, 'I think you and Johnnie are awfully extravagant to buy such a horse.'"

"We didn't buy him," said Shelby, and before the words were out she knew she shouldn't have said that.

"Oh, then he was a present," decided Mrs. Drumm.

Mrs. Drumm and Wyatt Furness leaned over the stall.

"He's 16 hands high," estimated Mrs. Drumm.

"Not on your life," declared Wyatt Furness, "he's sixteen-two, if he's an inch."

He was right, but Shelby did nothing to encourage him. She stood there, feeling as she always did in the presence of the Wyatts, like a mouse, crouching to spring into the faces of encircling cats.

"I think it was very generous of your grandfather to send you such a present," persisted Estelle.

"My grandfather didn't," Shelby held her inquisitor's eye, and her tone was not pleasant.

"Goodness, what a mystery!" Estelle's look sharpened. "It's almost worth getting married, having friends send you..."

THE tension was relieved by a damaged flyover, rattling up to the barn. Johnnie came breezing out like an enthusiastic wagging dog. But the surprise in the Wyatt faces, the rebellion in Shelby's, changed his look.

"Hello, Gertrude, and Estelle! Hello, Wy! Cheerfully enough, but with restraint. Powerfully he seized Shelby; she wouldn't give him her lips—his kiss landed under her ear. Somehow she hated to be kissed before the Wyatts. "My scarerow with an angel's face," he joked, making the best of it. "Can't she get away with a masquerade costume, though? She's the only girl I know who can."

"We're perfectly mad over her wonderful horse," said Estelle, with an unpleasant laugh. "But Shelby's so mysterious about him."

Johnnie's blue eyes took in the Wyatts and seemed to understand every nagging word that had been said.

"Aren't we entitled to a mystery?" he asked coolly. "But if it's important to know, he was a wedding present."

"How adorable!" giggled Estelle. "The unknown Prince?"

"The Sultan of Swat," said Johnnie with a dangerous smile.

"That's a splendid name, anyhow," laughed Wyatt Furness. "Just what do you mean by that?" Johnnie had approached his cousin slouchily, hands in pockets. The air was snapping, joy of battle rang in Shelby's heart. But it was horrible, too. An open breach with the Wyatt clan.

"I'm sorry," apologized Wyatt Furness. "I didn't know there was any secret about the horse."

"Why don't you look him up in the stud book? You're one of the editors, aren't you?"

"Oh, Johnnie!" reproached Estelle. Mrs. Drumm murmured something about going. The silence of drawn battle. Then Johnnie's humor beamed out, a sun through clouds. His impish brows went up, his mouth widened to a broad grin.

"When you find we've stolen that horse, send around Mr. Becker. He's still Sheriff, I guess."

"We hadn't the remotest idea," Mrs. Drumm began like that, then looked at her watch. "Oh, it's nearly 6. We must push on."

It was puzzling to see how the Wyatts had taken Johnnie's outbreak. Quelled, a little shamefaced, caught in mischief, scolded, sent home. Appearing they shook hands and departed sedately, as from a formal tea.

When they were gone, Johnnie took Shelby by an ear, laid his hand on her cheek and kissed her deeply.

An Outdoor Outfit for Autumn

A Motion Picture Actress Discusses Her New Wardrobe

by Heather Angel

AS the ideal street dress for autumn, I have selected a two-toned frock of gray wool, with a gray, stitched woolen hat to match. Because fashion decrees accents of brilliant color, I find particularly interesting the vivid red enamel fastenings on the bodice and belt, and this same shade is picked up in the tiny feather on the hat. Fashion also approves the scarf collar, which falls simply from the neckline when not tied.

Black, pin-tucked kid pumps, black doekin, pull-on gloves and a black antelope purse complete the costume.

For informal street wear, I prefer a gray, shaved goat-skin coat. Made simply, the sleeves are slightly puffed between the shoulder and the elbow. With it, I carry a small, melon-shaped muff of the same fur. The hat I favor to wear with it is a turban made of a gray material resembling fur, having a latex foundation to hold it tight to the head.

What apparently is a clever swaggar stick in highly polished natural wood, with the dog's head handle, in reality serves a dual purpose. The stick puffs apart, and there you have a neat silk umbrella, and sudden shadows hold no terror.

Practically is the keynote of the wardrobe I have described here, both the dress material and the fur highly favored by those who must invest in clothes that will have a certain duration. Neither dress nor coat is so styled that one month will see the passing of its vogue. Up-to-the-minute in fashion and material, yet conservative enough to live—that is what the truly smart shopper, who works with an eye on the budget, seeks and which I have found.

HEATHER ANGEL poses in the costume she describes in the accompanying article.

Brief articles prepared by experts. Edited by Dr. Jago Goldstein, for the New York Academy of Medicine.

Contact Glasses

THERE is one condition of the eye known as conical cornea, in which, ordinarily glasses are not able to correct.

For in conical cornea, as the name indicates, the cornea—that is, that portion of the eye which is in front of the pupil—instead of being shaped like a section of a sphere, is cone-shaped, the center arising to a point like prominence.

This defect makes sharp vision practically impossible. It is a form of astigmatism for which the ordinary glasses offer little relief.

For years efforts have been directed at remedying this type of eye defect.

In 1888 one Dr. Fick recommended that a glass appropriately curved be placed directly over the defective cornea, and that the space between the glass and the eye ball should be filled with a salt solution.

The combination of this kind of a glass with a salt solution, he maintained, would give the sufferer a spherical lens with which he might see normally.

The manufacture of such contact glasses proved a very difficult task and one that was not really accomplished until within very recent times.

Now contact glasses are available. These glasses, shaped to conform to the eye ball, are worn directly on the eye. The hollow part of the contact glass is filled with a salt solution, the eye lids are drawn apart, the glass is directly applied to the eye and is held there by capillary attraction and by the pressure of the lids.

Remarkable as are the contact glasses, they cannot be used and should not be used in place of the ordinary glasses. They are suitable only for so-called conical cornea and for other cases of extraordinary visual defect.

They are not cosmetic aids. For simple farsightedness, nearsightedness, or astigmatism, the ordinary eye glass is still the best corrective.

Meatless Mince Meat

Using this recipe even the vegetarian can enjoy a piece of mince pie. One lemon and one orange (rind and juice), three apples, one-half pound currants, one-half pound raisins, four tablespoons molasses, four ounces brown sugar, one and one-half pints cider, one teaspoon each of cinnamon, cloves, allspice. Grind fruit with one-half pound suet and mix with other ingredients. Let stand in a cool place for a week before using.

Uneven Curtains

If the curtains seem a bit awry across the bottom, run a curtain rod through the bottom hem and let it remain for several days after the curtains are hung. It will usually straighten them out nicely.

Something like fear was in his face.

"Why not?" she insisted.

"You're married now, and I'm taking care of you. I couldn't think of your doing a thing like that. Riding a string..."

MY Beauty Hint

By NOEL FRANCIS
Screen Actress

THE young as well as the middle-aged should watch the neck. Don't let ugly wrinkles form there. The best way to fight them is to massage the neck with a good cream every night for about 10 or 15 minutes.

Rub lightly with the tips of the fingers, using a rotating motion.

Cooked Mayonnaise
Many people do not care for olive oil and will find this recipe answers the salad dressing question without oil. Into the well-beaten yolks of two eggs beat three teaspoons dry mustard, one-half teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon sugar, five teaspoons melted butter, six tablespoons vinegar. Then add eight tablespoons boiling water. Cook until smooth, stirring constantly. When cool keep in the refrigerator in a covered jar.

If the water in the bottom of the boiler boils dry, add boiling water so that the temperature is not lowered.

Dr. Wiggam's Test of Ideas
The Opinions of Science

Let's EXPLORE Your MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.
See Whether His Opinions Agree With Your Own

AUTHOR'S NOTE: These answers are given from the scientific point of view. Science points the rights of organized society above the rights of individuals.

1. Yes. Dr. David Fairchild, founder of the Journal of Heredity, strongly advocates that every family should preserve the photographs of all the ancestors, uncles, aunts, cousins, etc., with exact records attached to each one, setting forth his character, intelligence, social and hereditary worth. He has done this with his own family. Dr. Harry H. Laughlin, the Eugenics Record Office of Cold Spring Harbor, New York, has done this with the family of Abraham Lincoln. Thomas Edison, John Burroughs and others. Few people know anything about their own "blood" or heredity. If they did, it would profoundly influence marriage selection. Every farmer knows this about his horses, hogs, cattle and even corn and chickens. Why not about the human family?

2. Half the world's wars, tortures and immorality have been in the name of some noble "moral cause." As Mr. Graham Sumner, the great sociologist, said: "Nearly all radical moral reforms are run on a very simple formula: A and B put their heads together to decide what C shall do for D. A and B have no money, but have time to burn. D is not heaving as A and B think he should."

3. No. Such a doctrine paralyzes all effort to make things better. It sanctions any immorality a person wishes to commit. It is pure "holiness" in a world of moral values created, as they are, by striving, sacrifices and self-discipline.

Apple Sauce Pie

A nice little pie to make, using up that left-over crust from the more elaborate pie. Three eggs, one tablespoon cornstarch, two cups apple sauce, sugar to taste. Separate the eggs and save the whites for a meringue. Beat the other ingredients until thick and then stir in the juice of one lemon. Cool and then pour into a baked crust. Beat the whites until stiff and stir in three tablespoons sugar. Spread over pie and brown in the oven.

Clarifying Fat

When clarifying fat to make soap, use a saucepan which will hold more than twice as much as the fat you wish to clarify and put the fat in it to melt. Add more cold water than you have fat and bring to a boil. Boil hard for five minutes and then set aside to harden. Some times this must be done twice before the fat is perfectly clear.

A and B have no money, but have time to burn. D is not heaving as A and B think he should."

3. No. Such a doctrine paralyzes all effort to make things better. It sanctions any immorality a person wishes to commit. It is pure "holiness" in a world of moral values created, as they are, by striving, sacrifices and self-discipline.

4. Yes. Dr. David Fairchild, founder of the Journal of Heredity, strongly advocates that every family should preserve the photographs of all the ancestors, uncles, aunts, cousins, etc., with exact records attached to each one, setting forth his character, intelligence, social and hereditary worth. He has done this with his own family. Dr. Harry H. Laughlin, the Eugenics Record Office of Cold Spring Harbor, New York, has done this with the family of Abraham Lincoln. Thomas Edison, John Burroughs and others. Few people know anything about their own "blood" or heredity. If they did, it would profoundly influence marriage selection. Every farmer knows this about his horses, hogs, cattle and even corn and chickens. Why not about the human family?

2. Half the world's wars, tortures and immorality have been in the name of some noble "moral cause." As Mr. Graham Sumner, the great sociologist, said: "Nearly all radical moral reforms are run on a very simple formula: A and B put their heads together to decide what C shall do for D. A and B have no money, but have time to burn. D is not heaving as A and B think he should."

First Call for Dinner
By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

OUR diplomatic greetings include a bow to China, a curtesy to South America and a nod to Russia.

Our affability even approves of the Cuban revolution fought in a hotel lobby.

But we are coy about Europe where they are starting to iron their laundry with steam rollers.

The corn is popping over there. Our best efforts have been wasted like a toe dancer trying to kick a giraffe in the face.

The sure-footed conferees are descending from Geneva and the Swiss Alps. Our admiration goes to people so tough they have to go up in the mountains to talk it over.

We ain't no gypsy fortune teller but we can look through cellophane. The future is as transparent as a stranded jelly fish on a sunny day. Johnny, keep your eyes open.

PRISON SENTENCE IN OSCAR JOHNSON
ROBBERY UPHELD

Supreme Court Rules Felix F. McDonald Must Serve 10-Year Term Under Henry Law.

ALIBI EVIDENCE IS DISREGARDED

Defendant Who Tried to Abduct Wealthy Man Placed in Jail to Await Commitment.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 28. — Sentence of ten years in prison imposed in St. Louis County upon Felix Francis McDonald, St. Louis hoodlum, for the robbery of Oscar Johnson in an attempted kidnapping on August 2, 1931, was affirmed today by Division No. 2 of the Missouri Supreme Court.

McDonald, at liberty on appeal bond, was arrested in a lunchroom at 9104 St. Charles road yesterday afternoon on telegraphic order of the Supreme Court Marshal and sent to Clayton in advance of publication of the court's opinion. He is now held in jail at Clayton awaiting commitment to the penitentiary. He resides in Overland.

Johnson, wealthy son of the founders of the International Shoe Co., who resides at 38 Portland place, was set upon by two men at midday as he drove along the Melrose road near the country place of his mother, Mrs. Oscar Johnson, at St. Albans. He stopped the car by kicking the ignition switch and fought off his assailants, who beat him severely and finally fled, taking from him $25.

In a brief opinion written by Judge C. A. Leedy Jr., the Supreme Court held, "there is an abundance of evidence to sustain the verdict." McDonald's lawyer had made an alibi defense, but the Supreme Court held that determination of its validity was purely a question for the trial jury and added that there was "ample evidence" to sustain the jury's decision on the alibi.

McDonald was tried and convicted in December, 1931. Bart Davis, who was indicted with him, was acquitted. The charge against both men was first degree robbery with a deadly weapon, punishable under the Henry law by a sentence ranging from ten years' imprisonment to death by hanging.

FIRST CITY MAKES DIRECT CONTRACT FOR SHOALS POWER

Tupelo, Miss., Enters Into Agreement With Tennessee Valley Authority.

By the Associated Press.

TUPELO, Miss., Oct. 28. — Tupelo yesterday became the first city in America to obtain a Tennessee Valley Authority contract for direct Muscle Shoals power. The Valley Commissioners and the city authorities entered into a contract to run for 20 years with current to be sold at a rate of 7 mills or less per kilowatt-hour to the city.

The contract permits Tupelo, as a municipality, to sell and supply current to surrounding rural communities or nearby towns.

Local domestic rates will be cut a minimum of 67-2-3 per cent from the starting rate. Commercial rates will receive a 50 per cent cut. Industrial rates will average about 7 mills per kilowatt hour.

The contract provides that the authority will furnish a transmission line and will supply current in needed quantities beginning Feb. 7, 1934, the date of the expiration of the city's contract to buy power from the Mississippi Power Co.

ZUKOR TELLS OF HIS BONUSES

President of Bankrupt Paramount-Public Testifies.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28. — After Adolph Zukor, president of the bankrupt Paramount-Public Corporation, had testified yesterday his salary and bonuses from 1927 to 1932, inclusive, amounted to $1,008,500, a referee hearing began today to determine the date of the expiration of the city's contract to buy power from the Mississippi Power Co.

Zukor told of Paramount-Public's gradual expansion around the world. He described the progressive increase in its capitalization from 1919, when it was privately owned, with about 50 stockholders, until 1931, "when the corporation's financial outlook became acute."

Condition of Prince of Wales

SUNNINGDALE, England, Oct. 28. — The Prince of Wales, who has been in the best of health at his country home here, passed a good night and today his cold was held to be pursuing a normal course.
